Chapter X—War Food Administration (Production Orders)

[Rev. FPO 11]

PART 1225—PYRETHRUM INSECTICIDE

AGRICULTURAL USES OF PYRETHRUM INSECTICIDE

Effective immediately, § 1225.1 (8 F.R. 5062) is hereby revised and amended in its entirety to read as follows:

§ 1225.1 Pyrethrum insecticide — (a) Agricultural use of pyrethrum insecticide. (1) Because the armed services are requiring most of the supply, only small amounts of pyrethrum will be available for agricultural and other civilian uses. Since the quantity of pyrethrum for agricultural use is expected to be much less than is needed to meet the minimum requirements of all essential agricultural uses, it is impracticable to establish in this order a list of permitted uses of pyrethrum insecticides manufactured from pyrethrum allocated by the War Production Board for agricultural use. The Director is hereby authorized, therefore, to designate from time to time the uses to which such insecticide may be applied and the quantities of such insecticide which may be applied to each particular use. In exercising this authority, the Director shall take into account the supply of pyrethrum available or expected to be available for agricultural use and shall take such action as he deems to be in the best interest of the food program. Although the Director may designate agricultural uses on his own initiative, any person desiring to sell or use pyrethrum insecticide for an agricultural use may request approval of such use by applying to the Director in writing, setting forth the purpose for which the insecticide is to be used and the quantity of pyrethrum which will be needed.

(2) When the War Production Board makes an allocation of pyrethrum for any particular agricultural use, all persons may assume that such use has been approved by the Director in accordance with this order.

(3) Except with the prior approval of the Director, no person shall knowingly sell, deliver or use any pyrethrum insecticide, manufactured from pyrethrum allocated by the War Production Board for an agricultural use, for any purpose other than the purpose for which the allocation was made as shown on the package tag or label.

(4) Nothing in this order shall be construed to prevent the sale, delivery or use of any pyrethrum insecticide, manufactured from pyrethrum heretofore allocated by the War Production Board for an agricultural use, for the purpose for which the allocation was made.

(b) Directions. The Director is hereby authorized to issue such directions with respect to the delivery and use of pyrethrum insecticide, manufactured from pyrethrum allocated by the War Production Board for agricultural use, as he may deem necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this order. Each person affected by this order shall comply with such directions.

(c) War Production Board Order M-179. The allocations to manufacturers and processors of pyrethrum and limitations upon the packaging and labeling of processed pyrethrum insecticide are not the subject of this order, but are regulated by War Production Board Order M-179, as amended (8 F.R. 11932).

(d) Audits and inspections. Each person affected by this order shall, upon request, submit his books, records and accounts for audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the Director.

(e) Petition for relief from hardship. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance with this order would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him may apply in writing for relief to the Director, setting forth in such petition all pertinent facts and the relief sought. The Director, upon the basis of such application and other information, may take such action as he deems appropriate. The decision of the Director shall be in writing and shall be final and conclusive.

(f) Violations. The War Food Administrator may, by suspension order, prohibit any person who violates any provision of this order from receiving, making any deliveries of, or using pyrethrum insecticide, or any other material subject to priority or allocation control by the War Food Administrator, and may recommend that any such person be prohibited from receiving, making any deliveries of, or using materials subject to priority or allocation control of other governmental agencies. In addition, any person who willfully violates any provision of this order is guilty of a crime and may be prosecuted under any and all applicable laws. Further, civil action may be instituted to enforce any liability or duty created by, or to enjoin any violation of, any provisions of this order.

(g) Delegation of authority. The administration of this Food Production Order No. 11, Revision No. 1, and the powers of the War Food Administrator, insofar as such powers relate to the administration of this order, are hereby delegated to the Director. The Director may delegate any of the powers conferred upon him by this order to any officer or employee of the War Food Administration.

(h) Agricultural use. The preservation and conservation of any "food" as defined by paragraph 10 of Executive Order 9280, dated December 5, 1942, by the use of pyrethrum insecticide shall be deemed an agricultural use.

(i) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Pyrethrum insecticide" means any compound derived from pyrethrum flowers containing pyrethrins, combined with other liquid or dry materials, either active or inert, which compound is suitable for use as an insecticide, but shall not include any insecticide the pyrethrin content of which is obtained entirely from marc containing 0.15 percent or less of pyrethrins and which is clearly so labeled.

(2) "Marc" means the coarsely ground pyrethrum flowers from which the pyrethrins have been removed with a solvent.

(3) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, business trust, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not. The term "person" shall also include the United States or any agency thereof, and a State or any political subdivision or agency thereof.

(4) "Director" means the Director of the Office of Materials and Facilities of the War Food Administration.

(j) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order, unless instructions to the contrary are issued, shall be addressed to the Office of Materials and Facilities, War Food Administration, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: FPO 11, Rev. 1.

Except as otherwise authorized by the Director no flaxseed shall be transferred from any of the above specified areas to any place not included in one of such areas.

(c) Contracts. The restrictions of this order shall be observed without regard to contracts heretofore or hereafter entered into, or any rights accrued or payments made thereunder.

(d) Records and reports. (1) The Director shall be entitled to obtain such information from, and require such reports and records by, any person, as may be necessary or appropriate, in his discretion, to the enforcement or administration of the provisions of this order.

Petitions for such relief shall be in writing, and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Director may take such action with regard to any such petition as he deems appropriate; and such action by the Director shall be final.

(g) Violations. The War Food Administrator may, by suspension order, prohibit any person who violates any provision of this order from receiving, making

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

THE RURAL NATURAL GAS COMPANY

The Rural Natural Gas Company is an Ohio corporation having its principal office at Mount Washington, Ohio. It is engaged in the business of distributing and selling liquefied petroleum gas and as a usual incident of such business either bailment, lease or sale of liquefied petroleum gas equipment and the installation of the same. During the period from April 8, 1942, through August 1, 1943, respondent made installations of liquefied petroleum gas equipment, as defined in General Limitation Order L-86, without authority of the War Production Board, and in violation of General Limitation Order L-86. Of these installations, twenty-nine were wilful and deliberate violations of the order and one hundred forty-seven were made with knowledge of the existence and terms of the order and were grossly negligent. These violations of General Limitation Order L-86 by the respondent have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.491 Suspension Order No. S-491. (a) The Rural Natural Gas Company, its successors and assigns, shall not install or deliver for installation purposes any liquefied petroleum gas equipment as the same is defined in General Limitation Order L-86, except in cases described in paragraph (d), subparagraphs 1 to 4 inclusive, of the order as amended September 30, 1942, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Deliveries of liquefied petroleum gas equipment to the Rural Natural Gas Company, its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference ratings shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders, or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve the Rural Natural Gas Company, its successors or assigns from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on February 28, 1944, and shall expire on May 28, 1944.

Issued this 21st day of February 1944.

THE LOUIS M. HERMAN COMPANY

Louis M. Herman, doing business as The Louis M. Herman Company, is a wholesale dealer in electronic equipment in Boston, Massachusetts. On or about July 9, 1943, he accepted transfer of 995 radio tubes, although he was not entitled to purchase or accept the transfer of them because he had not fulfilled the requirements of General Limitation Order L-265. The acceptance of these deliveries constituted a wilful violation of Limitation Order L-265. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.494 Suspension Order No. S-494. (a) For a period of three months from the effective date of this order, Louis M. Herman, doing business as The Louis M. Herman Company, or otherwise, his and its successors and assigns, shall not directly or indirectly receive any electronic equipment as the same is defined in General Limitation Order L-265 except to fill orders rated AA-1 or higher, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

WOODEN SHIPPING CONTAINERS; RATINGS

Section 3270.7 Preference Rating Order P–140 is hereby amended to read as follows:

To facilitate the acquisition of wooden shipping containers in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, preference ratings are hereby assigned to deliveries of such containers upon the following terms:

§ 3270.7 Preference Rating Order P–140—(a) What this order does. This order assigns preference ratings for new wooden shipping containers and parts to persons who need them for various purposes. It also explains to what extent ratings assigned in other ways may be used to get new wooden shipping containers and parts.

The ratings and rating systems described in this order are the only ones which may be used to get new wooden shipping containers and parts. All others are barred for this purpose. Furthermore, this order only applies to the containers and parts covered by the definitions (paragraph (c)). It should not be construed to establish a rating system for any other types of containers.

Preference ratings may be used to get wooden shipping containers in accordance with the provisions of this order regardless of any contrary provisions contained in paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(b) Suggested procedure for using this order. The following procedure is suggested for determining the ratings you may use to get wooden shipping containers:

(1) For a product you manufacture. Refer to List A (paragraph (h)) to see if the product is listed there. Then refer to paragraph (i). Use the rating you are entitled to under either of these provisions.

(2) For a product you do not manufacture. Refer to List A (paragraph (h)) to see if the product is listed there. Then refer to paragraph (j). Use the rating you are entitled to under either of these provisions.

(3) If you are a manufacturer or jobber of inner containers. Refer to List A (paragraph (h)). Then refer to paragraph (n). Paragraph (n) sets forth the only ways in which manufacturers and jobbers of inner containers may use ratings for their wooden shipping container requirements.

(4) If you are a jobber of wooden shipping containers. Refer to paragraph (o).

(5) For containers to be used for export shipment to specified agencies of products appearing on List A of Priorities Regulation 3. Refer to paragraph (k) (2).

(9) For wooden shipping containers to be delivered on orders rated AAA. Refer to paragraph (g).

(10) For a product for which you have no rating under any other provisions of this order. Refer to paragraph (m).

(11) If, because of special circumstances, the ratings you may use under this order are inadequate. Refer to paragraph (l). Note that the special ratings contemplated by this paragraph will be issued only in cases of extreme hardship or in special instances where it is determined that the war effort will be aided by so doing.

(12) All persons. Refer to paragraph (v) (Certification); paragraphs (d) through (f) (Over-all limitations on use of ratings); paragraphs (s) through (u) (Status of outstanding unfilled orders); paragraphs (x) through (cc) (Miscellaneous).

Definitions

(c) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Wooden shipping container" means any new or used shipping container in set-up or knock-down form made wholly or partially of wood, which is used for the shipment or delivery of commodities. The term does include wooden inner containers, but does not include trunks, luggage, military locker boxes or boxes consisting of more than 50% of corrugated or solid fibre (by area). Wherever this order makes a provision with respect to wooden shipping containers, such as providing a method for assigning ratings or limiting the use of ratings, the same provision shall apply to parts.

(2) "Part" means any new or used shook, cleat, stave, heading, lumber, veneer, plywood, or interior fitting made of wood, which is cut to size for any shipping container.

Limits on Use of Ratings

(d) Prohibition against use of other ratings. No person may use any rating except as provided in this order, to get wooden shipping containers; for instance, a person may not use a rating which has been assigned to him for maintenance, repair or operating supplies for this purpose.

(e) Prohibition against use of ratings to obtain production materials for wooden shipping containers. The ratings which this order allows a person to use to get wooden shipping containers may not be extended to obtain materials for use in the manufacture of containers. They may, however, be extended to get parts.

(f) Limitation on use of ratings by persons owning container production facilities. No rated order for wooden shipping containers need be accepted if the person applying or extending the rating owns or controls facilities on which he can produce the containers covered by his purchase order. The only exception to this rule is where the purchaser's facilities are required to fill higher rated orders or previously received orders bearing equal rating, or where the War Production Board specifically directs the acceptance of the rated order.

In order to avail himself of the provisions of this paragraph (f) a person who gets a rated order must first notify the person applying or extending the rating of his claim that this paragraph excuses acceptance of the rated order.

Preference Ratings Which May Be Used To Get Wooden Shipping Containers

(g) AAA ratings. Any person who receives an order rated AAA may use that rating to get wooden shipping containers which he will actually use to deliver that order. This rating may not be used to replace containers in inventory except under the circumstances described in paragraphs (i) (2), (j), (k) (2) and (o) of this order.

(h) Assignment of ratings. Any person may use the preference rating shown opposite any product or use listed in Schedule A to get the wooden shipping containers he needs for commercially shipping or delivering that product or for that use. He may also use the rating to provide his suppliers of that product with wooden shipping containers in which to deliver the product to him.

(i) Manufacturers may use production material ratings. Any manufacturer (other than a manufacturer of inner containers—see paragraph (n)) who has a rating to get production materials[1] for a product, may use the same rating, to the same extent, to get the wooden shipping containers he needs to package that product or to replace wooden shipping containers so used in his inventory. If he has two or more ratings (i. e., split ratings) for production materials, he must use them in the same proportion in ordering wooden shipping containers. However, regardless of any contrary provision of any other regulation or order of the War Production Board, he cannot use more than one rating on any single purchase order.

Examples of the way in which ratings may be used under this paragraph are the following:

(1) If a person has a split rating of 25% AA–2 and 75% AA–3 for production materials for a certain product, he may use the AA–2 rating to get his wooden shipping container requirements for 25% of that product and the AA–3 for the balance.

(2) If a person receives a rated order and is not prohibited by any War Production Board regulation or order, (such as Priorities Regulation 11B or CMP Regulation 3[2]) from using the rating to get his production material for the order, he may extend that rating to get the wooden shipping containers he will use to make delivery on the rated order or for inventory replacement purposes.

(j) Non-manufacturers may extend customers' ratings. A person who sells, on a rated order, material which he does not manufacture, may extend his customers' ratings to get wooden shipping containers to fill that order or for inventory replacement. This may be done regardless of the provisions of paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(k) Use of ratings assigned by certain agencies—(1) Empty containers. The Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission and the War Shipping Administration may use ratings which they assign to get empty wooden shipping containers of which they will take actual physical possession and which they will actually pack themselves. The rating described in this paragraph cannot be used to get wooden shipping containers which are delivered for packing by anyone else whether on a contract, agency or other basis.

(2) Containers for export shipment of products on List A of Priorities Regulation 3. A person may use a rating, assigned specifically for wooden shipping containers by the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration and the Foreign Economic Administration, only for the following purposes: To get wooden shipping containers which will be packed in the

[1] "Production material" means, with respect to any person, material or products (including fabricated parts and subassemblies) which will be physically incorporated into his product and includes the portion of such material normally consumed or converted into scrap in the course of processing. It also includes items purchased by a manufacturer for resale to round out his line if such items do not represent more than 10% of his total sales. It does not include any items purchased by him as manufacturing equipment or for maintenance, repair or operating supplies as defined in CMP Regulation 8.

[2] Priorities Regulation 11B contains the following provision: "A person who has received a rating or ratings on Form WPB–2613 (formerly PD–870) for production materials for a specified product shall not extend ratings received from his customers to purchase production materials for the same product". CMP Regulation 3 contains the following provision: "A prime consumer who manufactures Class B products and has received an authorized production schedule for such manufacture, accompanied by a preference rating to be used with his allotment number, shall not extend any other rating received by him from a customer". Limited exceptions to these prohibitions are set forth in the respective regulations.

United States with a product appearing on List A of Priorities Regulation 3 and shipped to any point outside of the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Canada or Mexico, to or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or for lend-lease purchases. The same rating may be used to replace in inventory any wooden shipping containers used for such export shipment.

(l) Special ratings. The War Production Board may assign special ratings in addition to those described in paragraphs (h), (i), (j), (k), (m) and (n) for wooden shipping containers. Applications for such ratings should be filed on form WPB–2408.

(m) Catch-all ratings. If a person (other than a manufacturer or jobber of inner containers (see paragraph (o)) is not entitled to use a rating to get wooden shipping containers for a particular purpose or purposes under any other provision of this order, he may use the following ratings to get the wooden shipping containers he needs for that purpose or to replace wooden shipping containers used for that purpose in his inventory:

(1) AA–2X—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–1.
(2) AA–3—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–2.
(3) AA–4—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–2X.
(4) AA–5—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–3 or lower.

"Blanket MRO ratings" are defined in paragraph (e) (2) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(n) Ratings for manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers or closures. When used in this paragraph (n), the term "inner containers" shall in all cases include closures for containers.

Manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers, such as glass jars, folding boxes, cans, etc., may not use their production material rating (paragraph (l)) or a catch-all rating (paragraph (m)), to get wooden shipping containers for the delivery of empty inner containers. However, they may use, for this purpose, any rating which they are entitled to under paragraphs (g), (h-List A), (j), (l) or (k) (2) of this order.

In addition, manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers may use the same ratings which their customers could use to get wooden shipping containers, within the following limits and under the following conditions:

(1) The customer must advise the manufacturer or jobber, in writing, that a specific number or all of the inner containers covered by his purchase order will be used for a purpose which would entitle him, under the terms of this order, to use a certain rating to get wooden shipping containers for shipping them after they (the inner containers) have been filled.

(2) When so advised, the manufacturer or jobber of the inner containers may use the same rating to get wooden shipping containers for delivering the specified number of empty inner containers to that customer, or to replace any wooden shipping containers so used in inventory.

(o) Permitted extension of ratings by wooden shipping container jobbers. A person who sells empty wooden shipping containers, which he does not make, or which he merely assembles, may extend his customers' ratings to get wooden shipping containers for delivery on the rated order, or to replace any wooden shipping containers so delivered in inventory.

Use of Ratings for Delivery of Empty Containers to Foreign Countries

(p) Countries other than Canada. No ratings except those assigned pursuant to paragraph (l) (Special ratings) may be used to get wooden shipping containers which will be delivered empty to any foreign country except Canada, unless the containers are to be delivered directly to and used directly by an agency of the United States Government.

(q) Canada. The ratings provided by this order may be used to get wooden shipping containers by persons in Canada only if they are authorized to do so in accordance with Priorities Regulation 22. Any person in Canada authorized to use a preference rating under this order shall use such rating in the manner provided by Priorities Regulation 22.

Directions

(r) Special directions by the War Production Board. The War Production Board may, from time to time, direct a producer to produce and deliver specific quantities and types of wooden shipping containers to specified persons. It may also direct the manner in which such production and delivery shall be effected. Such directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war and essential civilian requirements, both direct and indirect, and shall take precedence, to the extent which may be indicated by the War Production Board in the Direction over any preference ratings.

Existing Unfilled Orders

(s) Rerating of existing orders. Preference ratings assigned or permitted to be used by this order may be applied or extended to any unfilled order for wooden shipping containers placed prior to February 29, 1944. Any ratings so applied or extended is a rerating under the provisions of Priorities Regulation 12.

(t) Termination of existing ratings on unfilled orders. All ratings applied or extended to any order for wooden shipping containers before February 29, 1944, shall be ineffective after April 29, 1944. If delivery is not made before the last mentioned date and the order is not rerated in accordance with paragraph (s) above, the order shall be regarded as bearing an AA–5 rating and shall be scheduled and filled accordingly.

(u) Cancellation of special ratings previously assigned. No ratings assigned on Form WPB–2408, before February 29, 1944, may be applied to orders for containers placed after February 29, 1944.

Certification

(v) How the ratings provided for in this order may be applied or extended. The ratings assigned or permitted to be used by this order may be applied or extended only by use of a certificate in substantially the following form signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply or extend the preference rating set forth on this order and that such application or extension is in accordance with Priorities Regulation 3, and is justified by paragraph (__) of Order P–140.

Purchasers applying or extending ratings to get wooden shipping containers shall insert the appropriate paragraph letter of this order in the blank appearing in the last line of the above certificate.

(w) Standard certification. The standard certification provided for in paragraph (g) (1) of Priorities Regulation 3, and in paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation 7, cannot be used in place of the certification provided by paragraph (v) above; nor may the certification provided by this order be waived in accordance with paragraph (f) of Priorities Regulation 7.

Miscellaneous

(x) Limits on the scope of this order. This order deals only with the items defined as "wooden shipping containers" and "parts". It does not affect ratings applicable to any other kind of container. This order does not purport to define any containers of parts (including wooden shipping containers) as "production materials" for the product to be packed. Nor does it permit "production material" ratings, or any other ratings described herein, to be used to get any containers or parts, except those defined in paragraph (c).

(y) Restrictions on acceptance of ratings. No person receiving an order for wooden shipping containers shall give effect to any preference rating applied or extended thereto on or after February 29, 1944, if he knows or has reason to believe, that the rating has not been applied or extended in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(z) Applicability of regulations. Preference ratings may be used to get wooden shipping containers in accordance with the provisions of this order regardless of any contrary provisions contained in paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3. With this exception, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulation of the War Production Board as amended from time to time. For instance, when this order allows a rating to be used for inventory replacement, this must be done in accordance with Priorities Regulation 3.

(aa) Effect of other orders. This order does not authorize the delivery, receipt, manufacture or use of any materials in violation of any other order of the War Production Board.

(bb) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(cc) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Containers Division, Washington (25) D. C., Ref: P–140.

Issued this 29th day of February 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE A

These are the product ratings described in paragraph (h) of this order. The preference rating shown opposite each product may be used to get "wooden shipping containers" for it.

Rating procedures to get wooden shipping containers for products not appearing in the following list are described in paragraphs (g) through (p) of this order. Some of these procedures may, in appropriate cases, be used to get containers for listed products if the shipper prefers them to his listed rating. However, attention is called to the fact that the so-called "catch all" rating procedure, described in paragraph (m) of this order, may not be used to get containers for any listed product.

The headings used in this table are only for the purpose of separating the items into groups of similar commodities.

[Preference Rating Order P–146]

FIBRE SHIPPING CONTAINERS—RATINGS

To facilitate the acquisition of fibre shipping containers in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, preference ratings are hereby assigned to deliveries of such containers upon the following terms:

§ 3270.26 Preference Rating Order P–146—(a) What this order does. This order assigns preference ratings for new fibre shipping containers to persons who need them for various purposes. It also explains to what extent ratings assigned in other ways may be used to get new fibre shipping containers.

The ratings and rating systems described in this order are the only ones which may be used to get new fibre shipping containers. All others are barred for this purpose. Furthermore, this order only applies to the containers, sheets, rolls and parts covered by the definition of fibre shipping containers (paragraph (c)). It should not be construed to establish a rating system for any other types of containers.

Preference ratings may be used to get fibre shipping containers in accordance with the provisions of this order regardless of any contrary provisions contained in paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(b) Suggested procedure for using this order. The following procedure is suggested for determining the ratings you may use to get fibre shipping containers.

1. For a product you manufacture. Refer to List A (paragraph (h)) to see if the product is listed there. Then refer to paragraph (i). Use the rating you are entitled to under either of these provisions.

2. For a product you do not manufacture. Refer to List A (paragraph (h)) to see if the product is listed there. Then refer to paragraph (j). Use the rating you are entitled to under either of these provisions.

3. If you are a manufacturer or jobber of inner containers. Refer to List A (paragraph (h)). Then refer to paragraph (n). Paragraph (n) sets forth the only ways in which manufacturers and jobbers of inner containers may use ratings for their fibre shipping container requirements.

4. If you are a jobber of fibre shipping containers. Refer to paragraph (o).

5. For containers to be used for export shipment to specified agencies of products appearing on List A of Priorities Regulation 3. Refer to paragraph (k) (2).

6. For fibre shipping containers to be delivered empty to foreign countries other than Canada. Refer to paragraph (p).

7. For fibre shipping containers to be delivered empty to Canada. Refer to paragraph (q).

8. For empty fibre containers to be delivered to the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration. Refer to paragraph (k) (1).

9. For fibre shipping containers to be delivered on orders rated AAA. Refer to paragraph (g).

10. For a product for which you have no rating under any other provisions of this order. Refer to paragraph (m).

11. If, because of special circumstances, the ratings you may use under this order are inadequate. Refer to paragraph (l). Note that the special ratings contemplated by this paragraph will be issued only in cases of extreme hardship or in special instances where it is determined that the war effort will be aided by so doing.

12. If you are a sheet plant or a cleated box manufacturer. Refer to paragraph (z).

13. All persons. Refer to paragraph (v) (Certification); paragraphs (d) through (f) (Over-all limitations on use of ratings); paragraphs (s) through (u); (Status of outstanding unfilled orders); paragraphs (y) through (dd) (Miscellaneous).

Definitions

(c) Definitions. "Fibre shipping container" means the following items:

(1) Any new box, crate, case, basket, inner carton, hamper or sleeve, in set-up or knock-down form which is made in whole or in part from solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre and which is used for the delivery or shipment of materials. This does not include the following: Trunks, luggage, or military locker boxes; fibre cans, tubes or drums. It also does not include combination wood-and-fibre shipping containers consisting of 50% or more wood (by area).

(2) Any new solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre sheet or roll to be used for wrapping, packaging, or otherwise protecting a product or material for shipment. This does not include corrugated or solid fibre sheets produced for delivery to plants, of the type commonly referred to in the container manufacturing industry as "sheet plants" for their use in manufacturing fibre shipping containers. It also does not include corrugated or solid fibre sheets produced for delivery to cleated box manufacturers for use in manufacturing shipping containers made of corrugated or solid fibre sheets attached to wooden cleats.

(3) Any new solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre interior fitting which is cut to size for use in any type of container to provide content protection, structural strength, or both. This includes, but is not limited to, the following: Partitions; pads; liners; sun bursts; corrugated wrappers (single-faced, double-faced, double-walled).

Limits on Use of Ratings

(d) Prohibition against use of other ratings. No person may use any rating except as provided in this order, to get fibre shipping containers; for instance, a person may not use a rating which has been assigned to him for maintenance, repair or operating supplies for this purpose.

(e) Prohibition against use of ratings to obtain production materials for fibre shipping containers. The ratings which this order allows a person to use to get fibre shipping containers may not be extended to obtain materials for use in the manufacture of containers.

(f) Limitation on use of ratings by persons owning container production facilities. No rated order for fibre shipping containers need be accepted if the person applying or extending the rating owns or controls facilities on which he can produce the containers covered by his purchase order. The only exception to this rule is where the purchaser's facilities are required to fill higher rated orders or previously received orders bearing equal rating, or where the War Production Board specifically directs the acceptance of the rated order.

In order to avail himself of the provisions of this paragraph (f) a person who gets a rated order must first notify the person applying or extending the rating of his claim that this paragraph excuses acceptance of the rated order.

Preference Ratings Which May Be Used to Get Fibre Shipping Containers

(g) AAA ratings. Any person who receives an order rated AAA may use that rating to get fibre shipping containers which he will actually use to deliver that order. This rating may not be used to replace containers in inventory except under the circumstances described in paragraphs (i) (2), (j), (k) (2) and (o) of this order.

(h) Assignment of ratings. Any person may use the preference rating shown opposite any product or use listed in Schedule A to get the fibre shipping containers he needs for commercially shipping or delivering that product or for that use. He may also use the rating to provide his suppliers of that product with fibre shipping containers in which to deliver the product to him.

(i) Manufacturers may use production material ratings. Any manufacturer (other than a manufacturer of inner containers—see paragraph (r)) who has a rating to get production materials[1] for a product, may use the same rating, to the same extent, to get the fibre shipping containers he needs to package that product or to replace fibre shipping containers so used in his inventory. If he has two or more ratings (i. e. split ratings) for production materials, he must use them in the same proportion in ordering fibre shipping containers. However, regardless of any contrary provision of any other regulation or order of the War Production Board, he cannot use more than one rating on any single purchase order.

Examples of the way in which ratings may be used under this paragraph are the following:

(1) If a person has a split rating of 25% AA–2 and 75% AA–3 for production materials for a certain product, he may use the AA–2 rating to get his fibre shipping container requirements for 25% of that product and the AA–3 for the balance.

(2) If a person receives a rated order and is not prohibited by any War Production Board regulation or order, (such as Priorities Regulation 11B or CMP Regulation 3[2]) from using the rating to get his production material for the order, he may extend that rating to get the fibre shipping containers he will use to make delivery on the rated order or for inventory replacement purposes.

[1] "Production material" means, with respect to any person, material or products (including fabricated parts and subassemblies) which will be physically incorporated into his product and includes the portion of such material normally consumed or converted into scrap in the course of processing. It also includes items purchased by a manufacturer for resale to round out his line if such items do not represent more than 10% of his total sales. It does not include any items purchased by him as manufacturing equipment or for maintenance, repair or operating supplies as defined in CMP Regulation 5.

[2] Priorities Regulation 11B contains the following provision: "A person who has received a rating or ratings on Form WPB–2618 (formerly PD–870) for production materials for a specified product shall not extend ratings received from his customers to purchase production materials for the same product". CMP Regulation 3 contains the following provision: "A prime consumer who manufactures Class B products and has received an authorized production schedule for such manufacture, accompanied by a preference rating to be used with his allotment number, shall not extend any other rating received by him from a customer". Limited exceptions to these prohibitions are set forth in the respective regulations.

(j) Non-manufacturers may extend customers' ratings. A person who sells, on a rated order, material which he does not manufacture, may extend his customers' ratings to get fibre shipping containers to fill that order or for inventory replacement. This may be done regardless of the provisions of paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(k) Use of ratings assigned by certain agencies—(1) Empty containers. The Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission and the War Shipping Administration may use ratings which they assign to get empty fibre shipping containers of which they will take actual physical possession and which they will actually pack themselves. The rating described in this paragraph cannot be used to get fibre shipping containers which are delivered for packing by anyone else whether on a contract, agency or other basis.

(2) Containers for export shipment of products on List A of Priorities Regulation 3. A person may use a rating, assigned specifically for fibre shipping containers by the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration and the Foreign Economic Administration, only for the following purposes: To get fibre shipping containers which will be packed in the United States with a product appearing on List A of Priorities Regulation 3 and shipped to any point outside of the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Canada or Mexico, to or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or for lend-lease purchases. The same rating may be used to replace in inventory any fibre shipping containers used for such export shipment.

(l) Special ratings. The War Production Board may assign special ratings in addition to those described in paragraphs (h), (i), (j), (k), (m), and (n), for fibre shipping containers. Applications for such ratings should be filed on Form WPB–2408.

(m) Catch-all ratings. If a person (other than a manufacturer or jobber of inner containers, see paragraph (o)) is not entitled to use a rating to get fibre shipping containers for a particular purpose or purposes under any other provision of this order, he may use the following ratings to get the fibre shipping containers he needs for that purpose or to replace fibre shipping containers used for that purpose in his inventory.

1. AA–2X—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–1.
2. AA–3—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–2.
3. AA–4—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–2X.
4. AA–5—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–3 or lower.

"Blanket MRO ratings" are defined in paragraph (e) (2) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(n) Ratings for manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers or closures. When used in this paragraph (n) the term "inner containers" shall, in all cases, include closures for containers.

Manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers, such as glass jars, folding boxes, cans, etc. may not use their production material rating (paragraph (i)) or a catch-all rating (paragraph (m)), to get fibre shipping containers for the delivery of empty inner containers. However, they may use, for this purpose, any rating which they are entitled to under paragraphs (g), (h–List A), (j), (l) or (k) (2) of this order.

In addition, manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers may use the same ratings which their customers could use to get fibre shipping containers, within the following limits and under the following conditions:

(1) The customer must advise the manufacturer or jobber, in writing, that a specific number or all of the inner containers covered by his purchase order will be used for a purpose which would entitle him, under the terms of this order, to use a certain rating to get fibre shipping containers for shipping them after they (the inner containers) have been filled.

(2) When so advised, the manufacturer or jobber of the inner containers may use the same rating to get fibre shipping containers for delivering the specified number of empty inner containers to that customer, or to replace any fibre shipping containers so used in inventory.

(o) Permitted extension of ratings by fibre shipping container jobbers. A person who sells empty fibre shipping containers, which he does not make, or which, he merely assembles, may extend his customers' ratings to get fibre shipping containers for delivery on the rated order, or to replace any fibre shipping containers so delivered in inventory.

Use of Ratings for Delivery of Empty Containers to Foreign Countries

(p) Countries other than Canada. No ratings except those assigned pursuant to paragraph (1) (Special ratings) may be used to get fibre shipping containers which will be delivered empty to any foreign country except Canada, unless the containers are to be delivered directly to and used directly by an agency of the United States Government.

(q) Canada. The ratings provided by this order may be used to get fibre shipping containers by persons in Canada only if they are authorized to do so in accordance with Priorities Regulation 22. Any person in Canada authorized to use a preference rating under this order shall use such rating in the manner provided by Priorities Regulation 22.

Directions

(r) Special directions by the War Production Board. The War Production Board may, from time to time, direct a producer to produce and deliver specific quantities and types of fibre shipping containers to specified persons. It may also direct the manner in which such production and delivery shall be effected. Such directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war and essential civilian requirements, both direct and indirect, and shall take precedence, to the extent which may be indicated by the War Production Board in the Direction over any preference ratings.

Existing Unfilled Orders

(s) Re-rating of existing orders. Preference ratings assigned or permitted to be used by this order may be applied or extended to any unfilled order for fibre shipping containers placed prior to February 29, 1944. Any rating so applied or extended is a rerating under the provisions of Priorities Regulation 12.

(t) Termination of existing ratings on unfilled orders. All ratings applied or extended to any order for fibre shipping containers before Febuary 29, 1944, shall be ineffective after April 29, 1944. If delivery is not made before the last mentioned date and the order is not rerated in accordance with paragraph (s) above, the order shall be regarded as bearing an AA-5 rating and shall be scheduled and filled accordingly.

(u) Cancellation of special ratings previously assigned. No ratings assigned on Form WPB-2408, before February 29, 1944, may be applied to orders for containers placed after February 29, 1944.

Certification

(v) How the ratings provided for in this order may be applied or extended. The ratings assigned or permitted to be used by this order may be applied or extended only by use of a certificate in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply or extend the preference rating set forth on this order and that such application or extension is in accordance with Priorities Regulation 3, and is justified by paragraph (...) of Order P-146.

Purchasers applying or extending ratings to get fibre shipping containers shall insert the appropriate paragraph letter of this order in the blank appearing in the last line of the above certificate.

(w) Standard certification. The standard certification provided for in paragraph (g) (1) of Priorities Regulation 3, and in paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation 7, cannot be used in place of the certification provided by paragraph (v) above; nor may the certification provided by this order be waived in accordance with paragraph (f) of Priorities Regulation 7.

Sales of Sheet

(x) Sales of sheet to sheet plants and to cleated box manufacturers. A manufacturer of fibre shipping containers may supply corrugated or solid fibre sheets to sheet plants or cleated box manufacturers even though he has unfilled rated orders for fibre shipping containers to be made from such sheets. This does not mean that container manufacturers are required so to supply sheets or that sheet plants or cleated box manufacturers can extend ratings received from their customers to get sheets. It merely supersedes the provisions of Priorities Regulation 1 to the extent necessary (and only to that extent) to permit the sale of sheets to cleated box manufacturers and sheet plants regardless of whether this would prevent or delay the acceptance or fulfilment of rated orders for fibre shipping containers.

Miscellaneous

(y) Limits on the scope of this order. This order deals only with the items defined as "fibre shipping containers". It does not affect ratings applicable to any other kind of container. This order does not purport to define any containers or closures (including fibre shipping containers) as "production materials" for the product to be packed. Nor does it permit "production materials" ratings, or any other ratings described herein, to be used to get any containers or closures, except those defined in paragraph (c).

(z) Restrictions on acceptance of ratings. No persons receiving an order for fibre shipping containers shall give effect to any preference rating applied or extended thereto on or after February 29, 1944, if he knows or has reason to believe, that the rating has not been applied or extended in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(aa) Applicability of regulations. Preference ratings may be used to get fibre shipping containers in accordance with the provisions of this order regardless of any contrary provisions contained in paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3. With this exception, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time. For instance, when this order allows a rating to be used for inventory replacement, this must be done in accordance with Priorities Regulation 3.

(bb) Effect of other orders. This order does not authorize the delivery, receipt, manufacture or use of any materials in violation of any other order of the War Production Board.

(cc) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(dd) Communications. All reports to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Paperboard Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: P-146.

Issued this 29th day of February 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE A

These are the product ratings described in paragraph (h) of this order. The preference rating shown opposite each product may be used to get "fibre shipping containers" for it.

Rating procedures to get fibre shipping containers for products not appearing in the following list are described in paragraphs (g) through (p) of this order. Some of these procedures may, in appropriate cases, be used to get containers for listed products if the shipper prefers them to his listed rating. However, attention is called to the fact that the so-called "catch all" rating procedure, described in paragraph (m) of this order, may not be used to get containers for any listed product.

The headings used in this table are only for the purpose of separating the items into groups of similar commodities.

[General Limitation Order L-79, Interpretation 2]

Office of Price Administration requirements not affected. Question has been raised as to whether this order dispenses with the necessity of conforming to the requirements of O. P. A. Ration Order 9–A.

The words "without restriction" as used in L–79 refer only to restrictions placed by the War Production Board, and Order L–79 is not intended in any way to affect rationing or other requirements of the Office of Price Administration or any other agency.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 13, as Amended Feb. 29, 1944]

Section 944.34 Priorities Regulations 13 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 944.34 Priorities Regulation 13—(a) Purpose of this regulation. This regulation, in general, describes the rules under which materials may be sold by persons who are not in the regular business of selling such materials. While most sales of this kind will be sales of frozen, idle, or excess materials the regulation also covers any sale from inventory by such persons. For example, a person who has idle materials on hand because his business has been converted to war work, or because the business he used to carry on has been stopped or limited by War Production Board orders, or whose contract has been cancelled or changed, may sell off the idle or excess materials only under the rules in this regulation and, if he follows this regulation, he does not have to look at any other order or regulation except in a few cases which are described in paragraph (f) (2) below. This regulation also controls liquidation sales, bankruptcy sales, general auction sales, and other special sales, as defined in paragraph (b) (1).

(b) Special definitions used in this regulation. This regulation deals only with "special sales" of "industrial materials" or "finished products." As used in the regulation, those terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Special sale" means a sale of a material or product by a person who does not, in the regular course of his business, sell it in that form. For example, if a manufacturer sells the raw material he has bought to use in making his regular product, it is a special sale because selling raw material is not his regular business. Or, if a contractor has bought building materials and equipment to build a building and cannot finish it and sells them, that is a special sale because his business is building houses, not selling lumber and nails and lighting fixtures. Liquidation sales by trustees in bankruptcy, receivers and other kinds of liquidators (unless they are continuing to operate a business) and sales by general auctioneers are special sales as that type of person is not considered to be regularly in the business of selling any particular products.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind. It includes both "industrial materials" and "finished products."

(3) "Industrial materials" means the simple kinds of materials that finished products are made out of. It includes simple material forms like pipe, metal sheet and rod, wire, lumber, chemicals, nails, nuts and bolts. These are things that are bought for use in making something else, or are to be put together with other things to make a finished product.

(4) "Finished products" means completed articles which are ready for use just as they are and which do not need to be put together with something else before they can be used. It includes wrenches and hammers, assembled parts, replacement parts and products like tools, machinery, motors, valves, drums and fabricated industrial, agricultural or household equipment. Other examples of what it includes are clothing, furnishings, light bulbs, etc.

(5) "Used materials" means any industrial materials or finished products which have been put into actual use.

(6) Materials not covered by this regulation. There are three types of materials which are not covered by this regulation. They are the following:

(i) Scrap. This includes both scrap normally generated in production and other material which is sold as scrap. There are special orders covering certain types of scrap and except in those cases scrap may be sold to a scrap dealer.

(ii) Rationed products which are controlled by another government agency.

(iii) Foods for humans or animals, medicines, tobacco, oils and fats, petroleum and petroleum products including natural and liquefied petroleum gases.

(c) Kinds of special sales which may be made. If a person wants to make a "special sale" (as described above), the rules in this regulation apply and only these rules. There is no need to look at any other order or regulation, and these rules must be followed, no matter how the material was bought, and no matter what any other order or regulation provides. The only exceptions to this rule are stated in paragraphs (f) (2) and (3). The types of special sales which may be made are the following:

(1) Materials not on Lists A or B. (i) Industrial materials not on List A may be sold freely to anyone.

(ii) Finished products not on List B may be sold to anyone who makes or produces such a product in the form in which the holder possesses it or to a wholesaler whose regular business is selling such a product in whole or in part from stock or inventory. They also may be sold to anyone on a rating of AA–5 or higher. The only other way in which a holder may make a special sale of a finished product which is not on List B is to obtain permission from the War Production Board. The way to get this permission is explained in paragraph (c) (2) (iii) below.

(2) Materials on List A or List B. If the material that the holder wants to sell is one of the industrial materials listed on List A or is a finished product appearing on List B, the following are the only kinds of sales that can be made.

(i) Sales may be made in accordance with List A or List B. Those lists have four columns showing classes of buyers who might want to buy materials. Opposite each material on the lists in each column is shown whether, and under what conditions, sales can be made to the class of buyer described in the heading of the column.

(ii) A holder may sell freely to one of the following Government corporations, or to anyone buying as agent for one of them: Commodity Credit Corporation, Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Company or Rubber Reserve Company.

(iii) A holder may sell if he has been given permission by the War Production Board to make the particular sale. Form WPB–1161 (PD–470) should be used in applying for permission. It shows the information which is needed before permission can be given and it should be sent to the regional office of the War Production Board in the region where the the material is located. Copies of this form can be obtained from district or regional offices of the War Production Board. There are two exceptions to this rule in which WPB–1161 is not to be used. These are controlled materials for which special rules have been provided in later paragraphs, and a few finished products where a note in List B states that another form is to be used.

(iv) A holder may sell freely to anyone if he has a total of less than $100 worth of the particular material to be sold, unless it is one of the few materials for which special rules and amounts are stated in Column 6 of List A or List B. In deciding whether the holder has $100 worth he must count all material of the same type and composition. For example, all zinc sheet or cattle hides, or all cotton duck, or all shovels or hammers. This paragraph does not mean that a person may sell freely lots worth less than $100 if he has more than that amount. It only allows the sales if all he has of that kind of material is worth less than $100.

(v) If the material is copper, copper base alloy, aluminum or steel in a form described as a "controlled material" in CMP Regulation 1, the holder may sell it to a buyer who gives him an order bearing a CMP allotment symbol or number and this certification:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies that he is entitled under CMP regulations to place an authorized controlled material order for the above material.

Or the certification may be in the form set out in CMP Regulation 7 or in any other form which may be used in placing an authorized controlled material order. The buyer must charge material bought under this paragraph, against his CMP allotment account. If the material which the holder wants to sell is steel he may also sell it to steel warehouses, dealers or distributors on orders bearing the endorsements described in M–21–b–1 and M–21–b–2.

(vi) Special permission to sell controlled materials. The War Production Board may give special permission to sell idle or excess controlled materials for any use which is permitted under War Production Board orders or regulations either to a person who has no allotment or to a person who already has an allotment and an authorized production schedule under the Controlled Material Plan. This permission may be given only if the material has been reported to the War Production Board as idle or excess and if the material is iron, steel, aluminum, copper or copper base alloy in controlled material form. If this permission is given, the holder need not get from the buyer the certification provided in paragraph (c) (2) (v) above and if the buyer has an allotment he does not have to charge against his allotment account the amount of controlled materials bought under this special permission. In the case of copper and copper base alloy in controlled material form, the above permission may be given only if the buyer has a production schedule authorized under the Controlled Materials Plan and will use the material for the same purpose for which the production schedule was authorized. Either the buyer or the seller may apply for this permission in person or by writing, wiring or telephoning, giving full details about the size, shape, analysis, specifications and quantity of the material and the purpose for which it will be used. Requests for such permission should be directed to the Regional Office of the War Production Board for the region in which the material is located or to the appropriate materials division. If the material is being secured through the Copper Recovery Inventory Branch, then such request should be addressed to it at 350 Fifth Ave., New York 16, N. Y.

(3) Special orders. If the War Production Board, by an order or in any other way, has ruled that all persons engaged in a particular business may sell or exchange materials between themselves, they can do so.

(4) Used materials. Used materials may be sold freely to anyone unless there is a notation in List A or List B restricting the sale of the particular used material which the holder wants to sell.

(d) Transfers within a company. If a person wants to transfer material from one of his plants or operating units to another one which normally purchases separately, the transfer is considered equivalent to a sale and he may make it only under the same conditions as he could make a special sale under this regulation. In any other case where a person who has obtained material with priorities assistance wants to use it for another purpose, he should refer to § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation 1 or (in the case of controlled materials or Class A products obtained with an allotment) to paragraph (u) of CMP Regulation 1.

(e) Replacing material sold. If a person sells material under this regulation to someone who gives him a priority rating or a CMP allotment symbol or number, the seller cannot use this rating or allotment to replace the material he has sold. The effect of this rating or symbol or number stops when the seller receives it.

(f) Sales covered by this regulation. (1) This regulation applies only to "special sales" (as described in paragraph (b) (1)) and if the holder is regularly engaged in selling a material a sale of it by him is not a special sale and he is governed by all orders and regulations of the War Production Board which apply to the material he is selling.

(2) Provisions in any orders or regulations issued before February 29, 1944 which say that this regulation does not apply may be disregarded, except for Order U–1 affecting utilities, WPB Directive 16, which provides special rules for aircraft inventory transfers, and Order P–98–c, which applies to special sales in the petroleum industry. To find the rules for making a special sale there is no need to refer to any order or regulation other than Priorities Regulation 13, outside of the three exceptions stated. However, if another order or regulation issued after February 29, 1944 expressly mentions Priorities Regulation 13 and says that this regulation does not apply to a particular type of sale, then that order or regulation takes the place of this regulation.

(3) If any seller is allowed to make a sale under this regulation, the buyer is permitted to buy and accept delivery, except that:

(i) The buyer may not violate any regulation or order controlling the quantity of material which he may have or buy or receive or the amount of any product he may make or the use that he may make of any particular material. All the prohibitions in orders against the use of materials for particular purposes remain in effect.

(ii) If any order or regulation provides that a buyer of material must make any report or furnish any information either to the War Production Board or to the seller, this regulation does not excuse him from these requirements.

(iii) If any holder of material knows that a person who wants to buy it will use it for a prohibited purpose or would have more of it than he is permitted to have, the sale cannot be made.

(g) Records. Any person making a sale under this regulation must keep sufficient records so that he can show that the sale was permitted under this regulation.

(h) Listing materials with the War Production Board. If anyone has any excess, idle or frozen material that he wants to sell, he should report it to his nearest War Production Board office giving full details about its size, shape, analysis, specifications and quantity, and they will try to help him.

(i) Letters and questions. Any letters or questions about this regulation should be sent either to the Redistribution Division of the War Production Board in Washington, marked "Ref: P.R. 13", or to any of the field offices of the War Production Board.

(j) Revisions of Lists A and B. Lists A and B attached to this regulation will be revised on the first of each month, beginning April 1st, 1944. A person wishing to sell material under this regulation should be sure that he has the list which is in effect at the time of the sale. Copies may be obtained from any field office of the War Production Board.

Issued this 29th day of February 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

LISTS A AND B

Explanation of Lists A and B: Column (1) of List A lists the industrial materials (as defined in paragraph (b) (3) that are restricted under the regulation. This shows in some instances the class or group of materials and does not always list all the trade names and related materials.

Column (1) of List B lists the finished products to which the general sales rules in paragraph (c) (1) (ii) do not apply because the finished product is either more or less restricted than the general rule.

Columns (2), (3), (4) and (5) each apply to a type of possible buyer. Opposite each material in each column is shown the conditions under which a special sale of the particular material may be made to the person described in the heading of the column.

Column (2) applies to persons who make or produce material in the form in which the holder bought it. This includes non-integrated producers. If the holder bought copper wire, column (2) refers to a wire mill, which makes copper wire. If he bought a machine tool, it refers to a company which makes that kind of a product.

Column (3) refers to persons who are permitted to buy and use the material for production, construction, maintenance, repair or operating supplies or for capital expansion or replacement.

Column (4) refers to persons who buy new, rejected or second grade materials and who rework them. This includes persons who change the form of the material by redrawing, rerolling, etc., except that it does not include controlled material producers.

Column (5) refers to persons who are wholesaler dealers in the material the holder has like a wholesaler in chemicals or textiles. A wholesaler means anyone whose regular business consists in whole or in part of the sale from stock or inventory of the particular materials or products to other persons for the purpose of resale, or for fabrication or assembly into other products. It also includes persons who recondition or rebuild equipment and machinery for resale to industrial users. Such a person is not, however, relieved from compliance with any orders or regulations of the War Production Board which control the distribution of the material by him.

Column (6) contains notes which should be read whenever a star (*) or note shows on the list.

If the list shows "no," it means that the holder cannot sell to the class of person mentioned in the column head without special permission of the War Production Board except when a note in column (6) allows certain kinds of sales. Paragraph (c) (2) (iii) of the regulation tells how to get permission.

If the list shows "PR" followed by a letter and number, like "PR AA-5," it means that the holder can sell to anyone who gives him an AA-5 priority rating for the sale, or a higher rating.

If the list shows "W. O. P.," it means the holder can sell to the person at the head of the column without any priority rating or allocation.

If the list shows "X," it means that there are no persons who fall in the description at the top of the column so far as that particular material is concerned.

ARTICLE I—APPLICATION OF THIS REGULATION

SECTION 1. Purchases from foreign sellers—(a) Importations from foreign countries. Neither this regulation nor any other price regulation, except to the extent that it contains express provision making it applicable to such purchases, applies to the purchase of any commodity to be "imported" into the continental United States from any foreign country, where such purchase is made from a foreign seller, whose place of business is located outside the continental United States, either directly or through his selling agent wherever located.

Any sale of a commodity after being imported, whether made through the selling agent of the foreign seller or not, is governed by this regulation (if such commodity falls within the scope of those enumerated in section 2) or by any other applicable price regulation.

(b) Purchases through agents of foreign sellers. Notwithstanding that a person in the continental United States is considered the selling agent of the foreign seller by the parties to the transaction, he shall not be deemed the selling agent of the foreign seller under this section if he invoices commodities in his own name without disclosing on the invoice that he is acting as the agent for a foreign seller and that he has filed the statement required under section 1 (c), or if he finances the transaction in any manner, or assumes any of the credit risks, or if he determines the selling price. In any such case, he shall be deemed to be the importer under this regulation.

(c) Filing by agents of foreign sellers. Any person appointed the selling agent of the foreign seller on or after January 1, 1942, shall file with the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a verified copy of the document or documents showing his authority to act as agent for such foreign seller and a statement of the commodities for which he has been appointed agent. Any person appointed the selling agent of the foreign seller prior to January 1, 1942 shall file with the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement containing the following information:

(1) The name and address of the foreign seller for whom he has been appointed as agent.

(2) The date of such appointment.

(3) The commodities for which he has been appointed agent.

No person shall be considered the selling agent of any foreign seller under this section with respect to any transaction after April 1, 1944, unless he has filed the document or statement above required.

[Section 1, formerly section 2, amended and redesignated by Am. 2, effective 3-2-44]

SEC. 2. Application of this regulation to imported commodities. (a) This regulation, except for section 1, applies only to purchases and sales of the following commodities imported after March 31, 1942, which, were it not for this regulation, would be governed by the General Maximum Price Regulation[3] or by an order or supplementary regulation issued thereunder which does not establish maximum prices in specific dollars and cents:

(1) "Imported industrial materials," other than lumber and wood shingles produced in and imported from Canada or Mexico.

(2) "Imported manufactured goods," other than beverages, foods and food products, and animal and poultry foods or feeds.

(3) Domestic manufactured goods made with imported industrial materials.

(b) The maximum prices of imported commodities not covered by this regulation or by a specific maximum price regulation are governed by the General Maximum Price Regulation (unless exempted from price control).

[Sec. 2, formerly sec. 1, amended and redesignated by Am. 2, effective 3-2-44]

ARTICLE II—IMPORTED INDUSTRIAL MATERIALS

SEC. 3. Sales of imported industrial materials by importers to intermediate distributors or industrial users. The maximum price for sales or deliveries of any industrial materials "imported" after March 31, 1942, by an "importer," other than the United States or any agency thereof, to an "intermediate distributor" or an "industrial user" shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the importer delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942, the same materials imported by him, his maximum price shall be the sum of his maximum price established under the General Maximum Price Regulation plus the permitted increase in the "total landed costs" of the imported materials over the total landed costs of the same materials upon which his maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation was based.

(b) If the importer did not deliver or offer for delivery during March, 1942, the same materials imported by him but has, prior to August 20, 1943, established a maximum price for such materials under the General Maximum Price Regulation (exclusive of a higher price established under Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12) he may sell at a price not in excess of that maximum price or he may, before making any sale, apply to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a revision of that maximum price by submitting to that Office a statement containing the following information:

(1) A description of the materials.

(2) Did you sell or offer for sale the same imported materials between March 1, 1942, and August 20, 1943?

(3) What is your maximum price, if any, to each class of purchaser and how was it established?

(4) What were the total landed costs on which that maximum price was established?

(5) In what class does your customer fall under section 6?

(6) What was the highest price charged by the foreign seller on or during the thirty days prior to August 20, 1943, or his firm offering price on that date for the same materials? (If the foreign seller did not sell or offer for sale the same materials on or during the thirty days prior to August 20, 1943, so indicate.)

(7) What is your proposed selling price to each class of purchaser?

(8) What are the total landed costs of the importer materials, itemizing the "foreign invoice price" (if in foreign currency, the rate of exchange paid), transportation charges, any import duties and import taxes, marine insurance, war risk insurance (not exceeding WSA rate), and any other expenses from the point of shipment abroad to the point designated by the importer prior to importation for delivery into the continental United States?

(9) What processing, if any, is to be done by you?

(10) What is the cost of such processing?

No importer applying for a revised price under this paragraph shall accept payment in an amount in excess of the maximum price established under the General Maximum Price Regulation (exclusive of the higher prices established under Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12) for any imported industrial materials for which the importer seeks a revised price until the Office of Price Administration either approves the proposed selling price or if, in its opinion, the proposed selling price is excessive, adjusts such price.

(c) If the importer had not established a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation (exclusive of the higher price established under Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12) prior to August 20, 1943 for the same materials imported by him, he shall, before making any sale, submit to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement containing the information set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

The selling price shall be subject to approval or adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. The importer may deliver the material to his customer but he shall not accept payment therefor until his selling price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) An importer who has established a maximum price for imported industrial materials under paragraph (b) or (c) of this section shall adjust that price on sales of future importations of the same material in accordance with decreases in the total landed costs; and may adjust that price on sales of future importations of the same materials in accordance with permitted increases in the total landed costs as defined in section 6 of the regulation.

(e) In calculating total landed costs under this section, the importer may not include any increases in the foreign invoice price above the highest amount the foreign seller charged a purchaser of the same class during the 30 days prior to August 20, 1943, or in the absence of an actual purchase, the foreign seller's firm offering price to a purchaser of the same class for the same materials on August 20, 1943. The importer shall not include that amount in calculating his total landed costs for the purposes of this regulation unless he has in his possession bona fide documentary evidence of the foreign seller's price on or during the thirty days prior to August 20, 1943, for the same materials. Such evidence may consist of a true copy of an invoice showing a purchase from the foreign seller on or during the thirty days prior to August 20, 1943, or a confirmation of an order on or during the thirty days prior to August 20, 1943, or a price list in effect on or during the thirty days prior to August 20, 1943, or a cable or statement in writing from the foreign seller to the effect that such price was his firm offering price on August 20, 1943, to a purchaser of the same class.

If the present foreign invoice price is lower than the highest amount the foreign seller charged the importer during the thirty days prior to August 20, 1943, or lower than the foreign seller's firm offering price on August 20, 1943, the importer shall include no more than the present foreign invoice price in calculating his total landed costs under section 3 of this regulation.

(f) Any importer who sells or delivers imported industrial materials to an intermediate distributor at a price established under this section shall include on his invoice to his customer either of the following statements, whichever is applicable:

(1) The invoiced imported industrial materials are sold to you at a price established under section 3 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. In accordance with section 3 we have added $$$_____ per _____ to our maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation. Your own maximum resale price should be determined under section 4 of that regulation, if it would have otherwise been determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) The imported industrial materials are invoiced to you at a price subject to approval by the Office of Price Administration under section 3 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. As soon as a price is approved, you will be further advised by us in writing of the approved price. Your own maximum resale price should be determined under section 4 of that regulation, if it would have otherwise been determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(g) Any importer who sells or delivers imported industrial materials to an industrial user at a price established under this section shall include on his invoice to the industrial user either of the following statements, whichever is applicable:

(1) The invoiced imported industrial materials are sold to you at a price established under section 3 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. You are not permitted to increase your maximum selling price for any article produced with the use of these materials unless authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) The imported industrial materials are invoiced to you at a price subject to approval by the Office of Price Administration under section 3 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. As soon as a price is approved, you will be further advised by us in writing of the approved price. You are not permitted to increase your maximum price for any article produced with the use of these materials unless authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration.

(h) Within 10 days after the first delivery by an importer to an intermediate distributor or industrial user at a price established under paragraph (a) of this section or within 10 days after the approval or adjustment by the Office of Price Administration of a price submitted pursuant to paragraph (b) or (c) of this section, whichever is later, the importer shall forward to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report, in duplicate, of the first sale to each intermediate distributor or industrial user made at a price established under this section. These reports shall be made upon Form OPA-SR-12A set out in section 16 of this regulation, or upon a form copied therefrom. Copies of this form may be obtained from the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

If the importer's total landed costs should decrease, or if his selling price should be raised by reason of permitted increases in the total landed costs, the importer shall file supplemental reports on this form. These supplemental reports shall be filed in duplicate within 10 days after the first delivery, affected by such change in the total landed costs, to each intermediate distributor or industrial user.

(i) Whenever any importer who sells imported industrial materials directly to industrial users finds that the filing of individual reports required in paragraph (h) of this section for the first sale would place an undue burden upon him, he may apply in writing to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to file consolidated reports. If such permission is granted, the importer will be instructed what information to include in the consolidated report. Supplemental consolidated reports shall be filed within 10 days after a change in the selling price by reason of permitted increases in the total landed costs, or if the total landed costs decrease.

(j) Whenever an importer who sells imported industrial materials to an intermediate distributor finds that Form OPA–SR–12A is not adaptable for the report required in paragraph (h) of this section, he may apply in writing to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to file special reports, indicating in what respect the form is unsuitable. If such permission is granted, the importer will be instructed what information to include in the special report.

[Sec. 3 as amended by Am. 2, effective 3–2–44]

SEC. 4. Sales of imported industrial materials by intermediate distributors to industrial users. The maximum prices for sales or deliveries of imported industrial materials by an intermediate distributor, other than the United States or any agency thereof, to an industrial user shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the intermediate distributor delivered or offered for delivery the same materials during March, 1942, his maximum price shall be his maximum price established under the General Maximum Price Regulation plus the increase in his purchase price over the purchase price of the same materials upon which his maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation was based. However, no intermediate distributor may sell at a price established under this paragraph unless the importer's invoice to him contains the statements required under section 3 (f).

Moreover, no intermediate distributor shall establish a price under this paragraph if the importer's invoice states that the price charged by the importer is subject to approval or adjustment by the Office of Price Administration, until the intermediate distributor receives notice from the importer of the price approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) If the intermediate distributor did not deliver or offer for delivery the same industrial materials during March, 1942, but has prior to August 20, 1943 established a maximum price for such materials under the General Maximum Price Regulation (exclusive of the higher prices permitted under Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12) he may sell at a price not in excess of that maximum price or he may, before making any sale, apply to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a revision of that maximum price by submitting to that Office a statement containing the following information:

(1) A description of the materials.

(2) Did you sell or offer for sale the same imported materials between March 1, 1942, and August 20, 1943?

(3) What is your maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation to industrial users, if any, and how was it established?

(4) What is your proposed selling price to each class of industrial user?

(5) What is the name and address of your supplier?

(6) What price have you paid or is to be paid to the importer and what were the terms of purchase?

(7) What processing, if any, is to be done by you?

(8) What is the cost of such processing?

(9) What article is to be produced by your customer with the use of these materials?

(c) If the intermediate distributor had not established a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation (exclusive of the higher price established under Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 12) prior to August 20, 1943 for the same materials, he shall, before making any sale, submit to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement containing the information set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

The selling price shall be subject to approval or adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. The intermediate distributor may deliver the materials to an industrial user but he shall not accept payment therefor until his price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(d) An intermediate distributor who has established a maximum price under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section shall adjust that price on sales of the same materials purchased thereafter in accordance with decreases in his purchase price; and he may adjust that price on sales of the same materials purchased thereafter in accordance with permitted increases in his purchase price.

(e) Any intermediate distributor who sells or delivers imported industrial materials to an industrial user at a price established under this section shall include on his invoice to the industrial user either of the following statements, whichever is applicable:

(1) The invoiced imported industrial materials are sold to you at a price established under section 4 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. You are not permitted to increase your maximum selling price for any article produced with the use of these materials unless authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) The imported industrial materials are invoiced to you at a price subject to approval by the Office of Price Administration under section 4 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. As soon as a price is approved, you will be further advised by us in writing of the approved price. You are not permitted to increase your maximum price for any article produced with the use of these materials unless authorized to do so by the Office of Price Administration.

(f) Within ten days after the first delivery by an intermediate distributor to an industrial user at a price established under paragraph (a) of this section, or within ten days after approval or adjustment by the Office of Price Administration of a price submitted pursuant to paragraphs (b) or (c) of this section, whichever is later, the intermediate distributor shall forward to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a report, in duplicate, of the first sale to each industrial user made at a price established under this section. These reports shall be made upon Form OPA–SR–12B, set out in section 17 of this regulation, or upon a form copied therefrom. Copies of this form may be obtained from the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

If the intermediate distributor's purchase price should decrease, or if his selling price should be raised by reason of increases in his purchase price, he shall file supplemental reports on this form. These supplemental reports shall be filed in duplicate within ten days after the first delivery affected by such change in the intermediate distributor's purchase price.

(g) If an intermediate distributor finds that the filing of individual reports required in paragraph (f) of this section for each sale would place an undue burden upon him, he may apply in writing to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to file consolidated reports. If such permission is granted the intermediate distributor will be instructed as to what information to include in the consolidated report. Supplemental consolidated reports shall be filed within ten days after a change in the selling price by reason of permitted increases in the purchase price or by reason of decreases in the purchase price.

(h) Any intermediate distributor may apply to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to sell imported industrial materials to another distributor at a price to be approved by the Office of Price Administration. Such permission will be granted if it is shown that it was the usual practice in the trade, prior to March 1942, for one intermediate distributor to sell such materials to another distributor, unless the Office of Price Administration is satisfied that the sale to another distributor at the approved price will be contrary to the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. If such permission is granted, purchasers from such intermediate distributors shall determine their maximum prices under section 4 as if they were intermediate distributors.

[Sec. 4 as amended by Am. 2, effective 3–2–44]

SEC. 5. Applications for adjustment of maximum prices by industrial users. (a) If the costs of the imported industrial materials used in the production of an article on which the industrial user established his maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation have increased so substantially that he cannot continue to use those materials in the production of that article or cannot continue to produce the article, he may file an application for adjustment of his maximum price for the article. The application must show:

(1) That the article he produces with the use of the imported industrial materials is subject to this regulation.

(2) A brief description of the article he produces.

(3) That the imported industrial materials represent a substantial portion of the total cost of the component materials of the article he produces. (State the percentage.)

(4) The current cost per unit (not exceeding suppliers' maximum price) of the industrial materials and the increase in that cost per unit over the cost to him of the same materials which he used in the article the sale of which established his maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation. If the material is imported directly by the industrial user, the cost per unit must be supported by possession of bona fide documentary evidence described in section 3 (e).

(5) His total cost of production per unit for the article he produces with the use of the imported industrial materials, indicating the cost of direct labor and materials, including waste, but less the salvage value of that waste, and applicable factory overhead.

NOTE: For the purposes of this paragraph, an industrial user may not include the cost of industrial materials which he has directly imported as a part of his materials cost in an amount in excess of the total landed cost as defined in section 6 of this regulation.

(6) His annual profit and loss statements for each of the three calendar or fiscal years ending nearest to the date of the application.

(7) His maximum selling price per unit for the article he produces and the terms of sale to each class of purchaser.

(8) His dollars-and-cents markup per unit to each class of purchaser for that article during March, 1942, or if he made no sale during March, 1942, on his first sale thereafter.

(9) His proposed selling price and terms of sale to each class of purchaser.

(10) A statement of the reasons why, if the adjustment is not granted, he cannot continue to use the imported industrial materials in the article he produces or to continue to produce that article.

The Price Administrator may grant an adjustment under this section in an amount not to exceed the additional total cost of the imported industrial materials permitted under this regulation.

The Price Administrator may deny the petition for adjustment if, in his opinion, the granting of it will interfere with the production or distribution, or will endanger the price control, of comparable articles made of domestic materials.

Any industrial user who has been granted an adjustment of a maximum price of any article under this section shall adjust that price in accordance with any decreases on future purchases of the imported industrial materials used by him in producing that article.

Any application for an adjustment under this paragraph shall be filed in accordance with Subpart B of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[1]

(b) If an industrial user purchases for use as a material, ingredient, or component part of an article he produces, an article which another industrial user has produced with the use of imported industrial materials, (or with the use of an article made of such materials), he may apply for an adjustment in the maximum price of the article he produces by filing an application complying with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section. However, wherever the term "imported industrial materials" is used in paragraph (a), the applicant for adjustment under this paragraph (b) shall treat the term as referring to the article purchased by him which was produced by another industrial user with the use of imported industrial materials, (or with the use of an article made of such materials).

The Price Administrator may grant an adjustment to such industrial user in an amount not to exceed the difference in the cost of the article he purchased during March, 1942, and the cost represented by the current price to him approved by the Office of Price Administration.

[1] 7 F.R. 8961; 8 F.R. 3813, 3883, 6173, 11806; 9 F.R. 1594.

The Price Administrator may deny the petition for adjustment if, in his opinion, the granting of it will interfere with the production or distribution, or will endanger the price control of comparable articles made of domestic materials.

Any industrial user who has been granted an adjustment of a maximum price of an article under this section shall adjust that price in accordance with decreases in the cost of that article on future purchases of an article which another industrial user has produced with the use of imported industrial materials.

Any application for adjustment under this paragraph shall be filed in accordance with Subpart B of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

[Sec. 5 as amended by Am. 2, effective 3–2–44]

SEC. 6. Definitions relating to sales of imported industrial materials. When used in sections 3, 4, and 5 of this regulation, the term:

"Foreign invoice price" means the price charged by the foreign seller minus any charges included in such price for transportation, marine insurance, war risk insurance, export taxes, customs duties, import taxes, or any other expenses from the point of shipment abroad to the point of delivery in the continental United States. If a foreign invoice price is stated in a foreign currency, such price shall be the amount converted into U. S. dollars at the rate of exchange paid or to be paid or at the applicable rate of exchange prevailing in New York City on August 20, 1943, whichever is the lower.

"Imported" means transported into the continental United States from any place outside thereof. Materials entered in a customs bonded warehouse, or placed in a foreign trade zone or in a general order warehouse shall be considered as "imported."

"Imported industrial materials" means any commodity which is to be subjected to further processing after importation that results in the production of a new and different article having a distinctive name, character, or use, or which is to be used as an ingredient or component part of such an article, or which is to be consumed in such production.

"Importer" means the person in the continental United States who purchases industrial materials from the foreign seller whose place of business is located outside the continental United States and who sells them either to an intermediate distributor or to an industrial user. The person who purchases such materials from the importer shall be considered an intermediate distributor under this regulation if he resells the materials, notwithstanding that he may be the importer of record for customs purposes.

"Industrial user" means any person who, either for his own commercial use or for resale, subjects imported industrial materials to a process that results in the production of a new and different article having a distinctive name, character, or use, or who uses the materials as an ingredient or a component part of such an article. A restaurant, hotel, or other similar establishment where food or beverages are served shall not be considered an "industrial user."

"Intermediate distributor" means any person who in accordance with established trade practice buys or receives imported industrial materials directly from the importer thereof and who sells or delivers such materials to an industrial user.

"Same," as applied to imported industrial materials, shall not require exact identity. Such materials are to be regarded as the same notwithstanding minor differences in grade or quality which, according to trade practice, would not result in any significant difference in the price charged.

"Total landed costs" means the price charged by the foreign seller converted into U. S. dollars at the rate of exchange actually paid or at the applicable rate of exchange prevailing in New York City on August 20, 1943, whichever is the lower plus all the costs, charges and expenses, including any customs duties or import taxes, and purchasing commissions incurred by the importer in transporting the industrial materials from the point of shipment abroad to the point in the continental United States designated by the importer prior to importation for delivery: Provided, (1) That the price charged by the foreign seller shall be, for the purposes of determining total landed costs, subject to the limitations of section 3 (e), above; (2) That in computing these costs, war risk insurance costs for industrial materials shipped after August 23, 1943 shall not exceed the amount of the applicable war risk insurance premium which was or would have been charged for such shipment by the War Shipping Administration; (3) That cable charges, banking costs, and other general overhead costs, and charges incurred in storing imported industrial materials in a foreign trade zone, a customs bonded warehouse, or a public warehouse in the continental United States for any period in excess of sixty days shall not be included.

[Sec. 6 as amended by Am. 2, effective 3-2-44]

ARTICLE III—DOMESTIC MANUFACTURED GOODS MADE WITH IMPORTED INDUSTRIAL MATERIALS

SEC. 7. Sales of domestic manufactured goods made with imported industrial materials. The maximum price for sales or deliveries of domestic manufactured goods made in whole or in part with imported industrial materials for which an adjustment in price has been granted by the Office of Price Administration under section 5 of this regulation shall be determined by the "primary wholesaler", "the secondary wholesaler" or "retailer" of such goods as follows:

(a) If, prior to August 20, 1943, the seller had established a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the same domestic manufactured goods made with imported industrial materials he shall determine his maximum price for such goods in accordance with paragraph (c) or (d) of section 8 of this regulation.

(b) If, prior to August 20, 1943, the seller had not established a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the same domestic manufactured goods made with imported industrial materials he shall proceed in accordance with paragraph (d) of section 8 of this regulation.

(c) Any person who has established a maximum price under paragraph (b) of this section shall adjust that price on future purchases of the same domestic manufactured goods made with imported industrial materials in accordance with decreases in the net cost of the goods to him; and may adjust that price on sales of the same domestic manufactured goods made with imported industrial materials in accordance with increases in their net cost.

(d) A primary or secondary wholesaler who sells or delivers at a price established under this section shall include the following statement on his invoice to his customer:

The invoiced domestic manufactured goods made with imported industrial materials are sold to you at a price established under section 7 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. Your own maximum resale price shall be determined under that section of that regulation, if it would have otherwise been determined under General Maximum Price Regulation.

[Sec. 7 as amended by Am. 2, effective 3-2-44]

ARTICLE IV—IMPORTED MANUFACTURED GOODS

SEC. 8. Sales of imported manufactured goods. The maximum price for sales or deliveries of manufactured goods imported after March 31, 1942, by a seller (other than the United States or any agency thereof), whether an importer, a primary or secondary wholesaler or a retailer, shall be determined as follows:

(a) If the importer delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942, to a purchaser of the same class, the same manufactured goods imported by him, his maximum price shall be the sum of his permitted total landed costs for those goods subject to the limitations of paragraph (b) of this section, plus the same dollars-and-cents mark-up, or 75 per cent of the percentage mark-up, included in the highest price at which he delivered or offered those goods for delivery during March 1942.

(b) In calculating total landed costs under this section, the importer may not include any increases in the foreign invoice price above the highest amount the foreign seller charged a purchaser of the same class during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, or in the absence of an actual purchase, the foreign seller's firm offering price to a purchaser of the same class for the same goods on April 30, 1943. The importer shall not include that amount in calculating his total landed costs for the purposes of this regulation unless he has in his possession bona fide documentary evidence of the foreign seller's price on or during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, for the same goods. Such evidence may consist of a true copy of an invoice showing a purchase from the foreign seller on or during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, or a confirmation of an order on or during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, or a price list in effect on or during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, or a cable or statement in writing from the foreign seller to the effect that such price was his firm offering price on April 30, 1943, to a purchaser of the same class.

If the present foreign invoice price is lower than the highest amount the foreign seller charged the importer during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, or lower than the foreign seller's firm offering price on April 30, 1943, the importer shall include no more than the present foreign invoice price in calculating his total landed costs under section 8 of this regulation.

(c) If the primary wholesaler, secondary wholesaler, or retailer (acting in the same capacity) delivered or offered for delivery during March 1942, to a purchaser of the same class, the same imported manufactured goods, his maximum price shall be the sum of his "total cost of acquisition" for those goods, plus the same dollars-and-cents mark-up, or 75 per cent of the percentage mark-up, included in his highest selling or offering price for delivery during March, 1942.

(d) If the importer, primary wholesaler, secondary wholesaler, or retailer did not deliver or offer for delivery during March 1942, the same imported manufactured goods, but had prior to August 20, 1943, properly established a maximum price for such goods under the General Maximum Price Regulation, he may sell at a price not in excess of that maximum price, or he may, before making any sale or offer for sale, apply to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a revision of that maximum price by submitting to that Office a statement containing the following information:

(1) A description of the article to be sold.

(2) Did you sell or offer for sale the same imported article between March 1, 1942, and August 20, 1943? If so, what was the maximum price and how was it established?

(3) Did you establish a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for a similar article domestically produced? If so, what was the maximum price?

(4) In what class do you fall under section 9?

(5) If you are not the importer, in what class does your supplier fall under that section? Give his name and address.

(6) In what class does your customer fall under that section?

(7) If you are not the importer, state your purchase price for the article and terms of purchase.

(8) If you are the importer, state the total landed costs of the article, itemizing the "foreign invoice price" (if in foreign currency, the rate of exchange paid or to be paid), transportation charges, any import duties and import taxes, marine insurance, war risk insurance (not exceeding WSA rate), and any other expenses from the point of shipment abroad to the point designated by you prior to importation for delivery in the continental United States.

(9) What are your proposed selling price and terms of sale to each class of purchaser?

(10) If you are the importer, state the highest price charged by the foreign seller on or during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, or his firm offering price on that date for the same goods. (If the foreign seller did not sell or offer for sale the same goods on or during the thirty days prior to April 30, 1943, so indicate.)

(11) The customary percentage mark-up in the trade during March 1942 (if known), for that kind of article when sold to a purchaser of the same class (state whether the mark-up is on cost or on selling price).

The selling price shall be subject to approval or adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. The importer, primary wholesaler, or secondary wholesaler may deliver the goods to his customer, but he shall not accept payment therefor until his selling price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. The retailer may not deliver the goods to his customer until his price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(e) If the importer, primary wholesaler, secondary wholesaler, or retailer, had not established a maximum price under the General Maximum Price Regulation prior to August 20, 1943, for the same imported manufactured goods, he shall, before making any sale or offer for sale, apply for approval of a selling price by submitting to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement containing the information required in paragraph (d) of this section.

The proposed selling price shall be subject to approval or adjustment by the Office of Price Administration. The importer, primary wholesaler, or secondary wholesaler may deliver the goods to his customer, but he shall not accept payment therefor until his selling price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. The retailer may not deliver the goods to his customer or accept payment therefor until his price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration.

(f) Any person who has established a maximum price for imported manufactured goods under paragraph (d) or (e) of this section shall adjust that price on future purchases of the same imported manufactured goods in accordance with decreases in the net cost of the goods to him; and may adjust that price on sales of the same imported manufactured goods, in accordance with permitted increases in their cost.

(g) Any person, other than a retailer or an importer selling at retail, who sells or delivers imported manufactured goods at a price established under this section shall include on his invoice to his customer either of the following statements, whichever is applicable:

(1) The invoiced imported manufactured goods are sold to you at a price established under section 8 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. Your own maximum resale price should be determined under that section if it would have otherwise been determined under the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(2) The imported manufactured goods are invoiced to you at a price subject to approval by the Office of Price Administration under section 8 of the Maximum Import Price Regulation. As soon as a price is approved, you will be further advised by us in writing of the approved price. Your own maximum resale price should be determined under section 8 of that regulation if it would have otherwise been subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(h) Any person who desires to sell all of the same manufactured goods imported after March 31, 1942, at a uniform maximum price, instead of at different prices computed or approved under any paragraph of this section, may compute that price by taking the properly weighted average cost of all of the same items in inventory at any given time: Provided, That the total sales value of all of the same items in inventory at that uniform price does not exceed what would otherwise be the total sales value at maximum prices established for each item under any other paragraph of this section.

Any person who establishes a maximum price for any imported manufactured goods in this manner shall submit to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 10 days of establishing such prices:

(1) A description of each article so priced.

(2) Its maximum price computed under this paragraph.

(3) The total sales value computed at the uniform price.

(4) The total sales value if each item had been otherwise individually priced.

A supplemental report shall be similarly filed whenever the maximum price on any item priced in the above manner is increased or decreased.

Any person who establishes a maximum price for any imported manufactured goods in this manner shall keep a record of his computations readily available as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(i) If any person had an established practice prior to August 20, 1943 of maintaining price differentials in a related range or line of imported manufactured goods, he may continue to reflect his usual price differentials in that range or line when establishing his maximum price under this section: Provided, That the total sales value of all of the goods so priced does not exceed what would otherwise be the total sales value at maximum prices established for each item under any other paragraph of this section.

Any person who establishes a maximum price for any imported manufactured goods in this manner shall submit to the Export-Import Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within ten days of establishing such price:

(1) A description of each article so priced.

(2) Its maximum price computed under this paragraph.

(3) The total sales value computed at prices determined under this paragraph.

(4) The total sales value if each item had been otherwise individually priced.

A supplemental report shall be similarly filed whenever the maximum price on any item priced in the above manner is increased or decreased.

Any person who establishes a maximum price for any imported manufactured goods in this manner shall keep a record of his computations as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

SEC. 9. Definitions relating to sales of imported and domestic manufactured goods. When used in sections 7 and 8 of this regulation, the term:

"Foreign invoice price" means the price charged by the foreign seller minus any charges included in such price for transportation, marine insurance, war risk insurance, export taxes, customs duties, import taxes, or any other expenses from the point of shipment abroad to the point of delivery in the continental United States. If the foreign invoice price is stated in a foreign currency, it shall be the amount converted into U. S. dollars at the rate of exchange paid or to be paid or at the applicable rate of exchange prevailing in New York City on April 30, 1943, whichever is the lower.

"Imported" means transported into the continental United States from any place outside thereof. Goods entered in a customs bonded warehouse, or placed in a foreign trade zone or in a general order warehouse shall be considered as "imported."

"Imported manufactured goods" means any imported articles which have been processed or manufactured prior to importation to such an extent that they require no further processing after importation that results in the production of a new and different article having a distinctive name, character, or use, and which are not used as an ingredient or component part of such an article.

"Importer" means the person in the continental United States who purchases manufactured goods from the foreign seller whose place of business is located outside the continental United States and who sells them either to a primary wholesaler, a retailer, or an ultimate consumer.

The person to whom such goods are sold by the original purchaser from the foreign seller shall not be considered the importer under this regulation, notwithstanding that he may be the importer of record for customs purposes.

"Primary wholesaler" means any person who performs a recognized distributive function by purchasing manufactured goods directly from either the importer or the domestic manufacturer thereof, and who sells or delivers them to a secondary wholesaler or a retailer in accordance with established trade practices.

"Retailer" means any person who buys or receives manufactured goods from the importer, the domestic manufacturer, a primary wholesaler, or a secondary wholesaler and who sells them to an ultimate consumer.

"Same," as applied to imported manufactured goods, shall not require exact identity. Such goods are to be regarded as the same notwithstanding minor differences in grade or quality which, according to trade practice, would not result in any significant differences in the price charged.

"Secondary wholesaler" means any person who performs a recognized distributive function by purchasing manufactured goods from a primary wholesaler and who sells or delivers them to a retailer in accordance with established trade practices.

"Total cost of acquisition" means the net price paid by a primary wholesaler, secondary wholesaler, or retailer (not exceeding suppliers' maximum price to him), plus any transportation costs actually incurred in acquiring the goods.

"Total landed costs" means the price charged by the foreign seller converted into U. S. dollars at the rate of exchange actually paid or at the applicable rate of exchange prevailing in New York City on August 20, 1943, whichever is the lower plus all costs, charges, and expenses, including any customs duties or import taxes, and purchasing commission incurred by the importer in transporting the goods from the point of shipment abroad to the point in the continental United States designated by the importer prior to importation for delivery: Provided, (1) That the price charged by the foreign seller shall be, for the purposes of determining total landed costs, subject to the limitations of section 8 (b), above; (2) That in computing these costs, war risk insurance costs on manufactured goods shipped after August 23, 1943 shall not exceed the amount of the applicable war risk insurance premium which was or would have been charged for such shipment by the War Shipping Administration; (3) That cable charges, banking costs, and other general overhead costs, and charges incurred in storing imported manufactured goods in a foreign trade zone, a customs bonded warehouse, or a public warehouse, in the continental United States for any period in excess of sixty days shall not be included.

"Ultimate consumer" means any person who buys manufactured goods for his own use. Any person who buys such goods for use in his business or profession and who does not resell them to any other person shall be considered an ultimate consumer.

PART 1394—RATIONING OF FUEL AND FUEL PRODUCTS

[Rev. RO 11]

FUEL OIL

Preamble. The shortage of fuel oil and other petroleum products in the Eastern states and the Pacific Northwest has become one of the most critical problems confronting the nation. Prior to 1941, approximately 95% of the fuel oil used in the East was shipped by oil tanker from other areas. The diversion of tankers to other routes, since the outbreak of the war, has caused a sharp reduction in shipments and a consequent supply shortage of serious proportions.

It is essential to guarantee the continued availability of adequate supplies of fuel oil for military and naval uses and for industrial and agricultural operations. At the same time, provision must be made for the scarcely less critical domestic uses upon which civilian life has become dependent. Intensive efforts have, therefore, been made to increase shipments by railway tank car and other transportation facilities. Tank cars have been withdrawn from other routes to serve the Eastern states. Oil stocks in adjacent midwestern areas have been and are being drawn upon in order to reduce the shortage and alleviate the hardships in the East. As a result of these efforts, tank car shipments to the East Coast have been increased to an extent not previously thought possible. However, the shortage remains acute. Furthermore, the withdrawal of stocks and of transportation facilities from adjacent areas has produced a shortage in other localities. As an almost inevitable consequence of these measures taken to avoid a shortage of great proportions in the East, the area of shortage was extended westward.

In order to provide for equitable distribution of fuel oil in the areas of shortage, a system of rationing control was adopted. This was done pursuant to a directive issued by the War Production Board to the Office of Price Administration to ration fuel oil in 30 Eastern and Midwestern states, the District of Columbia, the states of Oregon and Washington and the western tier of counties in the state of Idaho.

Ration Order No. 11 was issued pursuant to that directive. Provision was made for an unrestricted supply of fuel oil for military and naval uses and for industrial, commercial and agricultural operations which, in a war economy, cannot generally be curtailed. The reduction of demand to the available supply was sought to be achieved largely by the curtailment of the use of fuel oil for heating premises and for hot water, virtually the only classes of uses which can be uniformly reduced without directly impeding the war effort. In order to avoid the unnecessary use of fuel oil, the order denied rations altogether where equipment using nonscarce fuels was available. To that end, Ration Order No. 11 was integrated with the conversion program of the Petroleum Administration for War.

For the purpose of determining heat and hot water rations, private dwellings and premises other than private dwellings receive significantly different treatment. In the case of private dwellings, heat rations are limited by a range reflected in tables computed on the basis of a heat loss formula. The formula was devised to determine normal fuel oil requirements of a private dwelling in a given area. By appropriate adjustments, a determination can be made of the requirements of an average house or of a well insulated house with high oil burner efficiency. Such adjustments, reflected in the tables, fix a maximum and minimum of the range within which the heat ration is determined. The maximum of the range represents, roughly, the requirements of the home of slightly less than average efficiency. The minimum represents the requirements of a well insulated home with an efficient burner. The heat ration is determined on the basis of 66⅔% of past consumption, within the limits of the range described above. The ration is not in any event to exceed the maximum of the range, nor to be less than either the minimum of the range or 85% of past consumption (whichever is less). The domestic hot water ration for private dwellings is determined on the basis of occupancy.

In the case of premises other than private dwellings, both heat and hot water rations are determined on the basis of 66⅔% of past consumption with no limiting range.

Since heating requirements vary according to weather conditions, the rationed area has been divided into zones and subzones. The figures used for computing heat rations differ in each subzone in order to reflect varying weather conditions. Moreover, the coupon sheets issued for heat rations contain primarily coupons of an indefinite gallonage value, thus permitting adjustments to weather conditions and available fuel oil supplies during the heating season. The zone wherein coupons for heat rations may be used are marked upon the coupons to provide additional controls.

Additional heat and hot water rations are made available in special cases, where an additional supply of oil is required for reasons of health or for the performance of certain commercial or industrial operations or to avoid immediate and undue hardship.

In order to control distribution, transfers of fuel oil may be made only in exchange for coupons or other designated ration currency authorized by the Ration Order. All members of the trade are required to register with their local Board, to state their initial inventory, and to keep records of their transactions. Primary suppliers, to whom coupons and other ration evidences ultimately flow, are required to make periodic reports to the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration.

Experience developed during the first year of operations under Ration Order No. 11, indicated the need for changes and revisions. It was found desirable to make certain adjustments in computing heat rations for small private dwellings. Ration banking was introduced for primary suppliers and certain dealers and consumers requiring large quantities of oil. Deliveries on "ration credit" were deemed necessary in the trade and in the case of ration banking consumers.

These and many other changes were incorporated in Ration Order No. 11 by a large number of amendments. It is therefore desirable to issue a revised order which will incorporate all current provisions in one document and omit obsolete material.

Accordingly, pursuant to the authority vested in the Administrator by Executive Order No. 9125, issued by the President, on April 1, 1942, and by Directive No. 1 and Supplementary Directive No. 1–O, as amended, of the War Production Board, issued on January 24, 1942 and March 10, 1943, respectively, Ration Order No. 11 is revised and reissued as Revised Ration Order 11 to read as set forth herein.

AUTHORITY: Pub. Law 671, 76th Cong., as amended by Pub. Laws 89 and 507, 77th Cong., Pub. Law 421, 77th Cong.; WPB Directive No. 1, 7 F.R. 562; Supp. Directive No. 1–O, as amended, 8 F.R. 14199; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719.

DEFINITIONS

§ 1394.5001 Definitions. (a) When used in this order:

(1) "Additional facilities" means any fuel oil burning equipment which was installed subsequent to July 31, 1942, including any space heater, whether or not installed, transferred subsequent to December 19, 1942 (or in Area A transferred subsequent to March 15, 1943, or in Area B transferred subsequent to August 23, 1943). The term does not include internal combustion engines, equipment used for domestic cooking or lighting, nor equipment designed and used for raising and preparing for market crops, poultry, livestock or other agricultural products. The replacement of worn-out parts or the replacement of fuel oil burning equipment for the purpose of increasing the efficiency of the equipment (other than an additional facility) is not an installation of additional facilities.

(2) "Allowable ration" means the number of gallons of fuel oil used as a base for determining the number and value of fuel oil coupons or the value of a fuel oil deposit certificate to be issued to an applicant.

(3) "Alternate fuel" means any fuel other than a petroleum product, electricity, natural gas, manufactured gas, or mixed natural and manufactured gas.

(4) "Base period" means the period from June 1, 1941 to May 31, 1942, inclusive.

(5) "Board" means a War Price and Rationing Board established by the Office of Price Administration.

(6) "Consumer" means any person acquiring fuel oil for use, including use as a component part of any manufactured article, material, or compound other than fuel oil. The term includes dealers and primary suppliers to the extent that they use fuel oil, or acquire fuel oil for use rather than for transfer.

(7) "Converted facilities" means any fuel oil burning equipment which was designed to use an alternate fuel and which has been converted to the use of fuel oil. The term includes any equipment altered or refitted to use an alternate fuel and thereafter converted to the use of fuel oil. The term also includes any fuel oil burning equipment used for furnishing heat or hot water, or both, to premises other than a private dwelling, if by September 24, 1943, substantial work had been done on the equipment to alter or refit it to use an alternate fuel.

(8) "Dealer" means any person (other than a primary supplier) who is engaged in the business of buying and selling fuel oil.

(9) "Depositor" means a person who has a fuel oil ration bank account.

(10) "Domestic," as applied to cooking or lighting, means cooking or lighting in a household for the benefit of the family occupying such household, and not for profit.

(11) "Domestic hot water" means hot water used in a private dwelling for household and lavatory purposes and for cleaning premises; it does not include hot water used as an integral part of any commercial, industrial, agricultural, or extractive process.

(12) "Establishment", when used for ration banking purposes means:

(i) As to a primary supplier, any establishment included in his primary supplier's registration;

(ii) As to a dealer, his place of business as included in his dealer's registration; and

(iii) As to a consumer, each place where fuel oil is used by him.

(13) "Evidence" means a token designated by the Office of Price Administration to represent a right to receive a transfer of fuel oil, and exchangeable for such fuel oil. The term includes coupons, ration checks, acknowledgments of delivery, exchange certificates and export certificates. The term does not include fuel oil deposit certificates (Form OPA R–1170).

(14) "Family" means either one person maintaining a household or two or more persons maintaining a common household.

(15) "Fuel oil" means any liquid petroleum product commonly known as fuel oil, including grades Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6, whether or not blended or rebranded, such as Bunker C, Diesel oil, kerosene, range oil and gas oil. The term also includes any other liquid petroleum product having the same specifications as the above designated grades and used for the same purposes as such grades.

(16) "Heating year" means the period from October 1, 1942, to September 30, 1943, inclusive, which is also sometimes referred to as "the 1942–43 heating year". The term "1943–44 heating year" means the period from October 1, 1943, to September 30, 1944, inclusive.

(17) "House trailer" means any vehicle (whether or not self-propelled) used primarily for residential purposes. The term also includes any railroad car used for residential purposes and not for transporting persons or property.

(18) "Issuing Board" means the War Price and Rationing Board which issued a specified ration.

(19) "Limitation area" means: (i) The states of Connecticut, Delaware, Florida (east of the Apalachicola River), Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, West Virginia, Wisconsin and the District of Columbia;

(ii) The states of Oregon and Washington, designated in this order as "Area A"; and

(iii) That part of the state of Idaho including the counties of Ada, Adams, Benewah, Boise, Bonner, Boundary, Canyon, Clearwater, Elmore, Gem, Kootenai, Idaho, Latah, Lewis, Nez Perce, Owyhee, Payette, Shoshone, Valley and Washington, designated in this order as "Area B".

(20) "Occupation" means business or profession, or gainful work, or work or activity which contributes to the war effort or to the public welfare.

(21) "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, government or government agency, or any other organized group or enterprise.

(22) "Primary supplier" means:

(i) Any person who refines fuel oil within the limitation area; or

(ii) The first person, in point of time, who has possession of fuel oil within the limitation area (other than as a carrier). Two exceptions to this subdivision (ii) appear in subdivisions (iii) and (iv).

(iii) The first person to have possession is not the primary supplier if he is a consumer who takes delivery of the fuel oil on direct shipment from without the limitation area in some way other than by pipeline, barge, tank ship or railroad tank car. Instead, the primary supplier is the person who had possession of the fuel oil (other than as a carrier) immediately prior to its entry into the limitation area.

(iv) The first person to have possession is not the primary supplier if the person from whom he purchased the fuel oil maintains within the limitation area a regular place of business at which the order for the fuel oil was placed. Instead, the primary supplier is the person from whom the purchase is made.

A person who is a primary supplier with regard to any fuel oil received or transferred at an establishment shall be regarded as a primary supplier as to all fuel oil which he receives or transfers at that establishment. A person is a primary supplier as to the establishments maintained by him at which he carries on any operations constituting him a primary supplier, and as to any other establishments which he chooses to register in his primary supplier registration (under paragraph (a) of § 1394.5701), except that if he does not maintain stationary storage facilities within the limitation area, he is a primary supplier as to all mobile facilities operated by him within the limitation area.

(23) "Private dwelling" means a building or structure, including a house trailer, designed for the occupancy of fewer than four (4) families, but does not include a rooming house, boarding house, dormitory, lodging house or hotel in which four (4) or more rooms are regularly rented or available for rental, nor does it include a building in which less than seventy percent (70%) of the total floor space is used for residential purposes.

(24) "Ration," as the context requires, means either a right to use, or to acquire and use fuel oil, evidenced by coupons or fuel oil deposits certificates issued by a Board.

(25) "Ration credits" means the credits in a ration bank account reflecting deposits of fuel oil evidences or fuel oil deposit certificates.

(26) "Space heater" means any fuel oil burning equipment (including portable heaters) designed to heat the space adjacent to such equipment, without the use of pipes or ducts for conveying heat to such space.

(27) "Standby facilities" means equipment (other than fireplaces) in serviceable operating condition designed to use an alternate fuel, for the operation of which a supply of such fuel is available.

(28) "State" includes the District of Columbia.

(29) "Transfer" means to sell, give, exchange, lease, lend, deliver, supply or furnish, and includes the transfer of title by legal process or operation of law, such as, but not limited to, the transfer of title by will, inheritance or foreclosure; it also includes the withdrawal or setting apart for his own use by any dealer or primary supplier of fuel oil held by him but not acquired for use; but does not include the creation of a security interest or security title involving no change of possession. The term also includes the detaching of a coupon by a dealer or primary supplier from a coupon sheet. Delivery to a carrier for shipment, or by a carrier in the course of or in completion of shipment, shall not be deemed a transfer to or by such carrier. Any delivery of fuel oil into stationary storage facilities designated by the Petroleum Administration for War as a terminal to receive principal petroleum products pursuant to Petroleum Directive No. 59 of the Petroleum Administration for War shall be deemed a transfer of fuel oil to the owner or operator of such terminal, and delivery of fuel oil from such terminal to a person other than the owner or operator shall be deemed a transfer of fuel oil by the owner or operator to such person.

(30) "Unit," as applied to a coupon, means the amount of fuel oil, as fixed from time to time, by order or direction of the Office of Price Administration, for which a coupon bearing the imprint "1 unit" may be exchanged.

(31) "Washington Office" means the Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C.

(b) Where the context so requires, words in the singular shall include the plural, words in the plural shall include the singular, and the masculine gender shall include the feminine and neuter.

SCOPE OF REVISED RATION ORDER 11

§ 1394.5052 Scope of restrictions. Nothing in this order shall be construed to limit the quantity of fuel oil which may be acquired:

(a) By or for the account of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, War Shipping Administration, or Maritime Commission, of the United States, or the British Ministry of War Transport, or any official war transport or war shipping agency of any United Nation acquiring fuel oil for any official purpose; or

JURISDICTION OF BOARDS

§ 1394.5101 Jurisdiction of Boards over issuance of rations. For the purposes of this order, a Board shall have jurisdiction over:

(a) Persons who have applied to such Board for a ration, or who have registered with it; and

(b) The issuance of rations:

(1) For the operation of any stationary oil burning machinery or equipment in the area assigned to such Board;

(2) For the operation of any mobile oil burning equipment, including vehicles and watercraft, customarily garaged, stationed or kept in the area assigned to such Board;

(3) For any use, not specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, in the area assigned to such Board;

(4) For the operation of any stationary or mobile oil burning machinery or equipment, customarily used outside the limitation area; or for any other use outside the limitation area;

(5) To any person who shows good cause for failure to make application to the Board having jurisdiction pursuant to the provisions of subparagraphs (1), (2) or (3) of this paragraph; any person applying for a ration pursuant to this subparagraph shall furnish to the Board with which he files his application the address of the Board having jurisdiction pursuant to the provisions of such subparagraphs (1), (2), or (3); and

(c) Other matters specifically provided for in this order.

RESTRICTIONS ON ISSUANCE OF RATIONS

§ 1394.5151 Restrictions on issuance of rations. (a) No ration shall be issued or used:

(1) For the operation of additional facilities or converted facilities unless:

(i) In the case of new construction, the additional facilities were specified in the construction contract and the foundation under the main part of the structure in which the additional facilities were to be installed was completed prior to July 31, 1942; or

(ii) In the case of converted facilities, the conversion was completed prior to July 31, 1942; or

(iii) In the case of either additional or converted facilities, the person using them cannot use an alternate fuel either because it is unavailable or because technical utilization factors prevent its use; or

(iv) The additional facility is a space heater and one of the following facts is established by the applicant:

(a) equipment burning an alternate fuel is not immediately available to replace such space heater. In such case a ration may be issued for the operation of such space heater until the earliest date when such replacement can be made;

(b) the applicant may obtain an additional ration for the operation of a space heater for a purpose specified in § 1394.5342 (a) (1);

(c) such space heater is used to heat the same premises heated by it prior to December 19, 1942, or in Area A prior to March 15, 1943, or in Area B prior to August 24, 1943;

(d) for the purposes of increasing efficiency, such space heater replaces a space heater which is not an additional facility, or which is specified in inferior subdivision (c) of this subdivision (iv);

(e) such heater is used in a house trailer;

(f) the space heater has been acquired pursuant to Ration Order No. 9[1] or Ration Order 9A;[2]

(g) such space heater at the time the applicant acquired it was not "new" as defined by Ration Order No. 9 or Ration Order 9A, and the applicant was eligible for a new space heater pursuant to Ration Order No. 9 or Ration Order 9A;

(2) For the operation of fuel oil burning equipment if standby facilities are available and can be used as a substitute for such equipment, unless such standby facilities are operated in such manner as to take the place of such equipment to the maximum extent and to effect the maximum reduction in fuel oil requirements; the allowable ration for the operation of such equipment shall be reduced by the amount of fuel oil which can be saved by maximum utilization of such standby facilities;

(3) For the operation of fuel oil burning equipment for the purpose of cooling space (other than hospital space) for human occupancy;

(4) For furnishing heat or hot water to premises to the extent that such premises are supplied with heat or hot water as a by-product of an industrial process or of the production of power;

(5) For the operation of any space heater in premises adequately served by central heating facilities, except as otherwise provided in this order;

(6) For the operation of a private passenger automobile, as defined in General Order No. 21 of the Office of Defense Transportation;

(7) For the operation of coal spraying equipment with fuel oil other than grade No. 5 or No. 6 or Bunker "C" having an A. P. I. (American Petroleum Institute) gravity of 20° or below.

(b) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall not apply to equipment with respect to which an exception has been granted by the Petroleum Administration for War pursuant to Petroleum Distribution Order No. 13, as amended.

(c) No ration shall be issued or used for furnishing heat or hot water to premises which are not used for residential or occupational purposes.

§ 1394.5152 District Director must approve certain rations for additional or converted facilities. (a) On and after October 15, 1943, no Board may issue a ration for the operation of any additional or converted facility for the reason that the applicant cannot use an alternate fuel because it is not available or because technical utilization factors prevent its use, unless the OPA District Director has, in writing, approved the application. However, such approval is not required with respect to a space heater, or with respect to any facility as to which the Petroleum Administration for War has granted an exception pursuant to Petroleum Distribution Order No. 13, as amended.

(b) The District Director shall approve the application if he finds that the applicant cannot use an alternate fuel because it is not available or because technical utilization factors prevent its use; otherwise he shall disapprove, and the Board shall deny, the application.

(c) Regardless of paragraph (a) of this section, in the case of extreme hardship, a ration may be issued for the operation of the facility until the application can be acted on by the District Director. If the application is denied, a ration may be issued until the earliest date the equipment can be altered or refitted to use an alternate fuel. The total of any interim rations granted under this paragraph to any applicant shall not exceed 10% of the allowable ration for the full 1943–44 heating year.

NOTE: Provisions of Ration Order No. 11, before revision, for the 1942–43 heating year, and for the 1943–44 heating year for consumers who applied on or before November 30, 1943 ("renewal rations" and "new applicants") are contained in Appendix A to this order.

[2] 8 F.R. 11564, 12749, 14049, 15254; 9 F.R. 92, 849, 908.

§ 1394.5315 Who is a late applicant. A late applicant is a person who applies after November 30, 1943 for a ration for the 1943–44 heating year for the operation of fuel oil burning equipment designed for, and furnishing, heat or domestic hot water, or both, to all or part of any premises. The late applicant must be the person controlling the use of the equipment, but he may authorize someone to make the application for him.

§ 1394.5316 How a late applicant applies for a ration—(a) What form must be used. The late applicant who needs a ration for use in a private dwelling, or for use in any other residential premises furnished with heat or domestic hot water (or both) by means of one or more space heaters or units of cooking equipment, must apply to his Board on Form OPA R–1100 (Revised). All other late applicants must apply to their Boards on Form OPA R–1101 (Revised).

(b) Previous ration holder's name to be given. The late applicant must, except for good cause shown, submit with his application the name of the person to whom a heat or domestic hot water ration for the premises was issued for the 1942–43 heating year.

(c) Number of applications which may be made. (1) A separate application must be made for each unit of fuel oil burning equipment serving the premises and the application shall cover only the part of the premises served by such unit, except that if two or more units of equipment serving a single building are under common control, a single application must be made for all such units.

(2) If two or more persons are entitled to apply for a ration for the same unit of fuel oil burning equipment, application may be made by either of such persons, or by all jointly.

§ 1394.5317 How the late applicant's heat ration for a private dwelling using central heating equipment is figured. (a) The late applicant's ration for heating a private dwelling by means of central heating equipment for the balance of the 1943–44 heating year shall be figured as follows:

(1) The amount of the annual ration for the 1943–44 heating year shall first be determined by multiplying the amount of fuel oil consumed in heating the dwelling during the base period (adjusted to normal according to section 4 (c) of Appendix A) by two-thirds (⅔). (The amount of fuel oil consumed in heating the dwelling during the base period, that is, from June 1, 1941 through May 31, 1942, is the amount determined by the Board to have been consumed when it figured the ration for the 1942–43 heating year, and the late applicant need not furnish any information concerning such consumption.) However:

(i) If ⅔s of such fuel oil consumption is more than the maximum of the range for heating the dwelling, the annual ration shall be the maximum of that range (the range is figured according to section 5 of appendix A); or

(ii) If ⅔s of such fuel oil consumption is less than the minimum of the range for heating the dwelling, the annual ration shall be either that minimum or 85% of such past consumption, whichever is less; or

(iii) If the fuel oil consumption during the base period was not determined by the Board for the purpose of figuring the ration for the 1942–43 heating year, or if such consumption was then found to be not representative of normal fuel oil requirements for heating the dwelling, or if the amount of the allowable ration for heating the dwelling during the 1942–43 heating year is not available, the annual ration shall be the midpoint of the range.

(2) If the dwelling is regularly occupied by one or more children under four (4) years of age, the annual ration shall be increased by:

(i) 125 gallons, in Zones A–1, A–2 and A–3;

(ii) 100 gallons, in Zones B–1, B–2 and B–3;

(iii) 75 gallons, in Zones C–1, C–2 and C–3;

(iv) 50 gallons, in Zone D.

(3) The late applicant's heat ration shall be the amount of the annual ration for the 1943–44 heating year multiplied by the appropriate percentage figure determined from Table VIII (§ 1394.5851 (f)). The appropriate percentage is shown opposite the date of application listed under the weather station nearest the Board. If the date of application is not listed, the appropriate percentage is determined by the Board from the two dates between which the date of application falls.

§ 1394.5318 How the late applicant's hot water ration for a private dwelling (other than a house trailer) is figured. (a) The late applicant's ration for domestic hot water in a private dwelling (other than a house trailer) for the part of the 1943–44 heating year during which it is needed shall be figured as follows:

(1) Central heating equipment. Where the hot water is furnished by means of central heating equipment, the ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the figure obtained by adding twenty (20) gallons for the first person plus five (5) gallons for each additional person regularly occupying the dwelling, and multiplying that sum by the number of months for which the ration is needed.

(2) Separate water heating equipment. Where the hot water is furnished by means of separate water heating equipment, the ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the applicant's normal requirements for the purpose, but not more than two-thirds (⅔) of the figure obtained by adding twenty (20) gallons for the first person plus five (5) gallons for each additional person regularly occupying the dwelling, and multiplying that sum by the number of months for which the ration is needed.

(3) Space heaters and cooking equipment. Where the hot water is furnished by means of an attachment to a space heater or to cooking equipment, the ration for hot water furnished by each such unit of equipment shall be the figure obtained by multiplying ten (10) gallons by the number of months for which the ration is needed. (No ration may be issued for domestic hot water furnished by means of a space heater or cooking equipment unless it is equipped with a water heating attachment.)

§ 1394.5319 How the late applicant's heat ration for all residential premises (other than a house trailer) using space heaters is figured. (a) The late applicant's ration for heating any residential premises (other than a house trailer) by means of one or more space heaters for the balance of the 1943–44 heating year shall be figured as follows:

(1) The amount of the annual ration for the 1943–44 heating year shall first be determined by multiplying the amount of fuel oil needed to meet the applicant's normal heating requirements for the premises by two-thirds (⅔). However, the annual ration may not be more than the maximum of the range (figured according to section 5 of Appendix A).

(2) If the premises are regularly occupied by any child under four (4) years of age, the annual ration shall be increased by an amount determined by the Board to be needed for that reason, but not in excess of the amount specified in § 1394.5317 (a) (2) (children's allowance) for the zone in which the premises are located.

(3) The late applicant's heat ration shall be the amount of the annual ration for the 1943–44 heating year multiplied by the appropriate percentage figure determined from Table VIII (§ 1394.5851 (f)). The appropriate percentage is shown opposite the date of application listed under the weather station nearest the Board. If the date of application is not listed, the appropriate percentage is determined by the Board from the two dates between which the date of application falls.

(i) If the ration is required for a space heater which is also designed and used for domestic cooking, the heating ration shall be subject to the maximum specified in § 1394.5353 (c).

§ 1394.5320 How the late applicant's hot water rdtion is figured for residential premises (other than a private dwelling) using space heaters or cooking equipment. (a) The late applicant's ration for the balance of the 1943–44 heating year for domestic hot water in residential premises (other than a private dwelling), furnished by means of an attachment to a space heater or to cooking equipment, shall be, for each such unit of equipment, the figure obtained by multiplying ten (10) gallons by the number of months for which the ration is needed.

§ 1394.5321 How the late applicant's heat or hot water ration for a house trailer is figured—(a) Heat. The late applicant's ration for heating a house trailer by means of a space heater for the balance of the 1943–44 heating year shall be figured as follows:

(1) The amount of the annual ration for the 1943–44 heating year shall first be determined: this is the amount of fuel oil the applicant needs for the purpose but not more than twice the maximum of the range (figured according to section 5 of Appendix A).

(2) The late applicant's heat ration shall be the amount of the annual ration for the 1943–44 heating year multiplied by the appropriate percentage figure determined from Table VIII (§ 1394.5851 (f)). The appropriate percentage is shown opposite the date of application listed under the weather station nearest the Board. If the date of application is not listed, the appropriate percentage is determined by the Board from the two dates between which the date of application falls.

(i) If the ration is required for a space heater which is also designed and used for domestic cooking, the heating ration shall be subject to the maximum specified in § 1394.5353 (c).

(b) Hot water. The late applicant's ration for domestic hot water for the balance of the heating year in a house trailer furnished by means of separate water heating equipment shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the applicant's normal requirements for the purpose, but not more than two-thirds (⅔) of the figure obtained by adding twenty (20) gallons for the first person plus five (5) gallons for each additional person regularly occupying the trailer and multiplying that sum by the number of months for which the ration for hot water is needed. No ration may be issued for domestic hot water in a house trailer furnished by means of a space heater or cooking equipment, whether or not equipped with a water heating attachment.

§ 1394.5322 How the late applicant's heat or hot water ration is figured for residential premises (other than a private dwelling) using central heating or separate water heating equipment or for non-residential premises using any equipment. (a) The late applicant's ration for furnishing heat or hot water, or both, to residential premises (other than a private dwelling) by means of central heating equipment or separate water heating equipment or to non-residential premises by means of any heating or water heating equipment for the part of the 1943–44 heating year for which it is needed shall be figured as follows:

(1) If fuel oil was used for the purpose during at least the corresponding or equivalent months in the base period, the ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the amount of fuel oil consumed for the purpose (adjusted to normal according to section 9 (c) of Appendix A) during those corresponding or equivalent months.

(2) If fuel oil was not used for the purpose during at least those corresponding or equivalent months in the base period, or if for any reason (other than weather conditions) the fuel oil consumption during the corresponding or equivalent months is not representative of the normal fuel oil requirements for the part of the 1943–44 heating year for which the ration is needed, or if the consumption during such months cannot be determined, the ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the amount of fuel oil needed to meet the late applicant's normal requirements for the purpose during the part of the 1943–44 heating year for which the ration is needed.

§ 1394.5323 How the heat or hot water ration is figured for a late applicant in Washington, Oregon or Idaho who received advanced rations. (a) The ration for heat or hot water, or both, for the late applicant to whom an advance ration for the purpose was issued in Area A or Area B under section 23 of Appendix A shall be figured as follows:

(1) The amount of the annual ration for the 1943–44 heating year shall first be determined according to §§ 1394.5317 to 1394.5322, inclusive, whichever may be applicable.

(2) The amount of the advance ration shall then be deducted from the annual ration so figured. No deduction by use of Table VIII (§ 1394.5851 (f)) shall be made.

§ 1394.5324 What deductions will be made from the late applicant's ration—(a) Where he could not have applied for a renewal. Where the late applicant could not have applied for a renewal ration, under section 11 of Appendix A, the Board shall deduct from the late applicant's ration the amount of fuel oil he has on hand, at the date of application, for the purpose for which the ration is needed.

(b) Where he could have applied for a renewal. In the case of the late applicant who could have applied on or before November 30, 1943, under section 11 of Appendix A, for a renewal of his 1943–44 heating year ration, the Board shall deduct from the ration only the gallonage value of any coupons or delivery receipts issued to him as a ration for ballast purposes (§ 1394.5402).

§ 1394.5325 The late applicant's ration will be issued in coupon sheets or fuel oil deposit certificates—(a) General. Class 3, 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets (Forms OPA R–1107 to OPA R–1110, and OPA R–1137 to OPA R–1166, inclusive) or fuel oil deposit certificates (Form OPA R–1170) will be issued to late applicants as rations for heat or hot water, or both.

(b) When Class 3 coupon sheets will be issued. Class 3 coupon sheets will be issued as a ration where the amount of fuel oil which the late applicant may acquire for heat or both heat and hot water is 300 gallons or less. Class 3 coupon sheets will also be issued as a ration for hot water only except in those cases where fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued under paragraph (d) of this section.

(c) When Class 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets will be issued. Class 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets will be issued as rations for heat or both heat and hot water except in those cases where fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued under paragraph (d) of this section.

(1) All unit value coupons will be issued on the basis of ten (10) gallons per unit.

(2) If the gallonage for which coupons are to be used is not a multiple of the value (at 10 gallons per unit) of the unit value coupons of the coupon sheets to be issued, coupons may be issued to the next highest multiple of the value of such unit value coupons.

(d) When fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued. If the amount of fuel oil which the late applicant may acquire for heat or hot water, or both, for the balance of the 1943–44 heating year is between 20,000 gallons and 50,000 gallons, inclusive, fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued upon request of the applicant. If the amount is more than 50,000 gallons, fuel oil deposit certificates only will be issued.

(1) If the ration is for heat or both heat and hot water, the gallonage value of the first fuel oil deposit certificate issued to the late applicant will be the total ration multiplied by the figure obtained as a result of dividing the number of current coupon validity periods by the number of those periods which have not yet expired. A certificate representing the allocable part of the ration for each subsequent validity period will be issued after the value of the unit value coupons for the period and zone has been fixed. If the value of the Class 4, 5 and 6 unit value coupons for any validity period is changed from ten (10) gallons, a proportionate adjustment will be made in the amount of the fuel oil deposit certificate issued for that period.

(2) If an exemption is granted to a consumer under § 1394.5682 (d) because a bank is not accessible, he will receive coupons instead of fuel oil deposit certificates.

§ 1394.5326 Class 3 coupon sheets—(a) They have fixed value coupons only. Class 3 coupon sheets have coupons of a fixed gallonage value of one (1), five (5), twenty-five (25) and one hundred (100) gallons, respectively.

(b) When these coupons may be used by consumers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a consumer in exchange for a coupon from a Class 3 coupon sheet only during the validity period of the coupon sheet.

(c) When these coupons may be used by dealers and primary suppliers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a dealer or primary supplier in exchange for a coupon from a Class 3 coupon sheet only on and after the first date when the coupon may be used for a transfer of fuel oil to a consumer. (§ 1394.5684 (b) explains when these coupons may be deposited in the ration bank account.)

§ 1394.5327 Class 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets—(a) They have both unit and fixed value coupons. Class 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets have coupons with a value of one (1), five (5) and twenty-five (25) units, respectively, as well as coupons of definite gallonage value.

(b) When and where unit value coupons may be used by consumers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a consumer in exchange for a unit value coupon only during the validity period and in the zone printed on the coupon. (For the 1943–44 heating year the area where fuel oil is rationed is divided into ten (10) zones. The zones are described in § 1394.5330). The periods for each zone, during which these coupons may be used, are as follows:

(1) In Zones A–1, A–3, B–1, B–3, C–1 and C–3:

3—November 30, 1943 to March 18, 1944, inclusive.
4—February 8, 1944 to September 30, 1944, inclusive.
5—February 8, 1944 to September 30, 1944, inclusive.

(c) When unit value coupons may be used by dealers and primary suppliers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a dealer or primary supplier in exchange for a unit value coupon on and after the first date when the coupon may be used for a transfer of fuel oil to a consumer. (§ 1394.5634 (a) explains when these coupons may be deposited in the ration bank account.) The coupon may not be used in any zone for any purpose (as, for example, for obtaining an exchange certificate or for deposit in a ration bank account) after the following dates:

(e) When fixed value coupons may be used by dealers and primary suppliers. Fuel oil may be transferred to a dealer or primary supplier in exchange for a fixed value coupon from a Class 4, 5 or 6 coupon sheet only on and after the first date on which the coupon may be used for a transfer of fuel oil to a consumer, but not after November 30, 1944.

§ 1394.5328 Issuance of ration not to be deemed a waiver of violations of § 1394.5603. The issuance of a ration to a late applicant who was required to apply for a ration for the operation of the equipment in the premises for the 1942–43 heating year or the 1943–44 heating year, and omitted to do so, shall not be deemed a waiver of any violation by him of § 1394.5603.

§ 1394.5329 Application for, determination and issuance of, heat and hot water rations for use outside the limitation area. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order:

(a) Application for a heat or a heat and hot water ration for use outside the limitation area shall be made to the nearest Board in the thermal sub-zone nearest the premises for which the ration is to be used.

(b) The Board shall, in such case, determine the allowable ration and issue coupons or a fuel oil deposit certificate in the same manner as if such premises were located in the thermal sub-zone in which the application is made.

ADDITIONAL RATIONS FOR HEAT AND HOT WATER

§ 1394.5341 How to apply for additional rations—(a) Who may apply for an additional ration. A person who has a current ration for furnishing heat or hot water to any premises may apply for an additional ration if he satisfies the conditions required by one or more of the next six sections.

(b) How application for an additional ration is made. Application for an additional ration must be made to the Board on OPA Form R–1104 (Revised) by the person who has the current ration but he may authorize someone to make the application for him. However, if that form is not available, the applicant must submit to the Board, in person or by mail, a statement, signed by him or by the person authorized to act for him, setting forth:

(1) His name and the address where the ration will be used:

(2) The special conditions which he claims cause him to need more fuel oil, and why his current ration is not enough for this purpose; and

(3) The amount of fuel oil he has on hand, and the total gallonage value of his unused coupons or unused ration credits, for the purpose of furnishing heat or hot water to the premises.

§ 1394.5342 Additional rations when current ration insufficient for specified purposes—(a) Current ration insufficient for specified purposes. An additional ration for heat or hot water may be allowed by the Board if it finds that the current ration is insufficient because the applicant has used, or requires, more fuel oil:

(1) Sick and infirm persons. For the care or treatment of a person who is sick or infirm, or for the examination or treatment of patients in a hospital or sanitorium or in other buildings used for those purposes by a duly licensed physician, surgeon, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, or religious practitioner (other than a minister). However, in the case of premises other than a private dwelling, the additional ration may be allowed only for use in a space heater, unless the building is a hospital, sanitorium or other building primarily used for the care and treatment of the sick or of patients.

(2) Schools, orphanages and homes for the aged. For the care of children under four (4) years of age in a school or orphanage, or for the care of persons in a home for the aged.

(3) Exhibits. For the care or maintenance of exhibits in an aquarium, zoological or botanical garden, art gallery, museum, or similar public establishment, maintained by an educational, charitable or governmental institution.

(4) Process, research and experiment. For conducting an industrial, agricultural or extractive process, or a research or experimental operation, depending upon temperature control.

(5) Public health, safety or war work. For conducting, in non-residential premises, an activity or operation essential to the public health or safety or the war effort, which can be performed efficiently only at a higher temperature.

(b) How the additional ration for these purposes is figured. The additional ration shall be the amount of fuel oil, in addition to the current ration, required to furnish the additional heat or hot water needed.

§ 1394.5343 Additional heat rations for children under 4 years old—(a) When allowed. An additional ration for heating a private dwelling (other than a house trailer) or for heating other residential premises using a space heater may be allowed if the Board finds that one or more children less than 4 years of age regularly occupy the premises and the current heat ration does not include a children's allowance under § 1394.5317 (a) (2) or 1394.5319 (a) (2).

(b) How the additional ration is figured—(1) Central heating equipment in private dwellings. If the ration is for use in central heating equipment in a private dwelling, the additional ration will be the figure found by multiplying the amount specified in section 3 (b) of Appendix A for the zone in which the dwelling is located by the appropriate percentage figure determined from Table VIII (§ 1394.5851 (f)). The appropriate percentage figure is shown opposite the date the occupancy of the child or children began, listed under the weather station nearest the Board. If that date is not listed, the appropriate percentage figure is determined by the Board from the two dates between which that date of first occupancy falls.

(2) Space heaters in any residential premises. If the ration is for use in a space heater in residential premises, the additional ration shall be the amount determined by the Board to be needed because of the occupancy of the child or children under 4 years old, but not more than the amount which would be allowable for central heating equipment.

§ 1394.5344 Additional heat rations in certain residential premises because of increase in space heated—(a) When allowed. An additional ration for heating a private dwelling (other than a house trailer), or for heating other residential premises using a space heater, may be allowed if the Board finds that the floor area regularly used for necessary living and sleeping quarters and occupational purposes has increased over the amount included in figuring the current ration. However, the Board shall not consider any floor area in excess of the amount allowed in section 5 (a) of Appendix A.

(b) How the additional ration is figured. The Board may determine the additional amount needed because of the increase in floor area. However, the amount may not exceed the figure found by taking the difference between the midpoint of the range for the floor area included in figuring the current ration and the midpoint of the range for the increased floor area and by multiplying that difference by the appropriate percentage figure determined from Table VIII (§ 1394.5851 (f)). The appropriate percentage figure is shown opposite the date the increase in floor area occurred, listed under the weather station nearest the Board. If that date is not listed, the appropriate percentage figure is determined by the Board from the two dates between which that date of increase falls.

§ 1394.5345 Additional hot water rations in private dwellings—(a) When allowed. An additional ration for furnishing domestic hot water to a private dwelling by means of equipment other than an attachment to a space heater or to cooking equipment may be allowed if the Board finds that the number of persons regularly occupying the dwelling has increased over the number included in figuring the current ration.

(b) How the additional ration is figured. The additional ration shall be:

(1) In the case of central heating equipment, two-thirds (⅔) of the figure obtained by adding five (5) gallons for each additional person regularly occupying the dwelling, and multiplying that sum by the number of months for which the additional ration is needed.

(2) In the case of separate water heating equipment, the amount determined by the Board to be needed, but not more than the amount which would be allowable for central heating equipment.

§ 1394.5346 Additional heat or hot water rations in premises other than a private dwelling, because of increase in normal requirements—(a) When allowed. An additional ration for furnishing heat or hot water to any premises (other than residential premises using a space heater only or any private dwelling) may be allowed if the Board finds that the applicant's normal requirements for heat or hot water, or both, have substantially increased over the requirements which were the basis for figuring the current ration.

(b) How the additional ration is figured. The additional ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the amount of fuel oil the Board determines to be needed to meet the increase in the applicant's normal requirements.

§ 1394.5347 Additional heat or hot water rations to avoid undue and immediate hardship—(a) When allowed. An additional ration for furnishing heat or hot water to residential premises may be allowed if the Board finds that undue and immediate hardship will be suffered by the applicant because he does not have sufficient fuel oil on hand and unexpired ration evidences or ration credits to meet his current minimum requirements for heat or hot water, or both, and that he has taken all reasonable measures, within the limits of his financial ability, to reduce his consumption of fuel oil. However, an additional ration for this purpose may not be issued until the Regional Administrator has declared, upon receipt of such information from the Washington Office, that there is available in the area where the applicant is located an adequate supply of fuel oil for the purpose. The applicant must include in his statement, in addition to the matters mentioned in § 1394.5341 (b), an explanation of all the efforts he has made to save fuel oil.

(b) How the additional ration is figured. The additional ration shall be the minimum amount of fuel oil the Board determines the applicant needs to avoid the undue hardship.

§ 1394.5348 Issuance of additional rations. (a) After the Board figures the amount of the additional ration, it will issue Class 3 coupon sheets for that amount. However, if the applicant is a depositor for the establishment, the additional ration will be issued in a fuel oil deposit certificate.

DOMESTIC COOKING AND LIGHTING RATIONS

§ 1394.5351 Persons entitled to rations for domestic cooking and lighting. (a) The person controlling the use of fuel oil burning equipment designed and used for domestic cooking or lighting may obtain a ration for such purpose.

§ 1394.5352 Application for ration for domestic cooking and lighting. (a) Application for a ration for the operation of equipment used for domestic cooking (including the cooking of food for canning or preserving) or domestic lighting may be made to a Board on Form OPA R–1103 or Form OPA R–1103A. The applicant shall supply the information required by the form. If the ration required for domestic cooking is entirely or partially for the cooking of food for canning or preserving, the applicant shall state, in addition, the number of hours the equipment will be used, and the amount of fuel oil needed, for such purpose.

(b) A separate application shall be made for each unit of fuel oil burning equipment, except that if two or more units of equipment serve a single family, a single application shall be made for all such units.

(c) Application may be made by the person controlling the use of the equipment, or by his agent. If two or more persons are entitled to apply for a ration for the same unit of equipment, application may be made by either of such persons or by all jointly.

§ 1394.5353 Determination of allowable ration for domestic cooking. (a) The allowable ration for all units of cooking equipment used for domestic cooking (including the cooking of food for canning or preserving) for a single family shall be the amount of fuel oil needed for such purpose during a period not to exceed one year from the date the ration is issued, as the Board shall determine. However, the amount shall not exceed the maximum specified in paragraph (b) or (c) of this section.

(b) The maximum allowable ration for domestic cooking (exclusive of the cooking of food for canning or preserving) shall be thirty (30) gallons per month if not more than seven (7) persons are regularly served by the equipment. If more than seven (7) persons are regularly served, the maximum shall be increased by one (1) gallon per month for each additional person.

(c) If the ration for domestic cooking is required for a space heater, the sum of the allowable ration for cooking and of the allowable ration for heating by means of the space heater, for the part of the 1943–44 heating year for which the rations are needed, shall not exceed whichever of the following is greatest:

(1) The applicant's allowable ration for cooking for the period from the date of application to September 30, 1944; or

(2) His allowable heating ration for the period from the date of application to September 30, 1944; or

(3) The amount his allowable heating ration for the balance of the 1943–44 heating year would be if it were figured at the midpoint of the range for 550 square feet, or at the midpoint of the range for the floor area actually heated if more than 550 square feet is actually heated.

§ 1394.5354 Determination of allowable ration for domestic lighting. (a) The allowable ration for all units of lighting equipment used for domestic lighting for a single family shall be the amount of fuel oil needed for such purpose during a period not to exceed one year from the date the ration is issued, as the Board shall determine. However, the amount shall not exceed the maximum specified in paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) The maximum allowable ration for domestic lighting shall be:

(1) For the months of October to March, inclusive: four (4) gallons per month per person for the first three (3) persons regularly using the equipment, and two (2) gallons per month for each additional person up to seven (7); if more than seven (7) persons regularly use the equipment the maximum shall be increased by one (1) gallon per month for each additional person over seven (7);

(2) For the months of April to September, inclusive: three (3) gallons per month per person for the first three (3) persons regularly using the equipment, and one (1) gallon per month for each additional person up to seven (7); if more than seven (7) persons regularly use the equipment, the maximum shall be increased by one-half (½) gallon per month for each additional person over seven (7).

§ 1394.5355 Issuance of rations for domestic cooking or lighting. (a) After determining the allowable ration for domestic cooking or lighting, the Board will issue Class 3 coupon sheets containing coupons equal in gallonage value to the allowable ration less the amount of fuel oil on hand for the operation of such equipment.

RAILROAD CARS

§ 1394.5391 Heat rations for railroad cars. Notwithstanding any other provision of this order:

(a) The person controlling the use of fuel oil burning equipment used for heating railroad cars (other than those which are house trailers) may obtain a ration for such purpose. Such rations may be obtained for three (3) month periods.

(b) Application for such ration shall be made to a Board on Form OPA R–1102, by the person controlling the use of the equipment, or by his agent. The applicant shall supply the information required by the Form. A single application may be made for all the units of equipment for which a ration is required.

(c) The allowable ration shall be the amount of fuel oil needed for such purpose during the three (3) month period beginning with the date on which the ration is required.

(d) After determining the allowable ration, the Board shall issue Class 3 coupon sheets containing coupons equal in gallonage value to the allowable ration less the amount of fuel oil on hand for the purpose for which the ration is required.

(e) No ration issued pursuant to this section shall be used to heat railroad cars for human occupancy to a temperature in excess of 65 degrees F. except to the extent that:

(1) It is necessary to heat certain cars in a train in excess of 65 degrees F. in order to maintain a minimum temperature of 60 degrees F. in other cars in the train; or

(2) It is impossible, for mechanical reasons, to maintain the temperature below 65 degrees F.

COMMERCIAL MOTOR VEHICLES

§ 1394.5401 Rations for commercial motor vehicles. (a) The person controlling the use of a commercial motor vehicle (as defined in General Order No. 21 of the Office of Defense Transportation) may obtain a ration for the operation of such vehicle. Such rations may be obtained for three (3) month periods.

(b) Application for the operation of a commercial motor vehicle shall be made to a Board on Form OPA R–1102 (or, in the case of a farm vehicle, on Form OPA R–1103) by the person controlling the use of the vehicle or by his agent. The applicant shall supply the information required by the form. A single application may be made for all commercial motor vehicles for which the applicant requires a ration.

(c) The allowable ration for the operation of such vehicle shall be the number of gallons approved in the currently valid Certificate of War Necessity of the Office of Defense Transportation issued for such vehicle for the quarterly period during which the ration is to be used.

(d) After determining the allowable ration, the Board shall issue Class 3 coupon sheets containing coupons equal in gallonage value to the allowable ration less the amount of fuel oil on hand for the operation of such vehicle.

MISCELLANEOUS USES

§ 1394.5402 Rations for miscellaneous uses. (a) The person controlling the use of any fuel oil burning equipment used for a necessary purpose not otherwise specified in this order (or any person requiring fuel oil for any necessary purpose other than the operation of oil burning equipment) may obtain a ration for such purpose.

(b) Application for a ration for a necessary purpose not otherwise specified in this order shall be made to a Board, as follows:

(1) If the ration is needed for any commercial, industrial or governmental purpose, application shall be made on Form OPA R–1102;

(2) If the ration is needed for any domestic, institutional or agricultural purpose, application shall be made on Form OPA R–1103.

(c) The allowable ration for a commercial, industrial or governmental purpose shall be the amount of fuel oil needed for such purpose during the three (3) month period beginning with the date on which the ration is required.

(d) The allowable ration for a domestic, institutional or agricultural purpose shall be the amount of fuel oil needed for such purpose during the six (6) month period beginning with the date on which the ration is required.

(e) The allowable ration during the three (3) month period beginning with the date on which the ration is required for the non-occupational use of a boat or, elsewhere than in Areas A and B, for the occupational use of a boat for pleasure cruising, guiding or fishing parties, or sightseeing shall be not more than one hundred and twenty-five (125) gallons or the number of gallons equal to four (4) times the manufacturer's rated horsepower of the motor or motors propelling the boat, whichever is less.

(f) After determining the allowable ration, the Board shall issue Class 3 coupon sheets containing coupons equal in gallonage value to the allowable ration less the amount of fuel oil on hand for the purpose for which the ration is required. However, no deduction shall be made for fuel oil on hand representing inventory reserve established pursuant to § 1394.5405. (§ 1394.5462 explains when fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued instead of coupon sheets.)

§ 1394.5405 Inventory reserve—(a) Who may establish an inventory reserve. Each consumer who has a ration for a commercial, industrial or governmental purpose provided by §1394.5402 may, upon obtaining approval of the District Director referred to in the next paragraph, establish an inventory reserve if the total capacity of his fuel oil storage facilities for the purpose exceeds one-third of such current ration.

(b) How approval is obtained. Application for approval of an inventory reserve shall be made to the OPA District Director serving the area in which the applicant's Board is located. The applicant shall mail or deliver his letter, in triplicate, setting forth the following:

(1) His name and address;

(2) The amount of his current quarterly ration under § 1394.5402 and the purpose for which it was issued;

(3) The location of the fuel oil storage facilities currently held for use by him for the purpose and the total capacity of such facilities on the date of application;

(4) The unfilled storage capacity of such facilities on that date;

(5) The amount of the largest quarterly ration ever issued to him for the same purpose under § 1394.5402; and

(6) The number and address of his Board.

(c) When application may be granted. If the District Director is satisfied that the applicant meets the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, and that an adequate supply of fuel oil for inventory reserve purposes is available in the area for the applicant, he may grant the application. If the application is granted, the applicant may establish as his inventory reserve the amount specified in paragraph (b) (4) or (b) (5) of this section, whichever is smaller. However, if the amount specified in paragraph (b) (5) is the smaller sum, the District Director may increase the amount of the inventory reserve up to the amount specified in paragraph (b) (4) but in no event to an amount in excess of twice the current ration.

(d) Board to issue coupons. The District Director will forward to the applicant's Board a copy of his determination of the amount of the inventory reserve and of the application. The Board will issue to the applicant coupon sheets or fuel oil deposit certificates equal in gallonage value to the amount of the inventory reserve so determined. Coupon sheets issued as inventory reserve shall expire on June 30, 1944.

(e) Restricted use of reserve. No use may be made by the applicant of any part of the inventory reserve which would result in the consumption of more fuel oil for the purpose referred to in paragraph (b) (2) than the amount of the ration issued to him for such purpose. The Board will report to the District Office the name of any applicant to whom an inventory reserve has been granted and who has failed to comply with this paragraph. The Board will not, without specific approval of the District Director, issue to such applicant coupons or fuel oil deposit certificates to replace any part of the inventory reserve so consumed.

(f) Deduction from further rations. Whenever, pursuant to § 1394.5551, a further ration for the same purpose as the current ration is granted to the applicant, the Board will deduct from the coupons or fuel oil deposit certificates to be issued the amount by which the gallonage value of the fuel oil on hand and ration credits (or, of his unused coupons, if the applicant is not a depositor) for the purpose exceeds the amount of his inventory reserve allowance.

(g) Revocation of reserve. Whenever the District Director deems it to be in the public interest to do so, he may revoke the whole or any part of the amount allowed for inventory reserve. The Board will, in case of revocation, require the surrender of any coupon sheet, or the issuance to it of a ration check, equal in gallonage value to the amount revoked, or deduct the amount from any further ration for the purpose issued to the applicant.

§ 1394.5406 Hot water rations; special cases. (a) The person controlling the use of fuel oil burning equipment designed for, and furnishing, hot water for a purpose directly related to the public health or safety, or as an integral part of a commercial, industrial, agricultural or extractive process (if such equipment is not used for furnishing heat or for furnishing hot water for any other purpose), may obtain a ration for such purpose by applying on form OPA R–1102. No such ration may be obtained for use during the period of validity of any ration issued for the operation of such equipment pursuant to an application made on Form OPA R–1100 (Revised) or Form OPA R–1101 (Revised). Such ration may be obtained for three (3) month periods.

(b) The allowable ration for the operation of such equipment shall be the amount of fuel oil needed for such purpose for the three (3) month period beginning with the date on which the ration is required.

(c) After determining the allowable ration, the Board shall issue Class 3 coupon sheets containing coupons equal in gallonage value to the allowable ration less the amount of fuel oil on hand for the operation of such equipment.

§ 1394.5407 Rations for vendors of heat and hot water. (a) The person controlling the use of fuel oil burning equipment designed for and furnishing heat or hot water, or both (by means of live steam or otherwise), to a building or structure (other than the one in which such equipment is located) which is not controlled by him, may obtain a ration for the operation of such equipment for such purpose for the part of the 1943–44 heating year during which it is needed.

(b) Application for a ration for such purpose shall be made to a Board on Form OPA R–1102 by the person controlling the use of the equipment, or by his agent. The applicant shall supply the information required by the form.

(c) The allowable ration for the part of the 1943–44 heating year during which it is needed shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the amount of fuel oil consumed for the purpose (adjusted to normal according to paragraph 9 (c) of Appendix A during the corresponding or equivalent months of the base period. If fuel oil was not used for the purpose during at least those corresponding or equivalent months in the base period, or if for any reason (other than weather conditions) the fuel oil consumption during the corresponding or equivalent months in the base period is not representative of the normal fuel oil requirements for the part of the 1943–44 heating year for which the ration is needed, or if the consumption during such months cannot be determined, the ration shall be two-thirds (⅔) of the amount of fuel oil needed to meet the applicant's normal requirements for the purpose during the part of the 1943–44 heating year for which the ration is needed.

(d) After determining the allowable ration, the Board shall issue coupons or a fuel oil deposit certificate in the manner provided in § 1394.5325, subject to the deductions specified in § 1394.5324.

§ 1394.5408 Heat or both heat and hot water emergency facilities. (a) The person controlling the use of fuel oil burning equipment furnishing heat or hot water, or both, during emergency periods in premises where such heat or hot water, or both, is normally furnished by equipment using electricity, natural gas, manufactured gas, or mixed natural and manufactured gas, may obtain a ration for such purpose. An "emergency period" as used in this section is the time during which the equipment using electricity, natural gas, manufactured gas, or mixed natural and manufactured gas cannot be operated because of the temporary cessation of or reduction in the flow of such electric current or gas. Such rations may be obtained for three (3) month periods.

(b) Application for such ration shall be made to a Board on Form OPA R–1102, by the person controlling the use of the equipment, or by his agent.

(c) The allowable ration shall be the amount of fuel oil requested for such purpose during the three (3) month period beginning with the date on which the ration is required: Provided, That the allowable ration shall not exceed the amount used for such purpose during the corresponding period of the preceding year, or the amount needed for ten (10) days, whichever is greater, unless the applicant shows good cause for the excess requested.

(d) After determining the allowable ration, the Board shall issue Class 3 coupon sheets containing coupons equal in gallonage value to the allowable ration less the amount of fuel oil on hand as of the date of the application for the purpose for which the ration is required.

(e) No ration issued pursuant to this section shall be used except during such emergency periods, and during any such period such ration shall not be used to heat such premises to a temperature in excess of sixty-five (65) degrees Fahrenheit except to the extent that it is impossible, for mechanical reasons, to maintain the temperature below sixty-five (65) degrees Fahrenheit.

GENERAL PROVISIONS WITH RESPECT TO ISSUANCE OF RATIONS

§ 1394.5452 Notations on coupon sheets. (a) At the time of issuing a coupon sheet, the Board shall enter thereon the name and address of the person to whom it is issued and the number and kind of coupons issued therewith. The Board shall also enter on such coupon sheet the date on which it becomes valid and the date on which it expires. Such dates shall be, respectively, the first and last day of the period for which the ration is issued. However, the Board need not enter any dates of issuance or expiration on the coupon sheets issued as a ration for domestic cooking or lighting. Where a coupon sheet is issued in exchange for coupons, coupon sheets or other evidences previously issued, the Board shall inscribe the word "Exchange" below the serial number on the coupon sheet so issued.

§ 1394.5454 Acknowledgments of delivery. (a) Acknowledgments of delivery, on Form OPA R–544 (Revised), to be used for the acquisition of fuel oil by or for the account of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, War Shipping Administration, Coast Guard, and Maritime Commission, of the United States, or by the British Ministry of War Transport, or any official war transport or war shipping agency of any United Nation acquiring fuel oil for any official purpose, will be issued by the Washington Office to the Washington headquarters of such agencies. Any such form bearing the signature of an authorized officer, agent or employee of any of such agencies shall be valid as an authorization of transfer of fuel oil to or for the account of such agency by any person to whom it is presented, to the extent of the gallonage thereon stated. In the event that an acknowledgment form is not available, a receipt on an official letterhead of such agency, bearing such authorized signature, and supplying the information required by Form OPA R–544 (Revised), may be used in lieu of such acknowledgment form. Such form or receipt may be used as an evidence for purposes of replenishment.

(b) If any of the information required by Form OPA R–544 (Revised) is military or naval information of a secret character, such information may be omitted.

(c) A Board to which an Acknowledgment of Delivery, or a receipt on an official letterhead executed in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, is delivered pursuant to § 1394.5723, shall cancel such acknowledgment or receipt and forward it to the agency, or in the case of the Army or Navy, to the activity, if any, named thereon.

(d) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, coupon sheets or other evidences may be issued by the Washington Office to the Washington headquarters of the agencies enumerated in paragraph (a) of this section, or to the law enforcement agencies of the United States, for the use of such agencies, or their officers, agents or employees, in the performance of official duties which depend upon secrecy. Application for such coupon sheets or other evidences may be made on the official letterhead of the applicant and shall set forth the class and number of the coupon sheets or other evidences required and the use for which they are intended.

§ 1394.5455 Signature on coupon sheet. (a) An applicant shall sign each coupon sheet issued to him, and no coupon shall be valid until the coupon sheet to which it is attached has been signed as required.

§ 1394.5456 Lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated or wrongfully withheld coupon sheets and fuel oil deposit certificates. (a) If a consumer's coupon sheet is lost, stolen, destroyed, mutilated or wrongfully withheld, the person in whose name it was issued may apply for replacement thereof in the manner provided by Procedural Regulation No. 12.[1] However, where application is made to replace a lost or stolen coupon sheet, the Board, if it finds that extreme hardship will result if the applicant is deprived of the coupon sheet during the period the loss or theft is under investigation, may issue a coupon sheet containing enough coupons to enable the applicant to acquire fuel oil during the period of investigation (but not to exceed thirty (30) days from the date his application was filed).

(b) In the event of the loss, destruction or mutilation of a fuel oil deposit certificate, the person to whom such certificate was issued may apply to the issuing Board for replacement thereof. Such application shall be made in writing, under oath or affirmation, and shall set forth:

(1) The name and address of the applicant;

(2) The date and place of issuance, and, if possible, the serial number of the certificate;

(3) A description of the premises, vehicle, boat, equipment or process for which the certificate was issued; and

(4) A description of the manner and circumstances of the loss, destruction, or mutilation.

(c) If the Board is satisfied that such fuel oil deposit certificate has been lost or destroyed, or so damaged or mutilated as to be rendered unfit for use, it will issue a fuel oil deposit certificate limited to the same gallonage value as the unused certificate sought to be replaced. No person receiving a fuel oil deposit certificate under this paragraph shall use, attempt to use, or permit the use of the original fuel oil deposit certificate. A damaged or mutilated fuel oil deposit certificate shall be surrendered to the Board.

§ 1394.5457 Disposition of found coupon sheets, other evidences or fuel oil deposit certificates. (a) Any person who finds a coupon sheet, coupon or other evidence, delivery receipt, or fuel oil deposit certificate shall within five (5) days surrender it to any Board.

§ 1394.5458 Exchange for currently valid coupons. (a) A person to whom a Class 4, 5 or 6 coupon sheet has been issued, who, because of transportation difficulties, must acquire fuel oil in excess of the amount obtainable by the use of his currently valid coupons, may apply, in writing, to the issuing Board for currently valid coupons in exchange for coupons which have not yet become valid.

(b) If the Board finds that, due to transportation difficulties, it is necessary for the applicant to take delivery of fuel oil in excess of the amount obtainable by the use of his currently valid coupons, it may, in its discretion, issue a coupon sheet containing currently valid coupons to the extent required. It shall detach from the applicant's coupon sheet, coupons not yet valid, equal in number and unit value, to the currently valid coupons issued.

§ 1394.5460 Exchange of indefinite value for definite value coupons. (a) Any consumer may exchange, at the issuing Board, currently valid unit value coupons for definite value coupons, on the basis of the current value of the unit value coupons exchanged.

(b) The Board shall issue a Class 3 coupon sheet containing coupons to the extent required.

(c) The Board shall enter as the expiration date of such coupon sheet, the last date, specified in § 1394.5327, on which the unit value coupons exchanged would be valid for the transfer of fuel oil to a consumer.

§ 1394.5462 When fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued as rations other than for heat or hot water. (a) The issuance of fuel oil deposit certificates to late applicants as rations for heat or hot water for the 1943–44 heating year is covered by § 1394.5325.

(b) If application for a ration is made on Form OPA R–1102 and the amount of fuel oil which the applicant may acquire during any 3 month period is between 5,000 gallons and 12,500 gallons, inclusive, a fuel oil deposit certificate will be issued, instead of coupons, if requested by the applicant. If the amount is more than 12,500 gallons, a fuel oil deposit certificate must be issued.

(c) If application for a ration is made on Form OPA R–1103 or OPA R–1103A and the amount of fuel oil which the applicant may acquire during any 6 month period is between 10,000 gallons and 25,000 gallons, inclusive, a fuel oil deposit certificate will be issued, instead of coupons, if requested by the applicant. If the amount is more than 25,000 gallons, a fuel oil deposit certificate must be issued.

(d) Coupons instead of fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued if an exemption is granted under § 1394.5682 (d).

§ 1394.5463 A depositor may bank all rations for the same establishment. (a) Any applicant for a ration who is already a depositor as to an establishment or to whom a fuel oil deposit certificate has already been issued for an establishment may receive fuel oil deposit certificates, instead of coupons, for any ration to be issued for the same establishment regardless of the amount of the ration to be issued.

EXPIRATION AND REVOCATION OF RATIONS

§ 1394.5501 Expiration of rations and coupon sheets. (a) All rations and coupon sheets shall expire at midnight on the last day of the period for which the ration or coupon sheet was issued.

§ 1394.5502 Same: Cessation of use or change in ownership, control or use. A ration shall expire:

(a) Upon cessation of use for the purpose for which it was issued; or

(b) Upon cessation of use of the fuel oil burning equipment for which it was issued, by the person to whom it was issued; or

(c) Upon change in control over such equipment. However, a ration issued for heat or hot water, or both, for use in any premises, shall not expire upon change in control over the equipment if a member of the family of the person to whom the ration was issued has acquired control over the equipment. In that case, the ration shall be deemed issued to that member of the family.

§ 1394.5503 Surrender of expired coupon sheets—(a) General. No ration may be used and no coupon sheet shall be valid for the transfer of fuel oil to a consumer after the expiration of the ration or the coupon sheet. However, if an application for any of the following rations has been made (pursuant to § 1394.5551), the applicant may continue to use his current ration until the further ration is issued, but not more than fifteen (15) days after the expiration date:

(1) Hot water rations for special cases, covered by § 1394.5406;

(2) Rations for vendors of heat and hot water, covered by § 1394.5407; or

(3) Rations other than for heat or hot water.

(b) Rations for use in private dwellings. (1) Coupon sheets issued as rations for heat or hot water, or both, for use in private dwellings, shall upon expiration of the ration be surrendered as follows:

(i) Where a ration issued to the owner of the premises expires because he ceases to use the equipment (and no other person has acquired control over the equipment), the coupon sheet shall be surrendered to the issuing Board within twenty (20) days after the expiration.

(ii) Where a ration issued to the owner of the premises expires because a new owner acquires control over the equipment, the former owner shall, at the time of the change in control, surrender the coupon sheet to the new owner. The new owner shall demand the coupon sheet from the former owner.

(iii) Where a ration issued to a person other than the owner of the premises expires because he ceases to use the equipment or because of a change in control over the equipment, the coupon sheet shall immediately be surrendered to the owner of the premises. The owner of the premises shall demand the coupon sheet from such person.

(2) If the person required to surrender a coupon sheet is unable to surrender it to the proper person, he shall surrender it to the issuing Board within twenty (20) days after the expiration. If the person required to demand the coupon sheet is unable to obtain it, he shall immediately notify the issuing Board.

(c) Rations for other uses. Coupon sheets issued to a person for any other ration shall be surrendered to the Board by him within twenty (20) days after the ration expires.

§ 1394.5504 Application for continuation of ration on change of control. (a) If a ration has expired because of a change in control over fuel oil burning equipment furnishing heat or hot water, or both, to any premises, but there is no change in the occupancy of the premises, the person acquiring control (or his agent) may apply to the issuing Board for a continuation of the ration. He may not obtain a ration (other than an additional ration) for the operation of the equipment during the balance of the period for which the expired ration was issued, except in the manner provided in this section.

(b) An application pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall be made in writing and shall set forth:

(1) The name and address of the applicant;

(2) The address of the premises served by the equipment;

(3) The date on which the applicant acquired control over the equipment;

(4) The name of the person from whom he acquired such control;

(5) A certification that such change in control did not involve a change in the occupancy of the premises; and

(6) A request that the expired ration be continued and issued to him.

§ 1394.5505 Issuance of continuation of ration. (a) Upon application for a continuation of a ration pursuant to § 1394.5504, the Board shall issue to the applicant coupon sheets containing the same number and kind of coupons as were contained on the expired coupon sheets at the time of expiration.

(b) After such issuance, the applicant may use any fuel oil in the fuel supply tank of such equipment, or in a storage tank or other container maintained for supplying such equipment, without any further surrender of coupons.

§ 1394.5506 Issuance of new rations. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this order, a transferee of any fuel oil burning equipment shall be required to make a new application for a ration therefor, on his own behalf, in the same manner as an original application. However, a transferee may not obtain a ration unless a transfer in good faith is involved.

§ 1394.5507 Coupons and other evidences are property of Office of Price Administration; summary revocations. (a) All coupon sheets, coupons, acknowledgments of delivery, inventory coupons, exchange certificates, export certificates, ration checks, fuel oil deposit certificates, and delivery receipts shall be and remain, when issued, the property of the Office of Price Administration. The Washington Office may, whenever it deems it to be in the public interest to do so, revoke, withhold the use of, or refuse to issue any ration, and may require the surrender and return of any coupon sheet, coupon, acknowledgment of delivery, inventory coupon, exchange certificate, export certificate, ration check, fuel oil deposit certificate, or delivery receipt.

(b) Upon certification by the Office of Defense Transportation, or any authorized representative thereof, that any person to whom a ration has been issued has been found by it to have violated an order of that office, and upon recommendation by such office that the ration, or any part thereof, issued to such person be revoked, the Washington Office, or the Regional Administrator, District Director, or Board having jurisdiction, will revoke the ration or such part thereof.

(c) Upon recommendation by the Petroleum Administration for War, or any authorized representative thereof, that fuel oil be denied to any person for the operation of fuel oil burning equipment (other than equipment furnishing heat or hot water to any building or structure) for the reason that such equipment can be converted to the use of a fuel other than fuel oil, the Washington Office, or the Regional Administrator, District Director, or Board having jurisdiction, will revoke any ration issued, or withhold the issuance of any ration, to such person for such use.

(d) Any ration issued to a person not entitled thereto on the basis of the facts stated in the application, may be revoked by the issuing Board, and the Board may order that any coupon sheets or fuel oil deposit certificates issued therefor be surrendered. The Board will issue such ration as it finds him entitled to receive, pursuant to the provisions of this order, in place of the ration revoked.

(e) The ration of any person who willfully causes the destruction or impairment of the use of equipment, or any parts thereof, designed to use an alternate fuel, for the purpose of obtaining such ration, may at any time be revoked.

§ 1394.5508 Authority of regional administrators and district directors to cancel and require the surrender of rations. (a) The several Regional Administrators of the Office of Price Administration within their respective regions, and such District Director as may be designated by the Regional Administrators for that purpose, are, except where an administrative suspension order may be obtained in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 4,[8] authorized to determine whether any ration holder was entitled to receive the ration issued to him.

(b) In any case where a District Director or Regional Administrator is authorized pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section to review or redetermine the right of any ration holder to receive or retain any ration, such officer shall receive and consider any evidence presented by the holder of the ration and may require him to appear for examination and to produce such witnesses or evidence as the officer may deem material. If the officer determines that the ration holder was not entitled to receive or is not entitled to retain the ration issued to him, the officer may order that any coupons or other evidences or delivery receipts be cancelled and surrendered. Within forty-eight (48) hours of receiving notice requiring the surrender of any coupons or other evidences or delivery receipts pursuant to such review or redetermination, the person holding the coupons or other evidences or delivery receipts shall surrender them pursuant to such notice. Any person may appeal from an adverse decision upon such review or redetermination pursuant to Procedural Regulation No. 9.[8]

ISSUANCE OF FURTHER RATIONS

§ 1394.5551 Further rations for use after expiration date of current rations. (a) At any time within thirty (30) days prior to the expiration date of any ration, or at any time thereafter, application for a further ration may be made. This section does not apply to rations for heat or hot water, or both, except rations under §§ 1394.5406 and 1394.5407.

(b) An application for a further ration for use upon or after expiration of the current ration shall be made and passed upon in the same manner as an original application. (Paragraph (d) of this section gives separate rules for domestic cooking or lighting rations.)

(1) Where an application for a further ration is made prior to the expiration of a ration for a commercial, industrial or governmental purpose, or for the use of a boat, under § 1394.5402, or for hot water only under § 1394.5406, the further ration shall be determined for the three (3) month period beginning with the date of the application, and the coupon sheets shall be validated, or a fuel oil deposit certificate shall be issued, for the period beginning upon the expiration of the current ration and expiring three (3) months from the date of application.

(2) Where an application for a further ration is made prior to the expiration of a ration for a domestic, institutional or agricultural purpose under § 1394.5402, the further ration shall be determined for the six (6) month period beginning with the date of the application, and the coupon sheets shall be validated, or a fuel oil deposit certificate shall be issued, for the period beginning upon the expiration of the current ration and expiring six (6) months from the date of application.

(3) Where an application for a further ration is made prior to the expiration of a ration issued to a vendor of heat or hot water under § 1394.5407, the further ration shall be determined and the coupon sheets shall be validated, or a fuel oil deposit certificate shall be issued, for the part of the 1943–44 heating year for which it is needed, in the manner provided in § 1394.5407.

(c) Except as provided in § 1394.5552 and in paragraph (e) of this section, no further ration may be issued for use, or used, prior to the expiration of the current ration.

(d) Application for a further ration for the operation of equipment used for domestic cooking or lighting, for use upon or after the expiration of a current ration, may be made in any of the following methods:

(1) Application may be made to the Board on Form OPA R–1103 or OPA R–1103A. The form may be presented by the applicant in person or sent to the Board by mail. The applicant shall supply the information required by the form.

(2) If there have been no substantial changes since the date of the original application in the applicant's needs for such purpose, or in the equipment for use in which the original ration was issued, and if such original application accurately calculated the applicant's requirements for the original period, application may be made by executing a certification to the foregoing effect upon the application for the original ration.

(e) The person to whom a further ration has been issued pursuant to this section may use such ration during the period of fifteen (15) days prior to the date it becomes valid. However, a further ration for domestic cooking or lighting represented by coupon sheets bearing no dates of issuance may not be issued under this section earlier than fifteen (15) days before the end of the period of the current ration.

§ 1394.5552 Further rations for use prior to expiration date of current rations. (a) A further ration may be obtained for use prior to the original expiration date of the current ration:

(1) Where the current ration has expired pursuant to § 1394.5502; or

(2) Where a current ration for domestic cooking or lighting issued pursuant to § 1394.5355 is insufficient due to an increase in the number of persons served by or using the equipment for which such ration was issued; or

(3) Where, due to a change in circumstances or miscalculation of needs, a current ration issued pursuant to § 1394.5401, 1394.5402 or 1394.5406 fails to meet the applicant's requirements.

(b) Application for such further ration shall be made in the same manner as an application for an original ration. The applicant shall annex to the application a statement showing:

(1) That the current ration is insufficient to meet his needs for more than thirty (30) days from the date of the application; and

(2) The reason or reasons why a further ration will be needed for use prior to the expiration date of the current ration.

(c) If the Board finds that, for one of the reasons specified in paragraph (a) of this section, the current ration is insufficient to meet the applicant's requirements, it may grant a further ration for use prior to the expiration date of the current ration.

(d) All of the provisions of this order applicable to the determination and issuance of an original ration shall apply to the determination and issuance of a further ration pursuant to this section, except as provided in paragraph (e) of this section.

(e) No further ration shall be granted under this section which would permit the applicant to obtain fuel oil in excess of the maximum gallonage to which he would be entitled under §§ 1394.5353, 1394.5354 or § 1394.5402 (e).

(f) When granting a further ration for use prior to the original expiration date of an unexpired current ration, the Board shall redetermine the expiration date of such current ration. Such redetermination shall be based on the Board's estimate of the date on which such current ration will be exhausted. The Board shall thereupon note such redetermined expiration date on the application for such current ration and on the coupon sheet issued therefor. The redetermined date shall be deemed to be the expiration date of such current ration for all the purposes of this order. The further ration shall then become valid on the day following such redetermined expiration date.

§ 1394.5601 Restrictions as to purpose. (a) No person shall use a ration, or permit the use of a ration issued to him, for any purpose other than that for which it was issued.

§ 1394.5602 Rations not transferable. (a) No ration shall be transferred or assigned and no person shall accept such transfer or assignment, except a transfer to a member of the family who retains control of the equipment.

§ 1394.5603 Restrictions on consumption of fuel oil. (a) No person shall consume or use fuel oil unless:

(2) The fuel oil was included in his inventory with respect to which a deduction has been made from his allowable ration;

(3) The fuel oil was brought into the limitation area in the fuel supply tank of a boat, locomotive, tractor, or other self-propelled vehicle and is used for, or in connection with, the operation thereof;

(6) The fuel oil was acquired in exchange for valid coupons or other valid evidences issued for heat or hot water, or both, to the previous ration holder, and he became the holder of the ration pursuant to § 1394.5502 (c);

(7) The fuel oil was acquired in exchange for valid coupons or other valid evidences issued for heat or hot water, or both, to the previous ration holder, and he received from the Board a continuation of the ration, pursuant to §§ 1394.5504 and 1394.5505.

RESTRICTIONS ON TRANSFERS TO AND BY CONSUMERS

§ 1394.5651 Restrictions on transfers to consumers. (a) Notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement, or commitment, regardless when made, no person other than a dealer or primary supplier shall transfer fuel oil to a consumer and no consumer shall accept a transfer of fuel oil from any person other than a dealer or primary supplier. (However, the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard of the United States may transfer fuel oil to consumers, dealers or primary suppliers in the manner provided in § 1394.5664.)

§ 1394.5652 Transfers to consumers. (a) Notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement, or commitment, regardless when made, no dealer or primary supplier shall transfer fuel oil from within or without the limitation area to a consumer within the limitation area, or from within the limitation area to a consumer without the limitation area, and no consumer shall accept such transfer, except in exchange for valid coupons or other valid evidences, in the manner provided in this order.

(b) No consumer who is a primary supplier shall accept a transfer of fuel oil for his own use in excess of the amount for which a ration has been issued to him.

§ 1394.5653 Transfers to consumers in exchange for coupons. Fuel oil may be transferred to consumers (and consumers may accept such transfers) in exchange for coupons attached to Class 3, 4, 5 or 6 coupon sheets under the following conditions:

(a) Transfer may be made only to the person named on the coupon sheet, or to his agent.

(b) The transferor must require presentation of the coupon sheet at the time of the transfer and must, at such time, detach therefrom coupons equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil transferred, except that if delivery is made in the absence of the transferee or his agent, or by common or contract carrier or pipeline, the transferee shall, within seventy-two (72) hours after such transfer, forward the coupon sheet to the transferor and the transferor shall detach therefrom coupons equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil transferred. After detaching such coupons, the transferor shall return the coupon sheet to the transferee.

(1) No dealer or primary supplier shall transfer fuel oil to a consumer (other than an agency specified in § 1394.5454 (a)) except in exchange for coupons equal in gallonage value to the amount of the fuel oil transferred, surrendered at the time of the transfer, if at the time of the transfer the consumer has failed to surrender evidences (or delivery receipts) to the transferor for any previous transfer of fuel oil and more than fifteen (15) days have elapsed since that surrender was required or if the dealer or primary supplier knows or has reasonable cause to believe that at the time of the transfer the consumer has failed to surrender evidences (or delivery receipts) to any other transferor for a previous transfer of fuel oil and more than fifteen (15) days have elapsed since that surrender was required.

(2) No consumer (other than an agency specified in § 1394.5454 (a)) shall accept a transfer of fuel oil from any transferor except in exchange for coupons equal in gallonage value to the amount of the fuel oil transferred, surrendered at the time of the transfer, if at the time of the transfer the consumer has failed to surrender evidences (or delivery receipts) to any transferor for a previous transfer of fuel oil and more than fifteen (15) days have elapsed since that surrender was required.

(c) Transfer may be made only during the period of validity noted on the coupon sheet (or in the case of Class 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets, only during the valid period of the coupon in exchange for which the transfer is to be made) and only in exchange for coupons valid in the thermal zone in which the transfer is made.

(d) No transfer of fuel oil may be made in exchange for a coupon if such coupon was detached from the coupon sheet prior to the transfer.

§ 1394.5654 Deposit of coupon sheets. (a) A consumer may deposit his coupon sheet with the dealer or primary supplier from whom he intends to acquire fuel oil. Transfer against a coupon sheet so deposited may be made only in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.5653 (transfers to consumers in exchange for coupons).

(b) Within forty-eight (48) hours after the expiration of a coupon sheet so deposited (or within forty-eight (48) hours after all coupons on such sheet have been detached in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.5653), the dealer or primary supplier with whom it was deposited shall return such coupon sheet to the consumer who deposited it with him.

(c) A dealer or primary supplier shall return a coupon sheet deposited with him, within forty-eight (48) hours after a request for such return made by the consumer who deposited it.

§ 1394.5655 Transfers to consumers in exchange for acknowledgments of delivery. (a) Transfer may be made to or for the account of any agency specified in § 1394.5454 (a), in exchange for an acknowledgment of delivery, on Form OPA R–544 (Revised), bearing the signature of an authorized officer, agent, or employee of such agency, or in exchange for a receipt issued in lieu of such acknowledgment in accordance with the provisions of § 1394.5454 (a). When fuel oil is transferred to the Army or to the Navy within the limitation area from without the limitation area, the agency receiving such fuel oil shall execute Form OPA R–544 (Revised) with respect to such transfer and shall forward such executed form to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., before the expiration of the calendar month in which such transfer is made or within ten (10) days after such transfer, whichever is shorter.

§ 1394.5657 Transfers for export. (a) Any person (other than a primary supplier) who desires to obtain fuel oil for export to any insular or territorial possession of the United States, or to any foreign country, may execute and submit Part A of an export certificate on Form OPA R–560 (Revised), in duplicate, to any Board. Such certificate shall state the amount of fuel oil required for export, the proposed date and port of exportation and the name and address of the person desiring to export the fuel oil. The Board shall retain the duplicate copy of the certificate and shall endorse and return the original copy to such person. The original copy, bearing the endorsement of the Board, shall constitute an evidence to authorize the transfer of the amount of fuel oil stated thereon: Provided, That such certificate bearing the endorsement of an authorized official of the Federal government or any agency thereof shall be valid without endorsement by a Board, as an evidence to authorize the transfer of fuel oil to such government or agency, for the purpose of export or for the purpose of retransfer by such government or agency for export. If any of the information required by Form OPA R–560 (Revised) is military or naval information of a secret character, it may be omitted.

(b) Within thirty (30) days after submission to, and endorsement of, an export certificate by a Board, the person who procured such endorsement and acquired fuel oil pursuant to such certificate shall submit to the Board which endorsed the certificate, a copy of a shipper's export declaration (Commerce Form 7525) bearing a notation of an authorized customs official to the effect that to the best of his knowledge and belief the amount of fuel oil thereon stated has been exported by such person.

(c) Any dealer who has, after September 30, 1942, exported fuel oil to an insular or territorial possession of the United States or to a foreign country, and who has not acquired such fuel oil pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, may obtain replenishment for the amount of fuel oil so exported by executing and presenting to a Board Part B of an export certificate on form OPA R–560 (Revised) and submitting therewith a copy of a shipper's export declaration (Commerce Form 7525) bearing the notation of an authorized customs official to the effect that to the best of his knowledge and belief the amount of fuel oil thereon stated was so exported by such dealer. The Board, if it is satisfied that fuel oil in the amount stated in such certificate was exported by such dealer, shall endorse such certificate and return it to him and shall retain a copy of the declaration for its files. Such certificate, bearing the endorsement of a Board, shall constitute an evidence to authorize a transfer of the amount of fuel oil stated thereon.

(d) No person acquiring fuel oil pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section may use such fuel oil for any purpose other than for export to an insular or territorial possession of the United States or to a foreign country.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize the export of fuel oil other than in accordance with the laws of the United States and the rules and regulations of the Foreign Economic Administration or of any other department or agency of the United States.

§ 1394.5658 Transfer of vehicle, boat or equipment. (a) Nothing in this order shall be deemed to forbid the transfer of fuel oil actually in the fuel supply tank of a vehicle or boat, or of equipment used for purposes other than furnishing heat or hot water to buildings or structures, in conjunction with a lawful and bona fide transfer of such vehicle, boat or equipment itself; or the consumption by the transferee, in such vehicle, boat or equipment, of fuel oil actually in the fuel supply tank thereof at the time of transfer.

§ 1394.5659 Transfers without exchange of coupons. (a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, nothing in this order shall be deemed to forbid:

(1) Transfers of fuel oil by legal process or by operation of law; or

(2) Transfers of fuel oil in a storage tank or other container maintained by a consumer as part of an enterprise or establishment, or in the fuel supply tank of equipment furnishing heat or hot water to buildings or structures, in conjunction with a lawful and bona fide transfer of such enterprise, establishment or equipment.

(b) Any person to whom a transfer of the character described in paragraph (a) of this section is made, shall forthwith report such transfer and the amount of fuel oil transferred in connection therewith, to the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which such fuel oil is located. Such person, if a dealer or primary supplier, shall surrender to the Board, together with such report, coupons or other evidences (or his certified ration check, if he is a depositor), equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil transferred. Such person, if not a dealer or primary supplier, may either:

(1) Transfer all or any part of such fuel oil in exchange for coupons or other evidences, or a certified ration check, equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil so transferred, and shall immediately surrender such coupons or other evidences, or certified ration check, to the Board for cancellation; or

(2) Consume such fuel oil to the extent of any ration issued to him, for the purpose for which such ration was issued: Provided, That he shall, in such case, surrender to the Board for cancellation, coupons or other evidences (or his certified ration check, if he is a depositor) equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil consumed or to be consumed: And provided further, That if, at the time of transfer, no ration had been issued to such transferee, he need not surrender such coupons, evidences, or certified ration checks to the Board but shall, before consuming such fuel oil, apply for a ration and, in such application, report to the Board as fuel oil on hand, the fuel oil so acquired.

§ 1394.5660 Upstream transfers by consumers. (a) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, nothing in this order shall be deemed to forbid transfers of fuel oil by consumers to dealers or primary suppliers. Any consumer who makes such a transfer shall forthwith report to the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which such fuel oil is located, the date of such transfer, the name and address of the transferor and transferee, and the amount of fuel oil so transferred.

(b) A dealer or primary supplier to whom a transfer of the character described in paragraph (a) of this section is made, shall forthwith report to such Board the date of such transfer, the name and address of the transferor and transferee, and the amount of fuel oil so transferred. He shall surrender to the Board, together with such report, coupons or other evidences (or his certified ration check, if he is a depositor), equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil transferred.

§ 1394.5661 Discrimination in transfers to consumers. (a) No dealer or primary supplier shall discriminate, in the transfer of fuel oil, among consumers entitled to acquire fuel oil under this order. However, a dealer or primary supplier may conform to the provisions of Petroleum Administrative Order No. 1, as amended, of the Petroleum Administration for War.

§ 1394.5662 Rights of parties to contracts for transfer of fuel oil. (a) If the performance of any contract or agreement for the transfer of fuel oil is prevented by this order, no party thereto shall be liable for failure to perform such contract or agreement, except that any person who has received or has had the benefit of any deposit or other consideration on account of such contract shall be liable upon demand to return such deposit or other consideration, or to pay the fair value thereof, in the event that the consideration has been materially altered in condition or cannot be returned.

§ 1394.5663 Transfers of fuel oil from the limitation area to persons outside the limitation area. (a) Notwithstanding the terms of any contract, agreement or commitment, regardless when made, no person shall transfer fuel oil from within the limitation area to any point in the United States without the limitation area, and no person shall accept such transfer. However:

(1) A dealer or primary supplier may transfer fuel oil from within the limitation area to a consumer without the limitation area, in exchange for coupons or other evidences, valid in any thermal zone;

(2) A primary supplier may, upon written authorization of the Petroleum Administration for War, transfer fuel oil from within the limitation area to any person (other than a consumer) without the limitation area. No coupons or other evidences shall be exchanged for such transfers.

§ 1394.5664 Transfers by Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. (a) The Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard of the United States may transfer fuel oil to consumers, dealers or primary suppliers. Such transfers must be in exchange for coupons or other evidences equal in gallonage value to the fuel oil transferred (except in the case of transfers to primary suppliers). The agency transferring the fuel oil shall report on its official letterhead to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Washington Office, on or before the 24th day of each month, the amount of fuel oil transferred during the preceding month to each primary supplier and the amount transferred, respectively, to dealers and consumers and shall (except in the case of transfers to primary suppliers) submit coupons or other evidences equal in gallonage value to the fuel oil so transferred.

(b) A transfer of fuel oil made pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section shall not constitute the Army, Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard a dealer or primary supplier.

§ 1394.5665 Exchange of fuel oil. (a) Nothing in this order shall be deemed to forbid a consumer from transferring fuel oil to a dealer or primary supplier in exchange for an equal quantity of fuel oil of the same grade, and from consuming the fuel oil so acquired: Provided, That the transfers by and to such consumer are made within twenty-four (24) hours of each other.

§ 1394.5667 Unavoidable loss of fuel oil. (a) A consumer who sustains an unavoidable loss, by theft, fire or accident, of fuel oil acquired in accordance with the provisions of this order may apply immediately after the loss occurs, in writing, to the Board which issued a ration to such consumer pursuant to which such fuel oil was acquired, for coupons or if he is a depositor, a fuel oil deposit certificate, for the amount of the fuel oil so lost. The applicant shall state:

(1) The time, manner and circumstances of such loss;

(2) The steps taken to prevent further loss; and

(3) The number of gallons of fuel oil so lost.

(b) If the Board is satisfied that the applicant has sustained an unavoidable loss of fuel oil, by theft, fire or accident, and that the applicant has taken all possible steps (within the limits of his financial ability) to prevent such further loss, it may issue to him Class 3 coupon sheets or, if he is a depositor, a fuel oil deposit certificate, for the amount of fuel oil so lost.

RATION BANKING

§ 1394.5680 What a ration bank account is. (a) A fuel oil ration bank account (for convenience called a "ration bank account") is similar to an ordinary dollar checking account. It is an account opened in a regular commercial bank and coupons, ration checks and other evidences and fuel oil deposit certificates are deposited in the account and ration checks are drawn against it. (General rules for the opening, closing and use of a ration bank account are given in Revised General Ration Order 3A.*)

§ 1394.5681 The number of accounts in one bank or for one establishment is limited. (a) Not more than one account may be opened for any one establishment. (The term "establishment" is explained in § 1394.5001 (a) (12)).

(b) Any primary supplier, dealer or consumer who wishes to open more than one ration bank account for any one establishment or an account for a related activity of an establishment or an account in a bank other than one in which he has a dollar checking account may forward an application to the Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for authority to open such ration book accounts. He must state in his application all the facts he claims show his need for such ration bank accounts.

§ 1394.5682 Who must open a ration bank account—(a) Primary suppliers. Every registered primary supplier must, during the month of July 1943 (or if he applies for registration after July 31, 1943, within 10 days after the date of application), open at least one ration bank account for all the establishments included in each primary supplier registration. He may open a separate account for each establishment or for any group of them included in the same registration.

(b) Dealers. (1) Every registered dealer who during any consecutive 12 month period after June 1, 1942 has sold at least 250,000 gallons of fuel oil must, during the month of July 1943, open at least one ration bank account for all his dealer establishments. If he is not eligible during the month of July 1943, he must open the account within 30 days after he becomes eligible. If he has more than one establishment, he may open a separate account for each or for any group of them; however, no separate account may be opened for any single establishment, or for any group of them, at which less than 250,000 gallons of fuel oil was sold during any consecutive 12 month period after June 1, 1942.

(2) Any person who becomes a registered dealer after October 1, 1942, and who is not required to become a depositor under the preceding paragraph, may, on or after July 1, 1943, open a ration bank account for each one of his dealer establishments, or for any group of them, at which he has sold at least 35,000 gallons of fuel oil during any period of 30 consecutive days. If he opens an account, he must become a depositor as to all his dealer establishments.

(c) Consumers. Every consumer who receives a fuel oil deposit certificate from his Board must, on or after July 1, 1943, open a ration bank account for the establishment. If he receives fuel oil deposit certificates for more than one establishment, he may open a separate account for each establishment or for any group of them. However, no additional account may be opened for an establishment for which the consumer has a dealer or primary supplier account.

(d) Exemptions. If no bank is accessible to a person who is required to open a ration bank account, or if the use of ration banking would impose a hardship upon a dealer, he may obtain an exemption from the requirements of this section from the appropriate District Director.

§ 1394.5683 Where primary suppliers and dealers must deposit evidences—(a) Primary suppliers. Every evidence received by a primary supplier who is a depositor, in exchange for a transfer, or as a refund in connection with a transfer, of fuel oil must be deposited in the ration bank account carried for the establishment at or from which he made the transfer or in the account carried for any establishment included in the same registration.

(b) Dealers. Every evidence received by a dealer who is a depositor, in exchange for a transfer, or as a refund in connection with a transfer, of fuel oil, must be deposited in the ration bank account carried for the establishment at or from which he made the transfer.

§ 1394.5684 When primary suppliers and dealers must deposit evidences. (a) Unit value coupons of Class 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets may be deposited at any time after the date they become valid, but not after the following dates:

* 8 F.R. 11669, 13738.

Coupons numbered:	Last day for deposit
1	February 2, 1944.
2	March 8, 1944.
3	April 12, 1944.
4	October 30, 1944.
5	October 30, 1944.

(b) Definite value coupons (except those from Class 1 or Class 2 coupon sheets) ration checks, exchange certificates, export certificates, and acknowledgments of delivery may be deposited at any time. Inventory coupons (OPA Forms 1111 and 1112) may be deposited on or before, but not after August 31, 1943. Definite value coupons from Class 1 or Class 2 coupon sheets (those printed in red, green, blue, or purple) may be deposited on or before, but not after, November 30, 1943.

(c) No delivery receipts (Form OPA R–1125) or unit value coupons of Class 1 or Class 2 coupon sheets may be deposited in any ration bank account.

(d) A coupon which has not been acquired in exchange for a transfer of fuel oil or which has not become valid may not be deposited in any ration bank account.

§ 1394.5685 Where consumers deposit fuel oil deposit certificates. (a) A consumer must endorse and deposit every fuel oil deposit certificate issued as a ration (and each ration check received as a refund) for a specified establishment in the ration bank account for that establishment.

(b) No coupons or other evidences or delivery receipts (Form OPA R–1125) may be deposited in a consumer's ration bank account.

§ 1394.5686 To whom ration checks may be issued. A depositor may not issue a ration check except to the following persons:

(a) To the person who transfers fuel oil to him, in exchange for the fuel oil transferred.

(b) To a person from whom he has received evidences to make any necessary adjustment between the amount of evidences received and the amount of fuel oil transferred to such person in exchange for such evidences. However, no ration check may be issued to make an adjustment to a consumer who is not a depositor.

(c) To the Office of Price Administration or to any Office or Board thereof.

§ 1394.5687 Issuance of ration checks. (a) Whenever a dealer or primary supplier issues a ration check to the Office of Price Administration or to any Office or Board thereof to accompany a report required by this order, or to any person in exchange for a transfer of fuel oil, the check must be drawn upon the account carried for the establishment included in the report or receiving the transfer, as the case may be, except that a primary supplier may draw his check upon the account carried for any establishment included in the same registration.

(b) A transfer of fuel oil may be made to a consumer who is a depositor in exchange for a ration check issued by the transferee in an amount equal to the fuel oil transferred. The check must be issued at the time of, or at the option of the transferor within seventy-two (72) hours after or within fifteen (15) days in advance of, the transfer, except that where a transfer of 2,000 gallons or more of fuel oil is made to a consumer in a single transportation facility generally used for such purpose, the transferor may, at his option, permit the consumer to issue his check for such fuel oil within a period not exceeding fifteen (15) days after the transfer.

(c) If a transfer is made to a consumer who is a depositor, in the absence of the consumer or his agent, or by common or contract carrier or pipeline, the consumer shall, within seventy-two (72) hours after, or at the option of the transferor within fifteen (15) days in advance of, the transfer, issue a ration check to the transferor for the fuel oil transferred. However, if the transfer is of 2,000 gallons or more in a single transportation facility, the transferor may, at his option, permit the consumer to issue his check for such fuel oil within a period not exceeding 15 days after the transfer.

(d) When a person issues a ration check, he must, in addition to making all other proper entries, indicate on his check stub, check register or similar record, the amount of fuel oil for which it is issued, the address where the fuel oil was delivered, and if he is a consumer the ration against which the check is issued. If the check is issued in advance of the transfer of the fuel oil, the consumer's record shall also show that it was issued in advance of the transfer. Immediately following the receipt of any transfer of fuel oil against that check, he shall note on the record the date and amount of each transfer so received. If the check is issued after the transfer of fuel oil, that record shall also show the date and amount of each transfer for which the check is issued.

(e) A transferor of fuel oil who receives a ration check in advance of the transfer of fuel oil shall not use the check (or if he is a depositor shall not issue a check against the check) so received until he has transferred the fuel oil to his transferee and only to the extent of the fuel oil transferred.

(f) If a transferor permits a consumer to issue a check for a transfer of at least 2000 gallons of fuel oil after the transfer (according to and up to the maximum period permitted by paragraph (b) or (c) of this section), the transferor may, at his option, permit the consumer to include in the check the gallonage value of any fuel oil transferred by the transferor to the consumer between the date on which the transfer of at least 2000 gallons was made and the date on which the issuance of the check for that transfer is required.

§ 1394.5688 Acceptance of ration checks. (a) When a ration check is received by a person who neither is nor is required to be a depositor, he may use it only to acquire fuel oil in the amount for which the check has been drawn. In such case, he must endorse the check and transfer it to the person from whom the fuel oil is acquired.

(b) A ration check may be accepted by a transferor of fuel oil either if it is made payable to him and is drawn by his transferee, or if the transferee is not a depositor, if it is endorsed both by his transferee and the person to whom the check is issued.

§ 1394.5689 When a check must be issued by a consumer who has failed to surrender evidences for previous transfers. (a) No dealer or primary supplier shall transfer fuel oil to a consumer who is a depositor, except in exchange for a ration check or other evidences (equal in gallonage value to the amount of fuel oil transferred), issued at the time of, or at the option of the transferor within fifteen (15) days in advance of, the transfer, if at the time of the transfer the consumer has failed to surrender a ration check or other evidences (or delivery receipts) to the transferor for any previous transfer of fuel oil and more than fifteen (15) days have elapsed since that surrender was required or if the dealer or primary supplier knows or has reasonable cause to believe that at the time of the transfer the consumer has failed to surrender a ration check or other evidences (or delivery receipts) to any other transferor for a previous transfer of fuel oil and more than fifteen (15) days have elapsed since that surrender was required.

(6) Where each dealer is entitled to use a fixed portion of the capacity of the facilities, and the sum of such portions does not exceed the total capacity of such facilities, he shall not apply pursuant to this paragraph but shall apply for registration of his portion as a separate place of business, in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section, and shall attach to his application his statement regarding such use of a fixed portion of the facilities.

(7) Upon receipt of an application for registration pursuant to this paragraph, the Board shall prepare and forward a copy of such application to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Washington Office. Registration certificates shall be issued in accordance with § 1394.5704 (a).

If the applicant was not operating as a dealer or primary supplier on the ration commencement date, his application shall show the fuel oil on hand as of the date he became a dealer or primary supplier. For the purposes of registration under § 1394.5701 and the monthly reports required in § 1394.5731, the term "fuel oil on hand" shall include fuel oil in storage tanks, tank trucks, tank cars delivered to railroad sidings, drums, and mobile or non-mobile containers (but not fuel oil in the fuel supply tank of oil burning equipment). Fuel oil in transit shall be included in the inventory of the person who has title to such fuel oil as at the inventory reporting date.

§ 1394.5703 What constitutes storage capacity. The applicant shall include, as of the ration commencement date (as defined in § 1394.5702), the total gallonage capacity of all stationary fuel oil storage facilities used regularly and solely by him as the owner or lessee under bona fide lease. If the applicant was not operating as a dealer or primary supplier on the ration commencement date, his application shall show the storage capacity as of the date he became a dealer or primary supplier. The capacity of tank trucks, tank wagons, drums or other mobile containers shall be included in the application only if the application does not include stationary storage facilities and if the tank trucks, tank wagons, drums or other mobile containers are used regularly and solely by him as the owner or lessee under bona fide lease.

§ 1394.5704 Issuance of registration certificates—(a) How applications are granted. Upon determining that the information submitted by the applicant on Form OPA R–1116 (Revised) is accurate, the Board, where application for registration is made within the time fixed therefor in § 1394.5701 (a), shall by authorized signature grant the application for registration. In the case of a dealer, the Board shall file the duplicate and return the original to the registrant. In the case of a primary supplier, the Board shall at once mail the original and duplicate to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Washington Office. The Control and Audit Section shall assign a registration number to the applicant and return the original to him and the duplicate to the issuing Board.

The certificate shall be presented at any time when requested by a Board or by an authorized representative of the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1394.5705 Issuance of exchange certificates to dealers at time of registration. (a) The Board shall, at the time of granting the application for registration of a dealer issue to him an exchange certificate in the amount of the difference between the total registered fuel oil storage capacity and the total amount of fuel oil on hand at the establishment or in the facilities registered.

§ 1394.5707 Restriction on transfers. (a) No primary supplier within or without the limitation area, and no dealer within the limitation area, shall transfer fuel oil to a dealer within the limitation area, and no dealer within the limitation area shall accept such transfer, except in exchange (made at, or at the option of the transferor within fifteen (15) days after or within fifteen (15) days in advance of, the time of the actual transfer of the fuel oil) for valid coupons, or for other evidences, equal in gallonage value to the amount of the fuel oil transferred, or (where transfer is regularly made on a temperature adjustment basis) equal in gallonage value to the adjusted amount of fuel oil transferred. In addition, if evidences of a gallonage value equal to the amount of the fuel oil transferred are surrendered at the time of the transfer, the transferor and the transferee shall each note that fact on his copy of the invoice, delivery ticket or other record. If the surrender of evidences is required for the transfer and if evidences of a gallonage value equal to the amount of the fuel oil transferred are not surrendered at the time of the transfer, the transferor and transferee shall also comply with the record requirements of whichever of the following two subparagraphs is applicable.

(2) Additional requirements when evidences are to be surrendered after the transfer. Whenever a dealer or primary supplier does not at or before the time of the transfer surrender evidences of a gallonage value equal to the amount of the fuel oil transferred, the transferor and the transferee shall each, immediately following the transfer, make a record showing the name and address of the transferee and transferor, that evidences of a gallonage value equal to the amount of the fuel oil transferred were not surrendered at the time of transfer, the date and amount of the fuel oil transferred and the place where delivered. Immediately following the surrender of evidences for that transfer, the transferor and the transferee shall each note on the record the date when the evidences were surrendered and the aggregate gallonage value of those evidences. The records required by this subparagraph shall be retained at the place of business of the transferor and transferee for a period of at least two years from the date of the transfer of the fuel oil.

(3) Additional requirements when evidences are surrendered in advance of delivery. Whenever evidences are surrendered by a dealer or primary supplier to a transferor in advance of a transfer of fuel oil, the transferor and the transferee shall each, immediately following the surrender of the evidences, make a record showing the name and address of the transferee and transferor, the aggregate gallonage value of the evidences surrendered, the date of surrender and that they were surrendered in advance of the transfer of the fuel oil. Immediately following any transfer of fuel oil against those evidences, the transferor and the transferee shall each note on the record the date and amount of each transfer made or received against those evidences and the place where delivered. The records required by this subparagraph shall be retained at the place of business of the transferor and transferee for a period of at least two years from the date the evidences are surrendered.

(b) Transfers to consumers. Every dealer and primary supplier shall, immediately following the transfer, make and retain at his place of business for a period of at least two (2) years from the date of transfer, a record of each transfer to a consumer of an amount of fuel oil in excess of ten (10) gallons. Such record shall show the name and address of the consumer, the date of the transfer, the amount of the fuel oil transferred and the place where delivered and whether or not evidences of a gallonage value equal to the amount of the fuel oil transferred are surrendered at the time of the transfer. If evidences of such gallonage value are not surrendered at the time of the transfer, the transferor shall immediately following the surrender of evidences for that transfer, note on the record the date when the evidences were surrendered and the aggregate gallonage value of the evidences surrendered. When a ration check is issued by a consumer in advance of a fuel oil transfer, the transferor's record shall also show the date the check was received, the gallonage value of the check, and that it was issued in advance of the transfer of the fuel oil. Immediately following any transfer of fuel oil against that check, the transferor shall note on the record the date and amount of each transfer made against that check.

(c) Records and devices showing fuel oil on hand. Every dealer and primary supplier shall retain at his place of business for a period of at least two (2) years from the date of his registration, all receipts, invoices, and other records showing the fuel oil on hand at the time of his registration. He shall also keep at his place of business at all times, all records and equipment including charts, tables, tank gauges, measuring tapes, rods and other devices regularly used by him to determine the amount of fuel oil on hand.

(d) Records relating to consumer's past consumption. Each dealer or primary supplier who furnished to a consumer the certification required by § 1394.5253 (a) showing the total amount of fuel oil purchased from such dealer or supplier shall retain at his place of business, for a period of at least two (2) years from the date of such certification, all records on the basis of which such certification was made.

(e) Other records. Further record-keeping requirements to be observed by dealers and primary suppliers are set forth in §§ 1394.5687 (d) (entries on check stubs), 1394.5701 (d) (5) (additional records to be kept by dealers who commingle fuel oil), 1394.5704 (c) (certificate of registration), 1394.5721 (use of gummed sheet), 1394.5722 (summary of coupons), and section 6.4 of Revised General Ration Order 3A (retention of checks, stubs, deposit slips and statements of account—ration banking).

§ 1394.5733 Inspection of records and facilities. (a) All records, reports, forms, accounts, or other documents required by this order to be prepared and kept by any person, and the fuel oil facilities of any person, shall be subject to the inspection of the Office of Price Administration and its employees, and by such other personnel as the Office of Price Administration may designate. Such inspection may be made at the establishment or office of any such person during regular business hours, or, in the case of matters prepared on forms of the Office of Price Administration, at any time and place designated by the Office of Price Administration.

§ 1394.5734 Dealers' accounts must be in balance. (a) Every dealer shall be accountable for all fuel oil, coupons and other evidences, ration credits, delivery receipts and, if he is also a consumer, fuel oil deposit certificates received by him. Coupons and other evidences and delivery receipts received at or for a dealer establishment shall, at all times when the dealer is open to transact business, be retained by him at the establishment for which they were received until such time as they are surrendered pursuant to this order, or, if he is a depositor, the coupons and other evidences and fuel oil deposit certificates may be on deposit in the appropriate ration bank account. No dealer shall have evidences, delivery receipts or ration credits the aggregate gallonage value of which is less than or in excess of the unfilled storage capacity of the storage facilities shown in his current registration certificate, except to the extent that he can account for such excesses or deficits by reason of conditions which are not due to his violations of other provisions of this order. However, in ascertaining whether a dealer's accounts are in balance, fuel oil delivered to him for which he has not yet surrendered evidences, evidences for which he has not yet transferred fuel oil, and the gallonage value of the unused portion of his fuel oil deposit certificates, must not be included.

SAME; NEW REGISTRATIONS

§ 1394.5741 Registration of new or reopened business. (a) Any person, other than a person who is registered as a primary supplier, who opens or reopens, as a dealer, a place of business which is required to be registered under the provisions of § 1394.5701, but which has not been so registered, shall, prior to making or receiving a transfer of fuel oil within the limitation area (or from within to a consumer without the limitation area) register, in the manner provided in §§ 1394.5701 to 1394.5703, inclusive, and shall, if such person is a dealer, receive exchange certificates in the manner provided in § 1394.5705.

(b) Any person who is registered as a primary supplier who opens or reopens, as a primary supplier, a place of business which is required to be registered under the provisions of § 1394.5701 (a), shall register such place of business by forwarding to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., together with the first monthly report (required by § 1394.5731) following the opening or reopening of the place of business, a statement, in duplicate, showing:

(1) The name, firm name and business address of the registrant, and the address of the opened or reopened place of business.

(2) The registration serial number assigned by the Control and Audit Section to the primary supplier registration Form OPA R–1116 or R–1116 (Revised) to which the statement will constitute an amendment.

(3) The date and time of the opening or reopening of the place of business.

(4) The storage capacity of, and the inventory on hand at, the place of business at the time of opening or reopening.

(5) The facts which constitute the registrant a primary supplier at the opened or reopened place of business.

The registrant shall forward a triplicate copy of the statement to the Board at which he filed his original registration application. The signature of the Chief of the Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, at the Washington Office, on such statement shall constitute a registration of the place of business and shall constitute the statement a part of the original registration certificate (Form OPA R–1116 or R–1116 (Revised)). The original of the statement will be returned by the Control and Audit Section to the registrant and he shall attach it to his original registration certificate.

§ 1394.5742 Dealer who becomes primary supplier. (a) Any dealer within the limitation area who becomes a primary supplier as to any place of business shall forthwith deliver to the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which such place of business is located, his certificate of registration, and coupons and other evidences (and delivery receipts), or if he is a depositor, his certified ration check, equal in gallonage value to the total unfilled capacity of his fuel oil storage facilities, and shall thereupon apply for registration as a primary supplier in the manner provided by § 1394.5701 (a), or § 1394.5741 (b), as the case may be.

§ 1394.5743 Transfer of entire business. (a) If the entire place of business of any primary supplier is transferred, the transferee may acquire the fuel oil inventory of the transferor without the surrender of coupons or other evidences. The transferee shall obtain, and the transferor shall furnish, the certificate of registration in which such place of business is included, and the transferee shall then endorse such certificate at the office of the Board which issued it, specifying in such endorsement the place of business or facilities transferred and the fuel oil on hand at the time of such transfer. The endorsement shall constitute a certification by the endorser that he has acquired from the transferor the place of business and the amount of fuel oil specified in such endorsement. The Board shall forward such endorsed certificate to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Washington Office. The transferor shall submit to the Control and Audit Section, together with his monthly report to such Section for the period during which the transfer of the place of business was made, certified ration checks (or, if he is not a depositor, exchange certificates), representing all coupons and other evidences which he is required to submit with respect to such place of business, but has not yet submitted, pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.5731. The transferor shall, if he continues as a primary supplier with respect to any place of business included in the endorsed certificate of registration, re-register such place of business, with any Board, in the manner provided in §§ 1394.5701 to 1394.5703, inclusive.

(b) If the entire place of business of any dealer is transferred, the transferee of the business may acquire the fuel oil inventory of the transferor without the surrender of coupons or other evidences. The transferee of such place of business shall obtain, and the transferor shall furnish, the certificate of registration of such place of business, and valid coupons or other evidences in an amount equal to the fuel oil storage capacity unfilled at the time of the transfer of such place of business. The transferee shall then endorse, at the office of the Board having jurisdiction over the area in which such place of business is located, the original certificate of registration and the duplicate on file at the Board, and the Board shall retain the original and the duplicate on file. Such endorsement shall constitute a certification by the endorser that he has acquired from the transferor the place of business registered in the certificate and fuel oil stocks, plus coupons or other evidences, together equal in gallonage value to the total fuel oil storage capacity of the place of business transferred. If the transferee registers as a primary supplier with respect to such place of business, he shall surrender to the Board all the coupons and other evidences received from the transferor.

(c) The transferee of a place of business shall, after complying with the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, register, on Form OPA R–1116 (Revised), in the manner required by § 1394.5701: Provided, That a transferee who registers as a primary supplier at the transferred place of business shall, if he is already registered as a primary supplier, register such place of business by forwarding to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., together with the first monthly report (required by § 1394.5731) following the transfer of the place of business to the registrant, a statement, in duplicate showing:

(1) The name, firm name and business address of the registrant, and the address of the place of business transferred.

(2) The registration serial number assigned by the Control and Audit Section to the primary supplier registration Form OPA R–1116 or R–1116 (Revised) to which the statement will constitute an amendment.

(3) The date and time of the opening of business at the place of business transferred.

(4) The storage capacity of, and the inventory on hand at, the place of business at the time of its opening.

(5) The facts which constitute the registrant a primary supplier at the transferred place of business.

The registrant shall send a triplicate copy of the statement to the Board at which he filed his original registration application. The registration shall be effected in the manner provided in § 1394.5741 (b). No exchange certificates shall be issued to a transferee of a place of business unless the transferee registers as a dealer at a place of business transferred to him from a primary supplier.

§ 1394.5744 Cessation of business as a dealer. (a) Any dealer who disposes of his stocks of fuel oil and terminates his operations as to any place of business without transferring such business to another person for continued operation, shall, at the time of final closing, surrender the original certificate of registration, together with coupons or other evidences equal in gallonage value to the total capacity of the fuel oil storage facilities registered for such place of business, to the Board having jurisdiction over the area where it is located.

§ 1394.5745 Cessation of business as a primary supplier. (a) Any primary supplier who ceases to be a primary supplier at any place of business registered by him shall, immediately after such cessation, surrender to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for cancellation, the registration certificate in which such place of business was included, and he shall notify the Board at which he filed his registration application of such surrender. If, however, he continues in business as a primary supplier at any other place of business as to which he is registered as a primary supplier, he shall request the cancellation of his registration of the place of business at which he has ceased to do business as a primary supplier by forwarding to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., together with his next monthly report after the termination of operations as a primary supplier at the place of business, a statement, in duplicate, showing:

(1) The name, firm name and business address of the registrant and the address of the place of business at which he has ceased to do business as a primary supplier.

(2) The registration serial number assigned by the Control and Audit Section to the primary supplier registration Form OPA R–1116 or R–1116 (Revised) to which the statement will constitute an amendment.

(3) The date and time of the cessation of business as a primary supplier at the place of business.

(4) The storage capacity of, and the inventory on hand at, the place of business at the time of cessation of business as a primary supplier.

The registrant shall forward a triplicate copy of such statement to the Board at which he filed his original registration application. The cancellation of registration shall be effected in the same manner as registration is effected in § 1394.5741 (b). If the primary supplier terminates operations as a primary supplier at all places of business included in his registration certificate, he shall submit to the Control and Audit Section, together with his monthly report to such Section for the period in which he terminated operations, a certified ration check (or, if he is not a depositor, an exchange certificate) representing all coupons and other evidences which he is required, pursuant to the provisions of § 1394.5731, to submit with respect to such place of business, but has not yet submitted.

(b) Any primary supplier who ceases to be a primary supplier as to any place of business registered by him, but who continues in the business of transferring fuel oil at such place of business, shall, in addition to complying with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, register as a dealer with respect to such place of business, pursuant to § 1394.5701 (b), and shall receive exchange certificates therefor pursuant to § 1394.5705.

§ 1394.5746 Change of storage capacity. (a) A dealer shall surrender his certificate of registration for cancellation to the Board which issued it and shall obtain a new certificate of registration in the manner provided by §§ 1394.5701 to 1394.5705, inclusive, if he:

(1) Converts his stationary fuel oil storage facilities or, if he has no stationary storage facilities, his mobile facilities to the storage of a product other than fuel oil;

(2) Leases such facilities or any portion thereof to any other person;

(3) Discontinues making regular withdrawals from such facilities or discontinues the use of the facilities entirely; or

APPENDIX A—PROVISIONS OF RATION ORDER NO. 11 (BEFORE REVISION) WHICH WERE USED TO DETERMINE CERTAIN RATIONS FOR HEAT OR HOT WATER, OR BOTH, FOR THE 1942–43 AND 1943–44 HEATING YEARS.

1. Application for rations for heat and hot water; establishment of consumption during base period (Former § 1394.5253). (a) An applicant for a ration for heat or for heat and hot water in any premises, other than a house trailer, or for hot water in premises other than a private dwelling, shall establish fuel oil consumption in the premises for such purpose during the base period. He shall, except for good cause shown, obtain from each dealer or supplier from whom fuel oil was purchased for such use during the base period, a certification showing the total amount of fuel oil purchased from such dealer or supplier during the base period for the equipment for which the application is made, except that in "Area A" or in "Area B", if such dealer or supplier cannot, for good cause shown, furnish such certification for the base period, the applicant may obtain from such dealer or supplier a certification of purchases made during the nearest consecutive twelve (12) months period subsequent to the commencement date of the base period. A certification from each such dealer or supplier shall be annexed to and submitted with the application: Provided, That such certification shall not be required if the ration applied for is to be used in a portable space heater.

2. Same; determination of fuel oil consumption for heat and hot water during base period (Former § 1394.5254). (a) The amount of fuel oil (if any) actually consumed during the base period in furnishing heat or hot water, or both, to the premises for which the application is made, shall be determined by the Board. Such determination shall be made subject to the following requirements:

(1) The amount claimed by the applicant to have been consumed must be supported by or reconciled with the total purchases shown in the certifications furnished pursuant to section 1 of Appendix A.

(2) If the certifications so furnished cannot be reconciled with the amount claimed to have been consumed, consumption during the base period shall be deemed not to have exceeded (and may in any event be found to have been less than) the amount evidenced by such certifications plus the capacity of any storage tank or other container maintained for supplying the equipment for which the application is made.

(3) The applicant may establish that the amount stated in any such certification is incorrect. If the Board finds that the amount stated in any certification is incorrect, it shall, in determining consumption, take into account the amount actually purchased.

(b) If the applicant fails to obtain or to furnish the required certification from any dealer or supplier, but shows good cause for such failure, fuel oil consumption during the base period shall be deemed not to have been established. In such case the allowable ration shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of section 3 (a) (3) or (4) or section 3 (c) of Appendix A, whichever is applicable. If no good cause is shown for such failure, no ration may be issued.

3. Determination of allowable ration for heating private dwellings (Former § 1394.5256). (a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, the allowable ration for heating private dwelling premises other than a house trailer during the heating year shall be 66⅔% of the amount of fuel oil consumed (as adjusted for temperature variations from the norm, pursuant to section 4 of Appendix A) in heating such premises during the base period, except that:

(1) If 66⅔% of such adjusted consumption exceeds the maximum of range established pursuant to section 5 of Appendix A, the allowable ration shall be such maximum;

(2) If 66⅔% of such adjusted consumption is less than the minimum of such range, the allowable ration shall be either such minimum or 85% of such adjusted consumption, whichever is less;

(3) If the applicant fails to obtain or to furnish the required certification from any dealer or supplier, but shows good cause for such failure, and if consumption during the base period is representative of normal fuel oil requirements for heating the premises during the heating year, the allowable ration shall be midpoint of such range or 66⅔% of such consumption (as adjusted for temperature variations from the norm in accordance with section 4 (b) and (c) of Appendix A whichever is less: Provided, That if 66⅔% of such adjusted consumption is less than the minimum of such range, the allowable ration shall be such minimum or 85% of such adjusted consumption, whichever is less;

(4) If consumption during the base period cannot be determined, or if such consumption is, for any reason (other than weather conditions) not representative of normal fuel oil requirements for heating the premises during the heating year, the allowable ration shall be the midpoint of such range.

(b) If one or more children less than four (4) years of age regularly occupy private dwelling premises other than a house trailer, the allowable ration for the operation of the oil-burning equipment heating such premises shall be increased by:

(1) 125 gallons, in Thermal Zone A and in Zones A–1, A–2, and A–3.

(2) 100 gallons, in Thermal Zone B and in Zones B–1, B–2, and B–3.

(3) 75 gallons, in Thermal Zone C and in Zones C–1, C–2, and C–3.

(4) 50 gallons, in Thermal Zone D and in Zone D–1.

(c) Where application is made for a ration for furnishing heat and hot water to private dwelling premises other than a house trailer and the amount of fuel oil deducted for hot water pursuant to section 4 (b) of Appendix A exceeds the total amount of fuel oil consumed during the base period, such total amount of fuel oil shall be deemed to have been consumed for heating the premises and the allowable ration for heating the premises shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) and (b) of this section. In such cases no ration for domestic hot water shall be issued.

(d) Where application is made for the operation of a space heater in a house trailer, the allowable ration for such purpose shall be the amount requested by the applicant for the space heater but shall not exceed twice the maximum of the range established in accordance with the provisions of section 3 of Appendix A for the area assigned to the Board to which application is made and which has jurisdiction over the issuance of such ration pursuant to any of the subparagraphs of paragraph (b) of § 1394.5101. No ration shall be issued for the operation of a space heater for supplying domestic hot water in a house trailer.

4. Same; determination of adjusted fuel oil consumption during base period (Former § 1394.5257). Fuel oil consumption in heating private dwelling premises during the base period shall be determined and adjusted, for the purposes of section 3 of Appendix A, in the following manner:

(a) The total amount of fuel oil used in the premises during the base period for heat or for both heat and hot water shall be determined pursuant to section 2 of Appendix A;

(b) The amount of fuel oil (if any) used for hot water shall be deducted from such total. If fuel oil was used, during all or part of the base period, for supplying domestic hot water, the amount so used shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have been twenty (20) gallons per month for the first person, plus five (5) gallons per month for each additional person, regularly occupying the premises while fuel oil was used for such purpose: Provided, That where a space heater supplied such hot water, the amount so used shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be deemed to have been fifteen (15) gallons per month;

(c) The amount of fuel oil used during the base period for heating the premises shall be multiplied by the percentage specified in column 1 of Table I for the thermal sub-zone in which the premises are located; except that in "Area A", such amount of fuel oil shall be multiplied by the percentage specified in column 1 of Table IA, and in "Area B" by the percentage specified in column 1 of Table IB, for the county in which the premises are located. The product shall for the purposes of section 3 (a) of Appendix A, be deemed to be the amount of fuel oil consumed during the base period as adjusted for temperature variations from the norm.

5. Same; determination of range (Former § 1394.5258). (a) The maximum and minimum of the range within which the allowable ration for heating private dwelling premises shall be determined, for the purposes of section 3 (a) of Appendix A, shall be obtained by multiplying the floor area of the premises, computed pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section by:

(1) The maximum and minimum number of gallons per square foot of floor area as shown in subcolumn (a) of column (2) of Table I for the thermal sub-zone in which the premises are located (in "Area A" the appropriate subcolumn of column (2) of Table IA, and in "Area B" the appropriate subcolumn of column (2) of Table IB, for the county in which the premises are located), if the application is made for a ration for the operation of central heating equipment; or

(2) The maximum and minimum number of gallons per square foot of floor area, as shown in subcolumn (b) of column (2) of Table I for the thermal sub-zone in which the premises are located (in "Area A" the appropriate subcolumn of column (2) of Table IA, and in "Area B" the appropriate subcolumn of column (2) of Table IB, for the county in which the premises are located), if the application is made for a ration for the operation of space heaters, except that if application is made both for space and central heating equipment used for heating the same premises at different times, the maximum and minimum for both types of equipment shall be determined pursuant to the subcolumn entitled "Central Heating Equipment".

(b) In computing the floor area of the premises for the purposes of paragraph (a) of this section, only necessary living and sleeping quarters and space used for occupational purposes shall be included: Provided, That in no event shall a total area in excess of 2,000 square feet for the first person, plus 600 square feet for the second person and 300 square feet for each additional person, regularly occupying the premises covered by the application, be included in determining the range: Provided further, That in no event shall a total area in excess of 550 square feet be included in determining the range where application is made for a ration for heating premises by a space heater unless:

(1) The applicant submits satisfactory proof that the space heater actually heats a floor area in excess of 550 square feet, or

(2) Consumption during the base period has been determined in accordance with section 2 (a) of Appendix A and is representative of normal fuel oil requirements for heating the premises during the heating year.

(c) Changes for the 1943–44 heating year. For the purpose of determining the maximum of the range for heating private dwelling premises (other than a house trailer) for the 1943–44 heating year:

(1) The Board shall use Table IC (instead of Table I) in § 1394.5851 (d), and in Areas A and B Table ID (instead of Tables IA and IB) in § 1394.5851 (e); and

(2) The total floor area which may be included shall not exceed 3,000 square feet (instead of 2,000) for the first person, plus 600 square feet for the second person and 300 square feet for each additional person regularly occupying the dwelling.

5. Determination of ration for domestic hot water in private dwelling (Former § 1394.5259). (a) Except as provided in section 3 (c) and (d) of Appendix A, the allowable ration for supplying domestic hot water to private dwelling premises shall be 66⅔% of the figure obtained by adding twenty (20) gallons for the first person plus five (5) gallons for each additional person regularly occupying such premises, and multiplying the sum by the number of months during the heating year in which a ration for hot water is required: Provided, That the allowable ration for the operation of a space heater for such purpose shall be the figure obtained by multiplying ten (10) gallons by the number of months during the heating year in which a ration for hot water is required.

(b) On or after June 1, 1943, in Thermal Zones A and B, and on or after May 15, 1943 in Thermal Zones C and D, a ration may be issued for equipment furnishing domestic hot water even though there is available for this purpose central heating equipment using an alternate fuel. In that event, the allowable ration, determined in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, shall be for a period ending not later than August 31, 1943 in Thermal Zones A and B, or September 30, 1943 in Thermal Zones C and D.

7. Application for ration for heat or hot water in premises other than private dwellings (Former § 1394.5260). (a) Application for a ration for the operation of oil burning equipment designed for, and furnishing, heat or hot water, or both, to all or part of any premises other than a private dwelling shall, except as provided in paragraph (a) of § 1394.5406 be made on Form OPA R–1101 or Form OPA R–1101 (Revised). The applicant shall supply the information required by the form.

(b) In the cases specified in paragraph (c) of this section, the applicant shall annex to his application a certification by a qualified heating contractor, plumber, architect or heating engineer showing the amount of fuel oil needed during the heating year to meet the normal heating requirements or the normal hot water requirement (or both, as the case may be) of the premises for which the application is made. Such certification shall be based on an examination of the application and an inspection of the premises; the engineer, contractor, architect or plumber furnishing such certification shall take into consideration the construction of the premises, the purposes for which the premises are used and the weather conditions in the locality in which the premises are situated, and shall base his estimate on the standards established in and recommended by the Manual of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers (1942 ed.).

(c) The certification described in paragraph (b) of this section shall be required in the following cases:

(1) If fuel oil was not used during the base period for the purpose for which the application is made, or if consumption during the base period was, for any reason (other than weather conditions), not representative of normal fuel oil requirements during the heating year; or

(2) If the certifications required by section 1 of Appendix A cannot be obtained, or if such certifications cannot be reconciled with the amount of fuel oil claimed by the applicant to have been used during the base period for heat, or hot water, or both (as the case may be).

(d) In the case of all applications made in the States enumerated in section 8 (e) of Appendix A, the applicant shall certify upon the application the percentage of the floor area of the premises, which is used for residential purposes.

8. Determination of allowable ration for heat or hot water in premises other than private dwellings (Former § 1394.5261). (a) The allowable ration for heating premises other than private dwellings during the heating year shall be 66⅔% of the amount of fuel oil consumed (as adjusted for temperature variations from the norm, pursuant to section 9 of Appendix A) in heating such premises during the base period.

(b) The allowable ration for supplying hot water to premises other than private dwellings during the heating year shall be 66⅔% of the amount of fuel oil consumed in supplying hot water to the premises during the base period, subject to such adjustment as may result from the operation of section 9 (c) of Appendix A.

(c) If consumption during the base period cannot be determined or is deemed not to have been established (as provided in section 2 (b) of Appendix A), or if such consumption is, for any reason (other than weather conditions), not representative of normal fuel oil requirements during the heating year, the allowable ration for heat, or hot water, or both, shall be 66⅔% of the normal fuel oil requirements of the premises for such purpose or purposes, as determined by the Board.

(d) If application is made for a ration for the operation of space heaters in premises other than private dwellings and if the premises heated thereby are regularly occupied by one or more children under four (4) years of age, the allowable ration for the operation of such space heaters for heating such premises shall be increased by the amount specified in section 3 (b) of Appendix A, for the thermal zone in which the premises are located.

9. Same; determination of adjusted fuel oil consumption during the base period. (Former § 1394.5262). Fuel oil consumption during the base period in heating premises other than private dwellings (and, to the extent provided in paragraph (b) of this section, in supplying hot water to such premises) shall be determined and adjusted for the purposes of section 8 of Appendix A, in the following manner:

(a) The total amount of fuel oil used for heating the premises during the base period shall be determined pursuant to section 2 of Appendix A; or

(b) If fuel oil was consumed and a ration is required, both for heat and for hot water, the total amount used for both purposes shall be determined pursuant to section 2 of Appendix A. If fuel oil was consumed both for heat and for hot water, and a ration is required for heat only, the amount used for hot water during the base period shall be deducted from the total consumed.

(c) The amount of fuel oil used during the base period for heat, or for both heat and hot water (as determined in accordance with paragraph (a) or (b) of this section) shall be multiplied by the percentage specified in column 1 of Table I for the thermal sub-zone in which the premises are located (in "Area A" column 1 of Table IA, and in "Area B" column 1 of Table IB, for the county in which the premises are located). The product shall, for the purposes of section 8 (a) and (b) of Appendix A, be deemed to be the amount of fuel oil consumed during the base period, adjusted for temperature variations from the norm.

10. Rations for space heaters in premises other than private dwellings; special cases (Former § 1394.5270). Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph 8 (c) of Appendix A:

(a) The allowable ration for heating residential premises other than a private dwelling by means of a space heater may, at the option of the applicant, be determined in accordance with section 3 (a) (3) or (4), whichever is applicable, and section 3 (b) and (c) of Appendix A, where the certifications required by section 1 of Appendix A cannot, for good cause, be obtained.

(b) The allowable ration for furnishing domestic hot water to such premises, by means of a space heater may, at the option of the applicant, be determined in accordance with provisions of section 6 of Appendix A, where the certifications required by section 1 of Appendix A cannot, for good cause, be obtained.

(c) Application for a ration pursuant to this section shall be made on Form OPA R–1100 or Form OPA R–1100 (Revised). The applicant shall supply the information required by that form, except that he need not supply the certifications required by section 7 (b) of Appendix A or paragraph (b) of § 1394.5255.

11. Who may apply for a renewal (Former § 1394.5280). An application to renew a ration for heat or hot water, or both, for the 1943–44 heating year (that is, from October 1, 1943, to September 30, 1944, inclusive) may be made by the person to whom the ration was issued, or by any member of the family, or by someone acting for either of them. The application must be made on Form OPA R–1167. However, a ration which has expired for any of the reasons specified in § 1394.5502 may not be renewed. Applications for rations for heat or hot water, or both, made after November 30, 1943, must be made according to § 1394.5315, Late applicants.

12. How the renewed ration for a private dwelling is figured (Former § 1394.5281). The renewed ration for heat or hot water, or both, for a private dwelling (other than a house trailer) shall be the amount of fuel oil which the applicant was entitled to use for such purpose (excluding auxiliary and supplemental rations) for the 1942–43 heating year, figured according to sections 3 (heat) and 6 of Appendix A (hot water), except that:

(a) The maximum and minimum of the range for heating the dwelling shall be figured according to Table IC (instead of Table I) in § 1394.5851 and in Areas A and B according to Table ID (instead of Tables IA and IB) in § 1394.5851; and

(b) The total floor area which may be included under section 5 of Appendix A (determination of range) for central heating equipment shall not exceed 3,000 square feet (instead of 2,000 square feet) for the first person, plus 600 square feet for the second person and 300 square feet for each additional person, regularly occupying the dwelling.

(c) This section is subject to the provisions of section 15 of Appendix A.

(d) If the renewed ration is required for a space heater which is also designed and used for domestic cooking, the renewed heating ration shall be subject to the maximum specified in § 1394.5383 (c).

13. How the renewed ration for a house trailer is figured (Former § 1394.5282). (a) The renewed ration for heating a house trailer by use of a space heater shall be the amount of fuel oil which the applicant was entitled to use for such purpose (including supplemental but excluding auxiliary rations) for the 1942–43 heating year, figured according to section 3 (d) of Appendix A. In no event shall the renewed ration be more than twice the maximum of the range. However, in determining the range by using the subcolumn (b) of column (2) of Table I, the figures for subzone 18 shall apply to subzone 19; those for subzone 19 to subzone 20; those for subzone 20 to subzone 21; and those for subzone 21 to subzone 22. In Areas A and B, the designated subcolumn of Table ID shall be used to determine the maximum renewed ration allowable.

(b) This section is subject to the provisions of section 15 of Appendix A.

14. How the renewed ration for premises other than a private dwelling is figured (Former § 1394.5283). (a) The renewed ration for heat or hot water, or both, for premises other than a private dwelling shall be the amount of fuel oil which the applicant was entitled to use for such purpose (excluding auxiliary and supplemental rations) for the 1942–43 heating year, figured according to section 8 (a) to (d), inclusive, of Appendix A.

(b) If heat or hot water, or both, is furnished by means of a space heater, and if, because the applicant showed good cause for not obtaining a certificate of past consumption, his ration was figured in the same way as though he used a space heater for the purpose in a private dwelling (that is, according to section 3 for heat or section 6 of Appendix A for hot water), the renewed ration shall be figured according to section 12 of Appendix A.

(c) This section is subject to the provisions of section 15 of Appendix A.

15. How the renewed ration is figured when a smaller amount is requested (Former § 1394.5284). If the applicant states on his application that he will accept, as his renewed ration, an amount less than he was entitled to use (excluding auxiliary rations in house trailers and excluding auxiliary and supplemental rations in all other cases) for the entire 1942–43 heating year, the renewed ration shall be the reduced amount indicated. However, if as a result of the correction of any errors which may have been made in figuring the ration for the 1942–43 heating year, that ration is less than the amount which the applicant states he will accept, the renewed ration shall be the lesser of the following:

(a) The reduced amount indicated by the applicant; or

(b) The amount the applicant would be entitled to receive under whichever of the last three sections is applicable.

16. The renewed ration will be issued in coupon sheets or fuel oil deposit certificates (Former § 1394.5285). (a) Class 2, 4, 5 and 6 coupon sheets (Forms OPA R–1107 to OPA R–1110, and OPA R–1137 to OPA R–1166, inclusive) or fuel oil deposit certificate (Form OPA R–1170) will be issued as renewed rations for heat or both heat and hot water. (The issuance of fuel oil deposit certificates is explained in § 1394.5288.[5])

(b) Class 3 coupon sheets or fuel oil deposit certificates will be issued as renewed rations for hot water only.

(c) Any ration for less than 300 gallons will be issued only in class 3 coupon sheets.

17. Who is a new applicant (Former § 1394.5292). A new applicant is a person who applies after September 12, 1943 (but on or before November 30, 1943) for a ration for heat or hot water, or both, for the 1943–44 heating year for use in a private dwelling or in premises other than a private dwelling where application for a renewal ration under section 11 of Appendix A may not be made. The new applicant must be the person controlling the use of the equipment, but he may authorize someone to make the application for him. Applications for rations for heat or hot water, or both, made after November 30, 1943 must be made according to § 1394.5315, Late applicants.

18. How a new applicant applies for a ration (Former § 1394.5293). (a) The new applicant who needs a ration for use in a private dwelling must apply to his Board on Form OPA R–1100 or Form OPA R–1100 (Revised).

(b) The new applicant who needs a ration for use in premises other than a private dwelling must apply to his Board on Form OPA R–1101 or Form OPA R–1101 (Revised), except that if he needs a ration for use in residential premises heated by a space heater, he must apply on Form OPA R–1100 or Form OPA R–1100 (Revised).

(c) The new applicant must, except for good cause shown, submit with his application the name of the person to whom a ration for heating the premises was issued for the 1942–43 heating year.

(d) The provisions of paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 1394.5252[6] shall apply with respect to the number of applications which may be made by new applicants.

19. How the new applicant's heat or hot water ration for a private dwelling is figured (Former § 1394.5294).—(a) Heat. The new applicant's ration for heating a private dwelling (other than a house trailer) for the 1943–44 heating year shall be the amount of fuel he needs to meet his minimum heating requirements. However, the ration shall not be more than the maximum of the range for heating the dwelling nor less than the smaller of the following: the minimum of the range or 85% of the fuel oil consumed for heating the dwelling during the base period adjusted to normal according to section 4 of Appendix A.

(1) The maximum and minimum of the range for heating the dwelling shall be figured according to Table IC (instead of Table I) in § 1394.5851, and in Areas A and B according to Table ID (instead of Tables IA and IB) in § 1394.5851;

(2) The total floor area which may be included under section 5 of Appendix A (determination of range) for central heating equipment shall not exceed 3,000 square feet (instead of 2,000 square feet) for the first person, plus 600 square feet for the second person and 300 square feet for each additional person regularly occupying the dwelling;

(3) If the dwelling is regularly occupied by any child under 4 years of age, the ration shall be increased by the amount specified in section 3 (b) of Appendix A for the zone in which the dwelling is located.

(b) Hot water. The new applicant's ration for domestic hot water in a private dwelling (other than a house trailer) for the 1943–44 heating year shall be figured according to section 6 of Appendix A.

20. How the new applicant's ration for heating a house trailer is figured. (Former § 1394.5295). The new applicant's ration for heating a house trailer by means of a space heater for the 1943–44 heating year shall be the amount of fuel oil the applicant needs for the purpose. However, the ration shall not exceed twice the maximum of the range for the house trailer, figured according to section 5 of Appendix A. In determining the range by using subcolumn (b) of column (2) of Table I, the figures for subzone 18 shall apply to subzone 19; those for subzone 19 to subzone 20; those for subzone 20 to subzone 21; and those for subzone 21 to subzone 22. In Areas A and B, Table ID shall be used to figure the maximum ration allowable for heating a house trailer.

21. How the new applicant's ration for heat or hot water, or both, for premises other than a private dwelling is figured (Former § 1394.5296). The new applicant's ration for furnishing heat or hot water, or both, to premises other than a private dwelling for the 1943–44 heating year shall be figured as follows:

(a) Residential premises using central heating equipment and non-residential premises. (1) If the ration is needed for residential premises using central heating equipment or for non-residential premises, the ration shall be figured according to section 8 (a) to (c) inclusive, of Appendix A.

(2) The new applicant need not establish consumption during the base period if such consumption was established for the purpose of figuring the ration for the 1942–43 heating year. In such case, the base period consumption shall be the amount thus established. However, if no ration was issued for the purpose for the 1942–43 heating year, the new applicant must establish fuel oil consumption, if any, during the base period, in the manner provided in section 1 of Appendix A, and the Board will determine such consumption in the manner provided in section 2 of Appendix A. In any case, if the circumstances specified in section 7 (c) of Appendix A are found to exist, the new applicant must furnish to the Board the certification described in paragraph (b) of that section. The term "the heating year" wherever appearing in sections 1, 2, 7, and 8 of Appendix A shall be deemed for the purpose of this section to mean the 1943–44 heating year.

(b) Residential premises using space heater. If the ration is needed in premises used for residential purposes heated by a space heater, the ration for heat shall be figured in the same way as though the new applicant used a space heater in a private dwelling, that is, according to section 19 of Appendix A, and the ration for hot water shall be figured according to section 6 of Appendix A.

22. Issuance of rations for heat or hot water to new applicants (Former § 1394.5297). (a) Heat and hot water rations for the 1943–44 heating year shall be issued to new applicants in the manner provided for the issuance of renewed rations in §§ 1394.5285 to 1394.5288,[5] inclusive.

(b) The coupons sheets or fuel oil deposit certificates issued to the new applicant shall be equal to the amount of the ration allowed less the amount of fuel oil he has on hand for the operation of the equipment for which the application is made.

(c) No ration issued to an applicant who was required to apply for a ration for the operation of the equipment in the premises for the 1942–43 heating year and omitted to do so, shall be deemed a waiver of any violation by him of § 1394.5603.

23. Advance heat and hot water rations for Areas A and B (former § 1394.5311). (a) Any consumer who has a ration for heat or hot water, or both, which was issued in Area A or Area B, and who has fuel oil storage facilities for 150 gallons or more, may, prior to September 1, 1943, receive, without application, a portion of his ration for heat or hot water, or both, for the next heating year.

(b) The portion of the ration to be issued shall be an amount equal to the current allowable ration for hot water plus the following percentage of the allowable heating ration for the heating year:

(1) 42% in Zone A in Area A.
(2) 45% in Zone B in Area A.
(3) 43% in Zone C in Area A.
(4) 40% in Area B.

(c) The Board shall issue Class 3 coupon sheets, valid through September 30, 1944, containing coupons equal in gallonage value to the amount specified in paragraph (b) of this section.

24. Class 1 and Class 2 coupon sheets were issued as rations for the 1942–43 heating year (October 1, 1942 to September 30, 1943, inclusive). After September 30, 1943, all coupons (unit and definite value) on those sheets became void for transfers of fuel oil to consumers, and after October 30, 1943, all unit value coupons on those sheets became void for all purposes. On and after December 30, 1943 all definite value coupons on those coupon sheets become void for all purposes.

25. Thermal Zones A, B, C and D, referred to in sections dealing with heat and hot water rations for the 1942–43 heating year, were described in Ration Order No. 11, before revision. Thermal Zone A consisted of the area now included in Thermal Zones A–1, A–2, and A–3; Thermal Zone B consisted of the area now included in Thermal Zones B–1, B–2 and B–3; and Thermal Zone C consisted of the area now included in Thermal Zones C–1, C–2 and C–3. Former Thermal Zone D and present Thermal Zone D are identical.

Effective date. This Revised Ration Order 11 shall become effective February 28, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record keeping requirements of this revised ration order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[Order 635 Under 3 (b)]

BIGHAM CO., ET AL.

Maximum prices authorized under § 1499.3 (b) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, Order No. 635.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, it is ordered:

§ 1499.2161 Authorization of maximum prices for sales of "Bigham's Chili Mix Seasoning" by Bigham Company, 3912-18 N. Damen Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, and by wagon wholesalers. (a) On and after February 26, 1944, the maximum prices for sales by Bigham Company, 3912–18 N. Damen Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, of "Bigham's Chili Mix Seasoning," packed in 8-ounce packages, one dozen packages to the shipping case, shall be as follows, subject in each case to a discount of 2% for cash, 30 days net:

For sales to wagon wholesalers	$3.46 per dozen 8-ounce packages, f. o. b. factory.
For sales to wholesalers and retail distributing warehouses	$3.64 per dozen 8-ounce packages, f. o. b. factory.
For sales to independent retailers	$4.37 per dozen 8-ounce packages, delivered to purchasers' receiving stations.

(b) Wagon wholesalers shall determine their maximum selling prices for "Bigham's Chili Mix Seasoning," manufactured by Bigham Company, by adding to their net delivered cost of the item a markup of 25% of that cost. Where a maximum price per dozen determined by the provisions of this paragraph is a fractional cent price and the fraction of a cent is less than one-half cent, the price per dozen shall be lowered to the next lower cent; and where the fraction is one-half cent or larger, the wagon wholesaler may increase his maximum price per dozen to the next higher cent.

A "wagon wholesaler" is one who purchases the item being priced and distributes it to retailers or to commercial, industrial, or institutional users from an inventory stocked in trucks or other conveyances which are under the supervision of driver salesmen who make delivery at the time and place of sale. Such wholesaler is a wagon wholesaler only for sales made in this manner.

"Net delivered cost" means the amount the wagon wholesaler pays for the item delivered to his customary receiving point (but not in excess of Bigham Company's maximum price, f. o. b. factory, plus cost of transportation to the wagon wholesaler's customary receiving point), less all discounts allowed him except the discount for prompt payment. No expense of local hauling or trucking shall be included.

Wagon wholesalers shall apply to their maximum prices for "Bigham's Chili Mix Seasoning" the same discounts, allowances, and price differentials, including price differentials between different classes of purchasers, which they customarily applied to sales of comparable commodities, unless a change in these customary discounts, allowances, and price differentials results in a lower selling price.

(c) With the first delivery on or after February 26, 1944, Bigham Company shall supply each wagon wholesaler who purchases "Bigham's Chili Mix Seasoning" from it with written notice as set forth below:

(Insert date)

NOTICE TO WAGON WHOLESALERS

The OPA has authorized us to charge wagon wholesalers for our "Bigham's Chili Mix Seasoning" a maximum selling price f. o. b. factory, of $3.46 per dozen 8-ounce packages, one dozen packages to the shipping case, subject to a discount of 2% for cash, 30 days net. Wagon wholesalers are authorized by OPA to determine their maximum selling prices for "Bigham's Chili Mix Seasoning" by adding to their net delivered cost of the item a markup of 25% of that cost. By "net delivered cost" is meant the amount you pay for the item delivered to your customary receiving point (but not in excess of our maximum price, f. o. b. factory, plus cost of transportation to your customary receiving point), less all discounts allowed you except the discount for prompt payment. It does not include expense for local hauling or trucking.

Where a maximum price per dozen packages determined by a wagon wholesaler is a fractional cent price and the fraction of a cent is less than one-half cent, the maximum price per dozen shall be lowered to the next lower cent; and where the fraction is one-half cent or larger, the wagon wholesaler may increase his maximum price per dozen to the next higher cent. OPA requires that you keep this notice for examination.

(d) This Order No. 635 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

(e) This Order No. 635 shall become effective February 26, 1944.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION

[Gen. RO 5,[1] Amdt. 1 to Supp. 3[2]]

FOOD RATIONING FOR INSTITUTIONAL USERS

Section 1305.216 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Allowance per person. (1) Institutional users whose baking percentage of baked products (bread, rolls, doughnuts and crullers, pies, cake and pastries) is less than forty percent (40%) in December 1942, apply the following allowances per person:

	Allowance per person
Sugar	0.03 pounds
Processed foods:
1. If the user himself baked less than 80% of the pies served	.7 points
2. If he baked 80% or more of the pies served	.8 points
Foods covered by Ration Order 16	1.0 points

(2) Institutional users whose baking percentage of baked products (bread, rolls, doughnuts and crullers, pies, cake and pastries) is forty percent (40%) or more in December 1942, apply the following allowances per person:

	Allowance per person
Sugar	0.04 pounds
Processed foods:
1. If the user himself baked less than 80% of the pies served	.7 points
2. If he baked 80% or more of the pies served	.8 points
Foods covered by Ration Order 16	1.1 points

NOTE: For the purposes of determining the percentage of baked products baked by institutional users, Form R-1307 Supplement contains the question: "Of the total number of each of the following baked products that you served in December 1942 what percentage of each did you buy?" This question is intended for the purpose of determining the amount of baked goods which the institutional user himself baked on the assumption that all baked products served which he did not buy were products which he baked. For example, if an institutional user reported that he bought 35% of the baked products which he served, it is taken to indicate that he baked the remaining 65%.

In determining an institutional user's baking percentages, the percentage that he himself baked of the total number of the items that he served in each of the six (6) categories listed in the parentheses is to be found; those percentages are added; the sum is divided by six (6); the result is considered to be his baking percentage. (If he did not serve any item in a category, the percentage that he baked for that category is zero.)

has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 14 is amended in the following respect:

Section 6.42 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 6.42 Maximum prices for sales at wholesale of lamps and lamp shades—(a) Scope of this section. This section establishes maximum prices for sales and deliveries of lamps and lamp shades by all jobbers. For the purposes of this section, a jobber is a person who buys lamps or shades and sells them to other persons for resale. Manufacturers of lamps are not covered by this section with respect to lamps or shades of their own manufacture, nor are they covered by this section with respect to shades not manufactured by them which they sell together with lamp bases of their own manufacture as completed units. However, if a manufacturer buys separate shades to resell as such, or complete lamps for resale, that portion of his business is classed as jobbing and is covered by this section.

This section establishes several methods by which jobbers may establish their maximum prices, depending upon the type of sale the jobber is transacting. If you are a jobber of lamps or lamp shades, you should first determine which of the following descriptions covers the sale of the article for which you wish to establish a maximum price; then turn to the paragraph indicated for the procedure to be followed in establishing your maximum price.

(1) Sales of lamps or lamp shades purchased from manufacturers by jobbers who were in business during March 1942 (see paragraph (b)).

(2) Sales of lamps or lamp shades purchased from manufacturers by jobbers who were not in business during March 1942. This class of sales is divided as follows:

(i) Sales of lamps or shades purchased from a manufacturer located in the same zone as the jobber (see paragraph (c) (1)). "Zone" is defined in paragraph (e).

(ii) Sales of lamps or shades purchased from a manufacturer located in a different zone (see paragraph (c) (2)).

(iii) Sales of lamps or shades which are shipped directly by the manufacturer to the jobber's customer (see paragraph (c) (3)).

(3) Sales by jobbers who purchase lamps or shades from persons other than the manufacturer (see paragraph (d)).

(b) Maximum prices for sales and deliveries of lamps or lamp shades bought directly from the manufacturer by jobbers who were in the business of jobbing lamps or lamp shades during March 1942. If you are a jobber who was in the business of jobbing lamps or lamp shades during March 1942 and have purchased lamps or lamp shades directly from the manufacturer, you determine your maximum prices for sales of lamps and lamp shades to retailers in the following manner:

(1) If you are now selling the identical lamp or lamp shade sold by you during March 1942, your present maximum price is the highest price you charged for such lamp or lamp shade during March 1942.

(2) Lamps and lamp shades not sold during March 1942. (i) Select a lamp or lamp shade purchased by you from the manufacturer and sold by you in March 1942 which has a cost nearest to your cost of the lamp or lamp shade now being sold. If more than one lamp or lamp shade has the same costs, select the one on which you did the largest volume of business during March 1942.

(ii) Divide the highest price charged by you f. o. b. your warehouse during March 1942 for the lamp or lamp shade selected, by the March 1942 cost of such lamp or lamp shade to you.

(iii) Multiply the percentage so obtained by the manufacturer's selling price to you of the new lamp or lamp shade. The resulting figure is your maximum price f. o. b. your warehouse.

(c) Maximum prices for sales and deliveries of lamps or lamp shades bought directly from the manufacturer by jobbers who were not in the business of jobbing lamps or lamp shades during March 1942. (1) If you are a jobber who was not in business of jobbing lamps or lamp shades during March 1942 and have purchased lamps or lamp shades directly from the manufacturer whose principal place of business is in the same zone; i. e. Eastern or Western, as your principal place of business, you determine your maximum price to retailers for those lamps or lamp shades which are shipped by you from your own stock by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price to you, f. o. b. manufacturer's city, by 1.35.

(2) If you are a jobber who was not in the business of jobbing lamps or lamp shades during March 1942, and have purchased lamps or lamp shades directly from the manufacturer whose principal place of business is not in the same zone; i. e. Eastern or Western, as your principal place of business, you determine your maximum price to retailers for those lamps or lamp shades shipped by you from your own stock by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price to you, f. o. b. manufacturer's city, by 1.40.

(3) If you are a jobber who was not in the business of jobbing lamps or lamp shades during March 1942, and have purchased lamps or lamp shades directly from the manufacturer, you determine your maximum price to retailers for those lamps or lamp shades for which delivery was made by your supplier directly to your customer by multiplying the manufacturer's selling price to you by 1.25.

(d) Jobbers' maximum prices for sales of lamps or lamp shades purchased from persons other than the manufacturer. If you are a jobber and have purchased lamps or lamp shades from persons other than the manufacturer, or if you do not have your purchase invoices, you must submit to the nearest District or Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration, a report applying for a specific authorization of a maximum price for such lamps or lamp shades. The report shall contain (1) a description of the lamps or lamp shades for which a maximum price is sought, (2) a statement of whether or not you were in the business of jobbing lamps or lamp shades in March 1942, (3) the name and address of the supplier from whom the article was purchased and the purchase price, (4) the name of the manufacturer of the lamps or lamp shades, the style number of the article and the manufacturer's maximum price to a jobber, if available, (5) the mark-up customarily enjoyed by you on sales of similar lamps or lamp shades as determined by paragraph (b) of this section, if you were a jobber in the business of selling lamps during March 1942, and (6) any other fact which you may wish to submit. You must also submit such additional information as the Office of Price Administration may request. You may not sell such lamps or lamp shades until you have received authorization from such District or Regional Office and must sell in accordance with the terms of such authorization. The maximum price authorized by the Office of Price Administration will be in line with the level of maximum prices established by this section.

Any Regional Administrator or any District Director so authorized by written order from his Regional Administrator may establish maximum prices for sales of lamps or lamp shades by jobbers as provided by this paragraph.

(e) Definition of zones. The western zone includes the States of Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Oregon, Washington, and Wyoming. The rest of the country is in the eastern zone.

(f) Invoices. If you are a jobber of lamps or lamp shades, regardless of any former practice, after March 5, 1944, you must furnish each purchaser of such lamps and lamp shades with an invoice or other similar written evidence of purchase, setting forth the date of the invoice, your name and address, a description and lot number of each lamp or lamp shade, the price charged by you, and the name and address of the buyer. You must keep a carbon copy of this invoice for inspection by the Office of Price Administration.

On and after March 6, 1944, you must also keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration all your purchase invoices. Although you may have purchased lamps or lamp shades directly from the manufacturer, if you do not have your purchase invoices, you may not price those lamps or lamp shades pursuant to paragraphs (b), (c) (1), (2) or (3), but must make an application for a price as set forth in paragraph (d).

This amendment shall become effective on the 6th day of March 1944.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Notices

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION.

[Project 16]

NIAGARA FALLS POWER CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR AMENDMENT OF LICENSE

FEBRUARY 28, 1944.

Notice is hereby given that The Niagara Falls Power Company has filed with the Federal Power Commission application for amendment of the license for Project No. 16, located on the Niagara River at Niagara Falls, New York.

Due to the urgent need for electric power to supply war industries, the Governments of the United States and Canada by exchange of notes agreed that during the present war emergency additional diversions may be made from the Niagara River on the United States side in amounts of 5,000 c. f. s. and 7,500 c. f. s. Pursuant to this agreement, the Federal Power Commission authorized The Niagara Falls Power Company to divert these additional amounts of water through the hydroelectric power plant which the Company maintains at Niagara Falls under license pursuant to the Federal Power Act as Project No. 16. The authorizations were incorporated in Amendments Nos. 4 and 5 of the license for that project, and the Company now seeks modification of such amendments.

As a condition to authorization for use of these emergency diversions, the amendments prescribed that the additional revenue obtained, over and above the additional costs associated with their utilization, should be credited to special account No. 259, Emergency Diversion Reserve, and that for the purpose of simplifying the accounting, the gross revenue from the additional energy thereby generated should be computed on the basis of 4 mills per kilowatt-hour which was in accord with the then existing rates approved by the New York Public Service Commission. Before computing the amount to be credited to the Emergency Diversion Reserve account, the Company was allowed a return of six percent per annum on the capital expenditures necessary for utilizing the emergency diversions, less the amortization applicable thereto. This arrangement was designed to carry out the principle, agreed to by the Company, that it should not make additional profits as a result of the use of additional diversions for defense purposes.

Subsequently, the Public Service Commission of the State of New York, by orders dated November 6, 1942, directed The Niagara Falls Power Company to file new rates, charges, and classifications for service applicable to customers then receiving power under allotment from the Federal Power Commission and the War Production Board where such power was generated from the additional 12,500 c. f. s. The State Commission's orders require a reduction in the rates charged these consumers for such special emergency power to an average of approximately 2.78 mills per kilowatt-hour.

The Company, by application dated November 17, 1942, by letter dated January 14, 1943, and by supplemental petition dated May 12, 1943, requested modification of the authorizations and amendments of the Federal Power Commission license referred to, so that the revenue received from the sale of power from the emergency diversions may be computed on the bases of the rates and charges prescribed by the Public Service Commission of the State of New York. The Company also requests that a change be made in the formula used in determining the quantity of energy generated from the emergency diversions.

Any person desiring to make representations with respect to the requested modifications of the Federal Power Commission authorizations and the amendments to the license for Project No. 16 should on or before March 14, 1944, file with the Federal Power Commission in Washington, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and regulations.

Secretary.

[Supp. Order ODT 3, Rev. 188]

COMMON CARRIERS

COORDINATED OPERATIONS BETWEEN POINTS IN INDIANA

Upon consideration of a plan for joint action filed with the Office of Defense Transportation by the persons named in Appendix 1 hereof to facilitate compliance with the requirements and purposes of General Order ODT 3, Revised, as amended (7 F.R. 5445, 6689, 7694; 8 F.R. 4660, 14582; 9 F.R. 947) a copy of which plan is attached hereto as Appendix 2,[1] and

It appearing that the proposed coordination of operations is necessary in order to assure maximum utilization of the facilities, services, and equipment, and to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials, and supplies, of the carriers, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The plan for joint action above referred to is hereby approved and the carriers are directed to put the plan in operation forthwith, subject to the following provisions, which shall supersede any provisions of such plan that are in conflict therewith.

2. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations, and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order and of such plan; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

3. Whenever transportation service is performed by one carrier in lieu of service by another carrier, by reason of a diversion, exchange, pooling, or similar act made or performed pursuant to the plan for joint action hereby approved, the rates, charges, rules, and regulations governing such service shall be those that would have applied except for such diversion, exchange, pooling, or other act.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier subject hereto to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to authorize or require any act or omission which is in violation of any law or regulation, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event that compliance with any term of this order, or effectuation of any provision of such plan, would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier subject hereto, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

COATED AND COMBINED FABRICS

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, and section 10 of Maximum Price Regulation 478, it is hereby ordered that:

(a) Applicability of this order. Notwithstanding any other provisions of Maximum Price Regulation 478, this order is applicable to sales by a manufacturer of any fabric or service covered by this regulation which differs from a fabric or service for which he has already established a maximum price under Maximum Price Regulation 478, because of the substitution of Buna-N or Hycar synthetic rubber for Neoprene GR-M synthetic rubber.

(b) Maximum prices. The manufacturer's maximum price for any fabric or service covered by this order, shall be calculated by adding to the maximum price of the fabric or service made with Neoprene GR-M an amount not exceeding the increase in materials cost resulting from the substitution of Buna-N or Hycar for Neoprene GR-M.

(c) Computation of increase in materials cost. The increase in materials cost referred to in paragraph (b), shall be calculated per unit of sale, as follows: The manufacturer shall multiply the quantity in pounds of Buna-N or Hycar required to produce the fabric or supply the service, by the per pound price of Buna-N or Hycar in effect to him on February 1, 1944. The result is the cost of the Buna-N or Hycar material. The manufacturer shall then multiply the quantity in pounds of Neoprene GR-M required to produce the same fabric or supply the same service, by the per pound price of Neoprene GR-M in effect to him on February 1, 1944. The result is the cost of the neoprene material. The difference between these costs of Buna-N or Hycar and Neoprene GR-M shall be the amount of the increase in materials cost resulting from the substitution of Buna-N or Hycar for Neoprene GR-M referred to in paragraph (b).

(d) All provisions of Maximum Price Regulation 478 not inconsistent with this order shall apply to sales covered by this order.

(e) This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective February 28, 1944.

Issued this 28th day of February 1944.

Administrator.

MINIMUM WARTIME WORKWEEK

Designation of the Newark, New Jersey, Area as subject to Executive Order No. 9301.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Regional Manpower Director of Region No. III by § 903.2 of War Manpower Commission Regulation No. 3, "Minimum Wartime Workweek of 48 Hours," (8 F.R. 7225), and having found that such action will aid in alleviating labor shortages which are impeding the war effort, I hereby designate the Newark, New Jersey, Area as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301.

I. For the purposes of this designation, the Newark, New Jersey, Area shall include:

All of Essex County, New Jersey; Lyndhurst township and North Arlington borough in Bergen County, New Jersey; Bayonne city, East Newark borough, Harrison town, Hoboken city, Jersey City and Kearney town in Hudson County, New Jersey; and the following civil divisions in Union County, New Jersey: Clark township, Cranford township, Elizabeth city, Garwood borough, Hillside township, Kenilworth borough, Linden city, New Providence borough, New Providence township, Rahway city, Roselle borough, Roselle Park borough, Springfield township, Summit city, Union township, and Westfield town.

II. The effective date of this designation is August 23, 1943.

III. Not later than the effective date, each employer in the Newark, New Jersey, Area shall, in accordance with War Manpower Commission Regulation No. 3:

(a) Extend to a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours, the workweek of any of his workers whose workweek can be so extended without involving the release of any worker;

(b) If extension of the workweek of any of his workers to a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours would involve the release of any workers, submit to the Area Manpower Director the number and occupational classification of the workers whose release would be involved, together with proposed schedules for their release, and thereafter extend such workweek when and as directed in schedules authorized by the War Manpower Commission;

(c) File an application for a minimum wartime workweek of less than 48 hours for those workers engaged in employment in which the employer claims that a workweek of 48 hours would be impracticable in view of the nature of the operations, would not contribute to the reduction of labor requirements, or would conflict with any Federal, State or local law or regulation limiting hours of work.

Date of issuance: August 2, 1943.

FRANK L. MCNAMEE,
Regional Director, Region III.

or citizenship of a husband, application for a certificate of citizenship shall be made by the applicant on Form N–600. Where the applicant claims to be a citizen of the United States on the ground that his parent or parents were citizens of the United States at the time of his birth outside the United States, application for a certificate of citizenship shall be made by the applicant on Form N–600–A. The application shall be submitted either in person or by mail to the immigration and naturalization office located nearest the applicant's place of residence The application shall be signed by the applicant, or in the case of a child under the age of 18 years by his parent or guardian, when submitted, but shall not be subscribed and sworn to or affirmed until the applicant appears before an officer of the Immigration and Naturalization Service for examination upon the merits of his application. The application shall be accompanied by a United States postal money order in the sum of $5, payable to the "Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization, Washington, D. C." Cash shall not be accepted. The application shall also be accompanied by the originals of such documentary evidence, or pertinent excerpts therefrom if the documents are lengthy or bulky, as the applicant may have or be able to obtain relating to the date and place of his birth, the date and place of the marriage of his parents, the date and place of marriage of applicant if the applicant be a woman, or any other documents tending to establish the claimed citizenship. The applicant shall not be required to furnish a translation of any such documents written in a foreign language. If the applicant desires any such documents returned to him after final action has been taken in his case, his application should also be accompanied by photostatic, photographic, or typewritten copies of such documents except that no copy of any sort may be made of any original or copy of a declaration of intention or certificate of naturalization or citizenship or any part thereof. The applicant must submit three photographs in accordance with the requirements of Part 364 of this chapter. (Sec. 339, 54 Stat. 1160, as amended by sec. 3, Act of Jan. 20, 1944, Pub. Law 221, 78th Cong.; 8 U.S.C. 739)

§ 379.3 Attorneys. Attorneys and other persons qualified to practice before the Immigration and Naturalization Service, who represent applicants for certificates of citizenship under section 339 of the Nationality Act of 1940, as amended, shall be permitted, upon completion of the application and examination of the applicant and his witnesses, to review the record either before it is forwarded to the Central Office or thereafter, and prior to final decision. Such attorneys and other practitioners may submit briefs, and, upon sufficient notice, shall be given opportunity to present oral argument before the Central Office. When final decision is made in a case, the attorney or other person representing the applicant shall be entitled to notification of such action. (Sec. 339, 54 Stat. 1160, as amended by sec. 3, Act of Jan. 20, 1944, Pub. Law 221, 78th Cong.; 8 U.S.C. 739)

§ 379.4 Procedure upon receipt of application. If the application is not properly prepared, or does not present a prima facie case, it shall be returned for correction or completion, and shall not be accepted until properly prepared. When an application is submitted, but the nature of the documentary evidence therewith is not reasonably adequate to support the application, the field office may defer acceptance thereof. In the latter event, the application, money order, photographs, and documentary evidence, and any copies of evidence shall be returned to the applicant with a request for submission of more substantial evidence. If the application is thereafter submitted accompanied by satisfactory evidence, or is so submitted with the statement that further evidence cannot be obtained, the field office shall accept it for further consideration. The applicant shall thereafter be informed when and where he and his witnesses will be examined upon the merits of his application. (Sec. 339, 54 Stat. 1160, as amended by sec. 3, Act of Jan. 20, 1944, Pub. Law 221, 78th Cong.; 8 U.S.C. 739)

§ 379.5 Proof. The applicant shall establish to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that he is a citizen of the United States, that he derived such citizenship through the naturalization of a parent or parents or through the naturalization or citizenship of a husband, or that he acquired such citizenship through birth outside the United States at a time when his parent or parents were citizens of the United States (Sec. 339, 54 Stat. 1160, as amended by sec. 3, Act of Jan. 20, 1944, Pub. Law 221, 78th Cong.; 8 U.S.C. 739)

§ 379.6 Examination and evidence. The examining officer shall orally review the application with the applicant, or in the case of a child under the age of eighteen years, with the parent or guardian, before administering the oath. Any necessary changes in the application shall be consecutively numbered and acknowledged in writing by the applicant or the parent or guardian. The applicant and the person or persons through whom applicant claims to have derived or acquired citizenship then shall be questioned under oath by the examiner for the purpose of identification and to clarify any points in controversy on the basis of the information submitted in the application. If the sworn application form, supporting documentary evidence, records of the Service, the testimony of the person or persons through whom citizenship is claimed, and the testimony of the applicant, or the parent or guardian if applicant be a child under the age of eighteen years, establish applicant's claim to citizenship, no other witnesses shall be required. Otherwise, such number of credible witnesses, preferably citizens of the United States, as may be deemed necessary shall be questioned under oath by the examiner concerning the facts of applicant's alleged citizenship. If the person or persons through whom the applicant claims citizenship are deceased or otherwise not available, the testimony customarily required of such person or persons may be furnished by qualified witnesses. The testimony heard shall not be reduced to writing in verbatim form except in cases where neither primary nor secondary documentary evidence is available to establish such essential fact concerning applicant's citizenship and except in cases where it appears that criminal proceedings might be instituted as a result of perjured statements. Any facts deemed necessary to the examination relating to the birth, death, marriage, divorce, or identity of any person involved therein shall be established by official copies of public records or church records if such copies are available or can be obtained. If the examining officer is satisfied that the applicant has made a reasonable effort to procure such documentary evidence and that it is not available or cannot be procured without undue hardship to such applicant, the examining officer may receive and consider any other evidence which the applicant may present. The burden of proof to establish his citizenship shall at all times be upon the applicant. In presenting his proof, the applicant shall be entitled to the benefit of any records concerning him which are in the custody of the Service and copies of, or information from, any such records may be made available to the officer of the Service passing upon the application, without payment of fee by the applicant. When no longer required, the original documents submitted by applicant shall be returned to the applicant if photostatic or other copies thereof have been supplied by him for the record. If the examiner is satisfied as to the authenticity of the documents and is satisfied that such photostatic or other copies are true and correct, he shall return the original documents to the applicant at the conclusion of the examination and incorporate the copies into the record which is submitted to the Central Office. (Sec. 339, 54 Stat. 1160, as amended by sec. 3, Act of Jan. 20, 1944, Pub. Law 221, 78th Cong.; 8 U.S.C. 739)

§ 379.7 Record; recommendation; review. Upon completion of the examination, the examining officer shall prepare a report of his findings on Form N–635 or Form N–635–A as to each of the essential facts to be established in the proceeding, together with his recommendation and any comment he deems necessary. Where any issue of law or fact is raised by the evidence, the examining officer shall summarize the evidence and prepare a report thereon to accompany the Form N–635 or Form N–635–A. If the original documents were returned to the applicant at the conclusion of the examination, the examiner shall place a notation on Form N–635 or Form N–635–A showing that the copies were compared with such original documents and were found satisfactory and that the original documents were returned to the applicant. If denial of the application is recommended, a statement shall be made of the supporting grounds, and reason therefor. When recommendation to grant the application is based principally on documentary evidence, that fact shall be stated; otherwise, a brief statement of the facts and circumstances in evidence considered sufficient to justify action recommended shall be made. The record, supporting documents, photographs, and the findings and recommendation of the examining officer shall then be forwarded to the district director. That officer or an officer designated by him for that purpose, shall thereupon review the record, both as to procedural requirements and the findings and recommendation, and shall himself, or through his designated substitute, make his recommendation on Form N–635 or Form N–635–A. If such review leads to a different recommendation from that of the examining officer, the reasons therefore shall be stated in writing. The entire record shall then be submitted to the Central Office. (Sec. 339, 54 Stat. 1160, as amended by sec. 3, Act of Jan. 20, 1944, Pub. Law 221, 78th Cong.; 8 U.S.C. 739)

§ 379.8 Final disposition. If the Commissioner is satisfied from the record and accompanying documents that the applicant is entitled to receive a certificate of citizenship, an order to that effect will be entered. If the applicant has assumed or is known by a name other than his true name but has not had his name changed in accordance with the law of the jurisdiction where he assumed the new name, and, therefore, is not legally entitled to use the assumed name, the certificate of citizenship shall be issued in the applicant's true name followed by the words "also known as" followed by the assumed name, but in such a case the applicant shall be required to sign only his true name on the certificate and on the photographs submitted with his application. The certificate shall be issued by the Commissioner or a Deputy Commissioner in duplicate and shall be forwarded to the field office in which the application originated for signature by the applicant, or in the case of a child under eighteen years of age by his parent or guardian. The applicant shall, unless he is too young to understand the meaning thereof, take and subscribe to, before a member of the Service, the oath of renunciation and allegiance prescribed by section 335 of the Nationality Act of 1940. Thereafter personal delivery of the original of the certificate shall be made to the applicant, or in the case of a child under eighteen years of age to his parent or guardian, who shall sign a receipt therefor. The applicant shall be furnished with the certificate only if such individual is at the time within the United States (Secs. 335, 339, 54 Stat. 1157, 1160, as amended by sec. 3, Act of Jan. 20, 1944, Pub. Law 221, 78th Cong.; 8 U.S.C. 735, 739)

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDER

[Suspension Order S-495]

HOPE WEBBING COMPANY, INC.

Hope Webbing Company, Inc., of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, is a manufacturer chiefly of cotton fabrics, in addition to which it has made jute fabrics for a single customer. This customer early in 1942 placed rated orders for 10,000 gross yards of jute tape, calling for deliveries at the rate of 500 gross yards weekly. Hope Webbing Company proceeded to make deliveries under these orders. On July 15, 1942, the customer notified Hope Webbing Company that its inventory exceeded that permitted by the War Production Board. It requested that further shipments be withheld until needed and notice be given, and from that time on it continually protested against the deliveries made by the Hope Webbing Company.

Between March 1942 and March 1943 (both inclusive) Hope Webbing Company delivered 69,788 pounds of jute tape, in no instance receiving from the customer the certificate required by Conservation Order M-70 certifying that receipt of the products would not bring the customer's stocks over a one month's inventory based on its current rate of operations. After July 15, 1942, the Hope Webbing Company was, in fact, informed to the contrary, and yet it insisted on making deliveries. It knew that such deliveries would bring about an excessive customer's inventory with respect to the deliveries which it made from August 1942 to March 1943 (both inclusive), and it was a violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1, knowingly to make deliveries under those circumstances. Thus, the acts of Hope Webbing Company, Inc., constituted knowing and wilful violations both of Conservation Order M-70 and Priorities Regulation No. 1, which have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.495 Suspension Order No. S-495. (a) Hope Webbing Company, Inc., its successors and assigns, shall not put into process any cotton, rayon, jute or cotton, rayon or jute products except to fill orders rated AA–3 or higher.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Hope Webbing Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on the date of issuance, and shall expire on June 29th, 1944.

Issued this 29th day of February 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3133—PRINTING AND PUBLISHING

[Limitation Order L–240, as Amended Mar. 1, 1944]

NEWSPAPERS

§ 3133.6 Limitation Order L–240—(a) The purpose of this order. This order does two things: First, it limits the tonnage of print paper which may be used by a publisher in printing a newspaper. This is called his "consumption quota". Second, it limits the tonnage of print paper which may be ordered or accepted by a newspaper publisher. This is called his "delivery quota". A publisher's consumption quota is on a quarterly basis and his delivery quota is on a monthly basis.

Definitions and Explanations

(b) Newspaper. "Newspaper" means any publication generally recognized as a newspaper in the newspaper industry, regardless of the frequency of issuance. The term includes all supplements, inserts and other printed matter physically incorporated into a newspaper or delivered together with it.

Where two or more newspapers are published by the same publisher, whether in the same city or in different cities, each newspaper shall operate under a separate consumption quota and a separate delivery quota. In computing his consumption quota a publisher must make separate calculations for morning, evening and Sunday editions, but these figures must be consolidated into a single consumption quota for each newspaper, in accordance with the instructions contained in paragraph (k).

However, morning, evening, Sunday and other editions of the same newspaper shall operate under a single consumption quota and a single delivery quota.

In determining whether a publisher issues separate newspapers or separate editions of the same newspaper, the number and form of the reports customarily filed by the publisher with the Audit Bureau of Circulations will be controlling, in the absence of special circumstances. Thus, if a publisher filed consolidated statements with the Audit Bureau of Circulations covering morning, evening and Sunday issues, even if these issues had different names, different formats and different staffs, they will ordinarily be considered as a single newspaper for the purposes of this order. If a publisher filed separate statements with the Audit Bureau of Circulations covering his morning, evening, Sunday and other publications, they will ordinarily be considered as separate newspapers for the purposes of this order.

(c) Camp papers and free distribution publications: Army or Navy camp, post, station or unit "newspapers" or news sheets generally are not recognized as newspapers in the newspaper industry. They are covered by Order L–241 (commercial printing). Shopping guides, want ad periodicals and publications in newspaper format distributed free or at nominal cost also are not recognized as newspapers within the meaning of this order and are governed by Order L–241, Schedule II.

(d) Publisher. "Publisher" means a person who publishes a newspaper, including an individual, partnership, association, business trust, corporation, governmental corporation or agency, or any organized group of persons whether incorporated or not.

(e) Print paper. "Print paper" means any grade, quality, type or basis weight of paper used in publishing a newspaper. The term includes paper reclaimed wholly or partly from printed or unprinted waste, as well as paper made entirely from virgin fiber. It also includes roll wrappers, newsprint used as wrappers, identification sheets and labels for newspapers, and production waste, whether or not this waste is subsequently salvaged for other uses.

(f) Use. All production waste shall be included in the tonnage of print paper "used" in printing a newspaper. Transit damage shall not be included in a publisher's "use" of print paper. A roll of print paper is considered "used" when it is first opened and placed in production.

(g) Net paid circulation. "Net paid circulation" means the number of copies of a newspaper which have been sold (exclusive of bulk sales), as audited by the Audit Bureau of Circulations or (in the case of newspapers which are not members of the Audit Bureau of Circulations) as verified in accordance with the standards of the Audit Bureau of Circulations of January 1, 1942.

(h) Inventory. "Inventory" means all the print paper which is owned by a publisher or is available for his use. It includes the print paper which he has on hand, in storage, and in transit, and paper held for his use by a paper merchant, warehouseman or other person, regardless of its physical location.

(i) Transfer of quotas—(1) Quotas established by different orders. Quotas provided by one War Production Board order may not be used for the purposes set forth in any other order. Thus, for example, a publisher may not use for the printing of a newspaper any part of a consumption quota established under Orders L–241 (commercial printing), L–244 (magazines) or L–245 (books) and he may not permit any part of his consumption quota established under this order to be used for commercial printing, magazines or books. If a newspaper publisher also conducts a job printing business, he must keep these two operations separate for quota purposes. The amount of print paper which he is permitted to consume and the amount which he is permitted to order or accept for the publication of his newspaper is limited by this order. The amount of print paper which he is permitted to consume and the amount which he is permitted to accept for his commercial printing business is limited by Order L–241.

(2) Transfer of quotas to different persons. The rules governing the assignability of quotas are set forth in Priorities Regulation 7a.

Consumption Quota

(j) Allowable consumption. In the first quarter of 1944, and in each calendar quarter after that, no publisher may use or cause to be used, in the publication of a newspaper, print paper in excess of:

(1) His quarterly consumption quota, which shall be computed in accordance with the instructions set forth in paragraph (k), plus

(2) Any less-than-quota savings carried over from previous calendar quarters, as provided in paragraph (l), plus

(3) Ex-quota tonnage, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for consumption in that quarter.

(k) Computation of consumption quota—(1) Base tonnages. Ascertain, separately, the tonnage of print paper comprising the net paid circulation of morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper in the corresponding quarter of 1941. Add 3 per cent to each figure. (This 3 per cent is an arbitrary allowance to compensate for production waste and should be added whether the actual production waste in 1941 was greater or less than 3 per cent). These are the "base tonnages" for morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper, which shall be adjusted in accordance with instructions 2, 3, and 4.

(2) Circulation increase. Ascertain, separately, the percentage increase or decrease in average net paid circulation of morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper in the calendar year 1942 as compared with the calendar year 1941. (The average net paid circulation for each year shall be determined by adding together the average net paid circulation for each of the four quarters of the year and dividing by four).

(3) Tonnage equivalent of circulation increase. Apply, separately, the respective percentages of circulation increase or decrease determined under instruction number 2 to the respective base tonnages determined under instruction number 1 for morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper.

(4) Adjustment of base tonnages. Adjust the respective base tonnages determined under instruction number 1 by adding or subtracting the number of tons represented by the percentage circulation gain or loss determined under instruction number 3.

(5) Total adjusted base tonnage. Total the respective base tonnages for morning, evening, Sunday or other issues of the newspaper determined under instruction number 1. Total the respective adjusted base tonnages for morning, evening, Sunday, or other issues of the newspaper determined under instruction number 4. The larger of these two totals is the publisher's "total adjusted base tonnage" from which the required reductions shall be applied.

(6) Sliding scale of reductions. Reduce the total adjusted base tonnage by the following sliding scale of percentage cuts:

(i) Deduct 4% of the amount over 25 tons but not over 125 tons.
(ii) Deduct 8% of the amount over 125 tons but not over 250 tons.
(iii) Deduct 12% of the amount over 250 tons but not over 500 tons.
(iv) Deduct 20% of the amount over 500 tons but not over 1000 tons.
(v) Deduct 24% of the amount over 1000 tons.

(7) Consumption quota. The balance remaining after subtraction of the above reductions from the total adjusted base tonnage determined under instruction number 5 is the publisher's consumption quota for the quarter.

(l) Carry-over. If a publisher uses less print paper than he is permitted to use in the fourth quarter of 1943, or in any calendar quarter after that, he may add this tonnage to his consumption quota in any succeeding quarter.

(m) Exceptions for small newspapers. The restrictions on the consumption of print paper established by this order do not apply to:

(1) Special types of newspapers. Any newspaper containing eight pages or less which is authorized to be admitted to the mails as second class matter under the provisions of section 521 of the Postal Laws and Regulations of 1940 (Title 39 U.S.C. Sec. 229) pertaining to the publications of benevolent, fraternal, trades-union, professional, literary, historical, and scientific organizations and societies.

(2) Newspapers using less than 25 tons per quarter. Any newspaper which shall consume less than 25 tons of print paper in a calendar quarter, regardless of the tonnage of paper consumed previously. The publisher of any such newspaper is authorized, in addition, to increase his permitted usage by the tonnage of print paper consumed in printing copies of his newspaper furnished to the Armed Services of the United States, whether such copies are sold or are distributed free of charge.

Delivery Quota

(n) Computation of delivery quota. In January, 1944, and in each calendar month after that, no publisher may order or accept delivery of print paper in excess of his monthly delivery quota, which shall be computed in accordance with the following instructions:

(1) Monthly base. To the publisher's consumption quota for the current calendar quarter add ex-quota paper, if any, which may have been granted on appeal for use in the current calendar quarter. Divide the sum by three.

(2) Inventory ceiling. The above amount shall be reduced accordingly if a publisher's inventory is, or by virtue of such order or acceptance will become, at the end of the current calendar quarter, greater than: (i) 40 days' supply for publishers in the states named in List A, (ii) 65 days' supply for publishers in the states named in List B, or (iii) 60 tons for publishers who would be limited to a smaller amount by subdivision (i) or (ii) above.

List A

Connecticut.	Nebraska.
District of Columbia.	New Hampshire.
Delaware.	New Jersey.
Illinois.	New York.
Indiana.	North Dakota.
Iowa.	Ohio.
Kansas.	Pennsylvania.
Kentucky.	Rhode Island.

Arkansas.	North Carolina.
California.	Oklahoma.
Colorado.	Oregon.
Florida.	South Carolina.
Georgia.	Tennessee.
Idaho.	Texas.
Louisiana.	Utah.
Montana.	Washington.
Mississippi.	Wyoming.

In computing the maximum tonnage which a publisher may have in his inventory, he shall exclude any less-than-quota savings under his consumption quota carried over from previous quarters.

(3) Computation of rate of consumption. The number of days' supply shall be computed at the average daily rate of allowable consumption for the first six months of 1944.

(4) Fractional carloads. If a publisher's delivery quota for any month is less than one carload it may be increased to one full carload. If it is a whole number of carloads plus a fraction of another carload, the fraction may be added to his delivery quota for any succeeding month.

(5) Transit damage. If print paper in inventory is destroyed or damaged to such an extent that it becomes unusable in publishing his newspaper, whether this occurs while the paper is in transit or after it has reached its destination, the publisher may increase his delivery quota (but not his consumption quota) in the same or any subsequent month by an amount sufficient to replace such paper. It is immaterial whether or not the publisher is reimbursed for the destroyed or damaged paper by the shipper, the carrier, or an insurance company. It is also immaterial whether or not the publisher salvages all or part of the damaged paper for use other than in publishing his newspaper.

(6) Report on transit damage. Any publisher who increases his delivery quota to replace destroyed or damaged print paper in accordance with subparagraph 5 above shall, within 15 days after placing the order for such replacement, file a letter with the War Production Board stating the number of tons comprising the publisher's delivery quota for that month, the number of tons destroyed or damaged, the manner in which such print paper was rendered unfit for use in publishing his newspaper, and the number of tons ordered in excess of his delivery quota. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(o) Exceptions. (1) The provisions of paragraphs (n) (1), (n) (2), and (n) (3) do not apply to a publisher who receives print paper by Great Lakes or coastal water-borne shipments. Such a publisher may not order or accept delivery of a total amount of print paper by water, rail or otherwise in any calendar year (including both the open and the closed navigation season) in excess of his allowable consumption for that calendar year, and his inventory may not exceed 40 days' supply on May 1 of each calendar year.

NOTE: Following paragraph designated (2) Mar. 1, 1944.

(2) Permission to order or accept delivery of print paper in excess of the tonnage allowed under paragraph (n) may be granted by the War Production Board upon a written request for specific authorization stating the number of tons and the number of days' supply of print paper which the publisher has in inventory, the number of tons comprising his delivery quota, the number of additional tons he desires to order and accept, and the reasons why the denial of the request would create undue hardship.

(p) Certification. On and after December 24, 1943, each order by a publisher for delivery of print paper shall contain substantially the following certification, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7 (§ 944.27) by an official duly authorized for such purpose:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, and to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered.

No person may deliver print paper to a publisher except upon a delivery order which bears the above certification.

(q) Copies of orders. On and after March 1, 1944, the publisher of every newspaper which consumes 25 tons of print paper or more in any calendar quarter shall file with the War Production Board copies of all orders for the delivery of print paper placed by him or for his account. Such copies must be mailed within three days after the orders are placed. On or before March 15, 1944, every such publisher shall mail to the War Production Board copies of all orders for the delivery of print paper placed by him or for his account since January 1, 1944. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NOTE: Paragraphs (r) through (w), formerly (p) through (v), redesignated Mar. 1, 1944.

(r) Intra-company transfers. The foregoing restrictions apply not only to deliveries from one person to another, including affiliates and subsidiaries, but also to deliveries from one branch, division, or section of a single enterprise to another branch, division, or section of the same or any other enterprise under common ownership or control.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(s) Loans of print paper. Any loan of print paper made by a publisher shall be reported to the War Production Board by letter within 15 days after the date of the loan. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(t) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected by it are subject to all present and future regulations of the War Production Board.

(u) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in duplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

SECTION 1. Explanation of the regulation. This regulation applies to you if you are a grower-packer, packer or jobber of Connecticut Shade Grown tobacco (Type No. 61) of the 1943 crop, or if you buy this tobacco from any grower-packer, packer or jobber. It fixes maximum prices for sales and purchases of the tobacco in the continental United States. The maximum prices and pricing methods may be found in section 10, and section 11.

The maximum prices fixed in this regulation apply, only to sales and purchases of the 1943 crop. Maximum prices for the 1942 crop were established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 308.[1]

"Connecticut Shade Grown tobacco (Type No. 61)" means United States Type No. 61 as specified in Regulatory Announcement No. 118 of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture.

SEC. 2. What is prohibited under this regulation—(a) In general. On and after the date this regulation becomes effective, regardless of any contract, lease or other obligation, you must not sell or deliver, and you must not buy or receive in the course of trade or business any Connecticut Shade Grown tobacco at a price higher than the maximum price for the particular sale of the grade and size of that tobacco as set forth in section 10 or section 11, and you may not agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of these acts.

However, you may charge, demand, pay or offer prices lower than those fixed by this regulation.

(b) Evasion—(1) In General. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to any grade and size of this tobacco for which maximum prices are established by this regulation, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity; or by way of any commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

(2) Specific practices which are evasions. (i) You must not sell or buy this tobacco other than as a grade or in a condition for which maximum prices are fixed under section 10 or section 11.

(ii) If you sell this tobacco, you must not grade any of the tobacco in a manner that alters or deviates from your customary grading practices with respect to the 1941 crop.

(iii) If you sell this tobacco to a particular purchaser, you must not eliminate or reduce the discounts or initial credit terms allowed by you on sales of the 1941 crop to that purchaser or, if you made no sales of the 1941 crop to the particular purchaser, you must not eliminate or reduce the customary discounts or initial credit terms allowed by you on sales of the 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class.

[1] 8 F.R. 1136, 7260.

(iv) If you sell this tobacco, you must not eliminate or reduce any commissions, allowances, fees or other compensations customarily paid by you to a broker or agent on similar sales of prior crops.

NOTE: The above-enumerated practices are not intended to be exclusive of other practices which constitute evasions of the provisions of this regulation.

"Initial credit terms" means terms fixing the time for payment of the purchase price agreed to by a seller and buyer at or prior to delivery of the tobacco.

(c) Penalties for violations. If you violate any provisions of this regulation, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 [2] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, apply to you if you are a seller subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 3. Records to be kept. (a) If you sell this tobacco, you must keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, all of your existing records relating to the prices which you charged for any of the 1941 and 1942 crops of this tobacco.

(b) If you sell or buy this tobacco, you must keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, for as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records of the same kind as you have customarily kept relating to the prices which you charged or paid for any of the 1943 crop of this tobacco.

(c) If you sell or buy this tobacco, you must within 10 days after the close of the 1943 marketing season file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a signed statement certifying that no sale or purchase of any grade and size of the tobacco was made by you at a price higher than the maximum price fixed by this regulation for that particular grade and size.

(d) If you sell or buy this tobacco, you must submit to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., any reports based on the records required by this section as may be later requested, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 4. Export sales. The maximum prices at which you may export this tobacco must be figured under the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this regulation apply to the forty-eight states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 6. Petitions for amendment. If you seek a general modification of any provision of this regulation, you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[4] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 7. Applications for exemption of sales to and purchases from subsidiaries. (1) If you are a corporation engaged in the business of manufacturing tobacco products and purchase this tobacco for your own use from one or more of your subsidiaries, you may, jointly with your subsidiary, apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for permission to make those sales and purchases without regard to the maximum prices established by this regulation, if the following conditions are satisfied:

(i) Sales and purchases for which you seek that permission will be made in accordance with business practices established by you and your subsidiary during and prior to March 1942. These practices must include, but are not limited to purchases by you of all of this tobacco sold by your subsidiary (with the exception of insignificant portions or by-products of the tobacco); and

(ii) Compliance with the price limitations of this regulation requires or threatens to require substantial changes in the standard accounting practices used by you and your subsidiary during and since March 1942 as applied to your records of intercompany transactions; and

(iii) The tobacco to be sold and purchased (with the exception of insignificant portions or by-products) must be intended for use by you solely in the manufacture of tobacco products for which maximum prices are established by the General Maximum Price Regulation [5] or other regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) Form of application. The application must be in writing, signed by you and your subsidiary and must set forth all information necessary to substantiate the existence of the conditions required by paragraph (1). After receipt of your application, the Office of Price Administration or any of its duly authorized officers, may by order grant the requested permission if in its judgment that action will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. This permission, if granted, may be revoked in the same manner at any time.

(3) Permission granted under this section may not be used as justification for any increase in maximum prices established for products manufactured from the tobacco involved.

"Subsidiary" means a corporation whose business operations during and since March 1942 are controlled through ownership of voting stock by a parent company engaged in the manufacture of tobacco products, and whose business activities are confined to producing, buying, curing or handling tobacco for its parent company.

SEC. 8. Adjustable pricing. You may agree to sell this tobacco at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but you may not, unless you are authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upwards in accordance with action taken by that Office after delivery. This authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

SEC. 9. Additional definitions. (a) Terms used in this regulation and not elsewhere defined have the following meanings:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons or a legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(b) Grades not listed. If you are a grower-packer or a packer, your maximum price for sized, sorted and packed Connecticut Shade Grown tobacco of the 1943 crop of a particular grade not listed in Table 1 is:

(1) The highest price you charged a purchaser of the same class for the same grade of this tobacco of the 1941 crop, plus 20%; or

(2) If you cannot figure your price for any particular grade under (1), your maximum price is the highest price charged for the same grade of this tobacco of the 1941 crop, by a seller of the same class to a purchaser of the same class, plus 20%; or

(3) If you cannot figure your maximum price for any particular grade under (1) or (2), your maximum price is the highest price you charged a purchaser of the same class for the most comparable grade of this tobacco of the 1941 crop, plus 20%; or

(4) If you cannot figure your maximum price for any particular grade under (1), (2) or (3), your maximum price is the highest price a seller of the same class charged a purchaser of the same class for the most comparable grade of this tobacco of the 1941 crop, plus 20%.

"Seller of the same class" means a seller (1) performing the same function (for example, farming, manufacturing, distributing, retailing, processing, storing, reselling), (2) of similar type (for example, grower-packer, packer, jobber, manufacturer), (3) dealing in the same type of commodities, and (4) selling to the same class of purchaser.

(c) Listed grades assorted and unsized or unassorted (whether sized or unsized). If you are a grower-packer or a packer, your maximum price for any priming of this tobacco, assorted and unsized or unassorted (whether sized or unsized) is the weighted average of the maximum prices of the grades contained in the particular quantity sold, less 25 cents per pound. This weighted average price must be figured according to the grade prices listed in Table 1 and in accordance with the seller's customary sampling practices.

"Weighted average of the maximum prices" means the amount obtained by:

(1) Multiplying the total number of pounds of each grade and size in the quantity sold, by the maximum price for that grade and size as set forth in section 10 or section 11.

(2) Adding together the resulting figures obtained in (1); and

(3) Dividing the sum obtained in (2) by the total number of pounds of all grades and sizes in the quantity sold.

(d) Discounts and allowances. If you are a grower-packer or a packer, you must allow from your maximum prices established under this regulation for the 1943 crop, your customary discounts and allowances on sales of the 1941 crop to the particular purchaser. If you made no sales of the 1941 crop to the particular purchaser, you must allow from your maximum prices your customary discounts and allowances on sales of the 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class.

SEC. 11. Maximum prices for jobbers. If you are a jobber, your maximum price for any of the 1943 crop of Connecticut Shade Grown tobacco of a particular grade, sized, sorted and packed, or for this tobacco of any priming sold assorted and unsized, or unassorted (whether sized or unsized) must be figured as follows:

(a) You must determine the highest price you charged for this tobacco of the same grade, or of the same priming and in the same condition sold and delivered during the period from January 1, 1942 through December 31, 1942. You may then add to that amount 16⅔ percent of your purchase price for that particular tobacco of the 1943 crop. The result of the addition shall be your maximum price for the tobacco.

(b) If you cannot figure your maximum price for any particular tobacco under (a), you must ascertain the highest price charged by your most closely competitive jobber for tobacco of the same grade, or of the same priming and in the same condition sold and delivered during the period from January 1, 1942 through December 31, 1942. You may add to that amount 16⅔ percent of your purchase price for that particular tobacco of the 1943 crop. The result of the addition shall be your maximum price for the tobacco.

(c) If you cannot figure your maximum price for any particular tobacco under (a) or (b), you must ascertain the highest price charged by your most closely competitive jobber for the most comparable tobacco of the same grade, or of the same priming and in the same condition sold and delivered during the period from January 1, 1942 through December 31, 1942. You may then add to that amount 16⅔ percent of your purchase price for that particular tobacco of the 1943 crop. The result of the addition shall be your maximum price for the tobacco.

(d) Discounts and allowances. If you sell this tobacco as a jobber, you must allow from your maximum prices established under this regulation your customary discounts and allowances on sales of the 1941 crop to the particular purchaser. If you made no sales of the 1941 crop to the particular purchaser, you must allow from such maximum prices your customary discounts and allowances on sales by you of the 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class.

"Jobber" means any person who purchases tobacco and holds or offers such tobacco for resale.

"Most closely competitive jobber" means a seller of the same class who (1) sells the same or a similar commodity and (2) is closely competitive in the sale of that commodity and (3) is located nearest to the seller.

"Purchase price" when used with reference to the price paid by a jobber for any of this tobacco means the gross amount contracted to be paid by the purchaser to his supplier, before allowances for discounts and exclusive of transportation charges. The term does not include any amount in excess of the supplier's maximum price fixed under this regulation.

SEC. 12. Additional pricing provision. If you cannot figure your maximum price for any particular tobacco or any particular sale of this tobacco, you must apply by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., requesting that a maximum price be fixed for the particular tobacco or sale. A statement should be furnished setting forth (a) the name and address of the buyer of any tobacco that cannot be priced; (b) a description of the tobacco by grade and size; and (c) the reasons you are unable to determine your maximum price under section 10 or section 11.

Upon receipt of the application, the Office of Price Administration will by order establish a maximum price, or prescribe a method of determining a maximum price for the applicant. Until a maximum price is established, or a method of determining a maximum price is prescribed, the applicant may deliver the tobacco but he may not receive payment for it.

This regulation shall become effective February 29, 1944.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service

PART 12—ADMINISTRATION OF NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES: GENERAL REGULATIONS

SALE OF SURPLUS ANIMALS AND PRODUCTS

Under authority of section 10 of the Migratory Bird Conservation Act of February 18, 1929 (45 Stat. 1224; 16 U.S.C. 715i); section 84 of the act of March 4, 1909, as amended April 15, 1924, 43 Stat. 98; 16 U.S.C. 145; and section 401 of the act of June 15, 1935, 49 Stat. 383; 16 U.S.C., Sup., 715s, the following is hereby ordered:

Section 12.17 Sale of surplus animals and products[1] is hereby amended by striking out paragraph (b) Fur animals and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(b) Fur animals. Under the direction of the Director and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed by him surplus fur animals (1) may be taken by employees of the Service, (2) may be taken under permit issued by the Director or regional director upon such terms and at such rates of charge or at such division of the pelts and/or carcasses as may be determined by the Director to be commensurate with the value of the operation or privilege granted, having due regard to prevailing market values and trapping conditions, or (3) may be taken by public trapping under permit issued by the officer in charge, such trapping to be at such rates of charge, if any, as the Director may determine to be commensurate with the value of the privilege granted, having due regard to prevailing market values and trapping conditions.

The disposition or sale of fur animals and the pelts or carcasses thereof accruing to the United States may be made upon such terms and conditions as the Director shall determine to be for the best interests of the government or for the advancement of knowledge and the dissemination of information regarding wildlife, including but not limited to sale in the open market, exchange for animals of the same or other kinds, and gifts or loans to public or private institutions for exhibition or propagation, or they may be used by the Service for wildlife management and research purposes. The Fish and Wildlife Service, in accordance with regulations governing the employment of persons, may employ for the purpose of taking and disposing of fur animals on the refuges and may pay from refuge receipts, (1) trappers on a fee basis for the pelt of each fur animal trapped or on such other basis as the Director may consider to be equitable, and (2) such inspectors, assistant inspectors, fur handlers, and laborers as may be necessary in the discretion of the Director to supervise and inspect all trapping operations, and to skin, dry, stretch, pack, ship, and sell or otherwise dispose of all fur animal skins and carcasses. The amount of the fee to be paid trappers for each species and classification of fur animals shall be determined by the Director. The compensation of inspectors, assistant inspectors, fur handlers, and laborers may be fixed on an hourly, daily, monthly, or annual basis at such rates as are determined under the usual departmental procedure to be consistent with the duties and responsibilities of the respective positions.

(1) Trapping permits. Any person exercising the privilege of trapping within a refuge shall be in possession of a valid trapping permit of the Fish and Wildlife Service as may be required pursuant to this section. He shall carry such permit or evidence thereof on his person while trapping, and when requested to do so, shall exhibit the same to any officer or employee of the Department of the Interior authorized to enforce the game and fish laws of the United States.

(2) Prohibited methods and acts. The possession or use within the boundaries of the refuge of a spear or any other similar device by means of which fur animals may be taken, or of any trap or other device that does not comply with the requirements of these regulations or the conditions prescribed by the Director is not permitted, and any illegal traps or other devices found on the refuge may be seized by an authorized representative of the Fish and Wildlife Service. Unless specially authorized by permit, no person shall hunt fur animals with a gun or with the aid of a dog, or disturb or molest any muskrat house, beaver house, beaver dam, or fur-animal den, or set a trap within three feet of any muskrat house or feeding house or fur-animal den, or within one hundred feet of any beaver house or beaver dam. No person shall run a trap line or visit traps between sunset and one-half hour before sunrise.

(3) Trapped birds and mammals. Birds and mammals other than those authorized to be trapped that are found alive in the traps of the permittee shall be immediately liberated. Birds and mammals other than those authorized to be trapped that are found dead or mortally injured in the traps shall be immediately turned over to the officer in charge or his representative.

(4) Forfeiture of privileges. Failure of any person trapping on the refuge to comply with any of the provisions, conditions, restrictions, or requirements of the regulations in this section, or the violation by him of any provision of Federal laws or regulations applicable to wildlife, not only will render such person liable to prosecution under the law, but also will be sufficient cause for removing him from the refuge and for refusing him further trapping privileges on such refuge or any other use or privilege on any such refuge for which a permit may be required.

LEA BROS. COAL MINING CO. AND STEEL TIPPLE COAL CO.

Coal Mining Co., Rural Route No. 2, Peoria, Illinois, or Steel Tipple Coal Co., Box 52, Eldorado, Illinois. Accordingly, I order and direct that the possession by the Government of the mines of the said mining companies, including any and all real and personal property, franchises, rights, facilities, funds, and other assets used in connection with the operation of such mines be, and it is hereby, terminated and that there be conspicuously displayed at those mining properties copies of a poster to be supplied by the Coal Mines Administration and reading as follows:

NOTICE: Government possession and control of the coal mines of this mining company have been terminated by order of the Secretary of the Interior.

Instruments of agreement and certification having heretofore been executed and filed with the Coal Mines Administration by each of said companies, the appointments of the operating managers for their mines are terminated, as provided by section 25 (f), as amended of the regulations for the operation of coal mines under Government control.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator of Region I of the Office of Price Administration by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, it is hereby ordered:

(a) Maximum prices established by this order. The maximum prices established by §§ 1340.252, 1340.254, 1340.256, 1340.257 and 1340.265 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 for sales of specified kinds of solid fuels in the Burlington, Vermont, Area by dealers, and for specified services rendered by dealers in connection with the sale or handling of said specified solid fuels, are hereby modified, so that the maximum prices therefore shall be the prices hereinafter set forth.

Maximum prices are established for (1) sales of various quantities of the specified solid fuels to various classes of purchasers under various conditions of delivery; and (2) charges which may be made, in addition to such maximum prices for the specified solid fuels, for specified services.

The geographical applicability of this Order G-54 is explained in paragraph (h) and the terms used herein are defined in paragraph (f).

Except as otherwise specifically provided herein, the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122 apply to all transactions which are the subject of this Order G-54. Specifically, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the prohibitions contained in § 1340.252 apply except to the extent that this Order G-54 provides uniform allowances, discounts, price differentials, service charges, and so forth. Nothing contained in this order shall be so construed as to permit non-compliance with any statutes of the State of Vermont, or any rules or regulations promulgated under any such statutes, concerning sales or deliveries of solid fuels.

SMITH BOTTLING WORKS, INCORPORATED

CONSENT ORDER

Smith Bottling Works, Incorporated, located at 127-129 River Street, Harlan, Kentucky, is engaged in the bottling and distribution of non-alcoholic beverages. The War Production Board in a letter dated January 6, 1944, charged the company with having used 6,954 gross of new closures made of restricted materials, for the period from June 1, 1942 to October 1, 1943, in excess of the quota permitted under the provisions of Conservation Order M-104, as then in effect. Smith Bottling Works, Incorporated, admits the excess use as charged and has consented to the issuance of this order.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Smith Bottling Works, Incorporated, the Regional Compliance Chief and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) Smith Bottling Works, Incorporated, its successors or assigns, shall during the calendar year of 1944 reduce its use of new closures made of restricted materials to be affixed to glass containers for non-alcoholic beverages by 6,954 gross, under the quota it would otherwise be entitled to use in such period, as provided by Limitation Order L-103-b, which on January 4, 1944, superseded Conservation Order M-104, controlling the use of such closures. Any exceptions to the aforementioned reductions in use must be specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Smith Bottling Works, Incorporated, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect as of the date of issuance, and shall expire on December 31, 1944.

PART 942—MILK IN THE NEW ORLEANS, LOUISIANA, MARKETING AREA

Order suspending certain provisions of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the New Orleans, Louisiana, marketing area.

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (7 U. S. (4) The term "Armed Services of the United States" means the Army, the Navy, the Marine Corps, or the Coast Guard of the United States.

(5) The term "restricted spice" means any spice designated by the Director which, during any quota period, is subject to a quota fixed for that period by the Director, and shall include such spice in ground, unground, distilled, mixed or other form. Such term shall also include the quantity of each such restricted spice which is contained in a spice blend.

(6) The term "spice blend" means the mixture of restricted spice with other restricted or unrestricted spice or some other material, which results in another spice product, such as, but not restricted to, pickling spice, curry powder, poultry seasoning, or imitation spice.

(7) The term "bulk dealer" means any person who deals in restricted spice exclusively in the original import package.

(8) The term "packer" means any person who grinds, distills, or packs restricted spice owned by him, or has such spice ground, distilled, or packed for his account by some other person, for resale.

(9) The term "receiver" means any person who accepts delivery of restricted spice for resale at wholesale or retail, or for use in operating a public, private, commercial, or institutional eating place, but such term shall include neither any bulk dealer nor any governmental agency.

(10) The term "industrial user" means any person who uses restricted spice in the manufacture or processing of any product, other than a spice blend, for resale.

(2) The base period for any person who was not in business during any base period specified by the Director for computing a quota hereunder shall be the earliest period of equal length that such person was in business after the beginning of the base period so specified by the Director.

(3) All quotas hereunder shall be computed in terms of pounds and, if a distilled or extracted spice, the weight equivalent.

(c) Unused quotas. Any person who does not utilize, during any quota period, his quota of restricted spice for such quota period may utilize the unused portion of such quota only in the next succeeding quota period and then only if he has used his entire quota for such subsequent quota period.

(d) Exemptions. (1) Restricted spice delivered to a governmental agency or used in the manufacture of a product delivered to a governmental agency shall not be charged to the delivery, acceptance, or use quota of the person who so delivers or uses such restricted spice. Restricted spice obtained by any person for delivery to a governmental agency, use in the manufacture of a product delivered to a governmental agency, replacing restricted spice so delivered or used, or delivered to a third person for any such use shall not be charged to the delivery, acceptance, or use quota of either the person obtaining the restricted spice, or the person from whom such restricted spice is obtained, if the person who so obtains the restricted spice certifies in writing to the supplier thereof that the restricted spice so delivered is to be utilized for any of the foregoing purposes.

(2) No person shall, in computing his quota, include any quantity of restricted spice which was delivered to, or used in the manufacture of any product delivered to, a governmental agency in the base period.

(3) The restrictions of (b) (1) shall not apply to any deliveries of restricted spice in the original import package by a packer to another packer or to a bulk dealer. (2) Each bulk dealer, packer, and receiver shall sell restricted spice equitably to purchasers and shall not favor purchasers who buy other products from them or discriminate against purchasers who do not buy other products from them.

(f) Inventory restrictions. Except for the purpose of filling orders under (d) (1) hereof:

(1) No packer shall accept, during any quota period, delivery of a quantity of black or white pepper which will cause the total quantity of black pepper and white pepper owned by such person to be in excess of an amount equal to the sum of such packer's delivery quotas for black pepper and white pepper for the then current quota period and the next succeeding quota period.

(2) No receiver shall accept, during any quota period, delivery of any restricted spice which will cause the total quantity of such restricted spice owned by the respective receiver to exceed his quota for such restricted spice for such quota period: Provided, That this restriction shall not apply to the quantity of restricted spice contained in a spice blend accepted by any such receiver.

(3) No industrial user shall accept, during any quota period, delivery of a quantity of any restricted spice which will cause the total quantity of such restricted spice which is owned by him to exceed a practicable minimum working inventory, in view of the restrictions herein relating to his use of such spice.

(g) Applicability of order. (1) Any person doing business in one or more of the 48 States or the District of Columbia is subject to the provisions hereof, but the provisions hereof shall not apply to any person doing business exclusively within any Territory or Possession of the United States with respect to such business.

(2) In the case of any person who combines two or more of the businesses of a packer, a receiver, or an industrial user, the provisions hereof applicable to each such business shall apply separately to such of his operations as are part of such class of business. However, any packer who distributes his entire production of restricted spices through a wholesale subsidiary company may elect to consider the two companies as one and apply his quota to deliveries made by the subsidiary company.

(3) Any person who operates more than one unit (branch, division, store, subsidiary company, or other similar unit) in the same class of business may, at his election, consider any such units or groups of units as separate persons for purposes of applying the quota and inventory restrictions of this order.

(h) Contracts. The provisions of this order, or of any orders or regulations issued in pursuance hereof, shall be observed without regard to contracts heretofore or hereafter entered into, or any rights accrued, or payments made thereunder.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

VARDAMAN SHOE COMPANY

Vardaman Shoe Company is a Missouri corporation with offices at 320 North 4th Street, St. Louis, Missouri, and a shoe factory at Owensville, Missouri. Its affairs are now being administered by a Trustee in Bankruptcy under the provisions of the Corporate Reorganization Act. Between April 1, 1943, and August 15, 1943, it manufactured and sold 15,428 pairs of boots, known as women's, and misses' "field boots", in violation of War Production Board Conservation Order M-217. The restrictions of the order were known to the company and the manufacture and sale of these "field boots", which were not permitted under the order, must be deemed to be in wilful violation of the order.

These violations of Conservation Order M-217 have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States by diverting scarce materials to uses unauthorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.490 Suspension Order No. S-490. (a) During the six month period beginning March 1, 1944, and ending September 1, 1944, the maximum number of pairs of shoe that Vardaman Shoe Company may put into process, manufacture or complete, shall be 15,000 pairs less than its quota as determined by the provisions of Conservation Order M-217. Such deductions from its quota shall be made only in what is known as the women's and growing girls' line, at the rate of 2,500 pairs per month. This reduction in quota shall apply to the Trustee in Bankruptcy and all successors and assigns of the Trustee and the Company.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Vardaman Shoe Company, its Trustee, or the successors and assigns of the Trustee or the Company, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except in so far as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 1, 1944, and shall expire on September 1, 1944.

Issued this 17th day of February 1944.

Recording Secretary.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Conservation Order M-353 as Amended Feb. 29, 1944] [1]

PURE TITANIUM DIOXIDE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of titanium dioxide for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.546 Conservation Order M-353—(a) Definitions. (1) "Titanium dioxide" means any pigment containing more than 12 per cent titanium dioxide whether alone or admixed with or precipitated on inerts, extenders, or opaque pigments.

(b) Inapplicability of certain preference ratings. No person shall give any effect to any preference ratings below AA-2 on any purchase order for titanium dioxide, unless the person placing such purchase order furnishes a certificate in substantially the following form signed by a duly authorized official, either manually or as provided by Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned hereby certifies to the War Production Board and to _____ [insert name and address of supplier] that he is familiar with the provisions of Order No. M-353 and that his purchase order, dated _____, for titanium dioxide is a military order as defined in Order M-353.

(Name of purchaser)

By _____
(Signature and title of duly authorized official)

Orders rated below AA-2, not accompanied by the certificate, may be filed as unrated orders to the extent permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 1. The certificate need not be filed with the War Production Board. Any person receiving it may rely upon it in filling orders unless he knows or has reason to believe that it is false. The standard certification described in Priorities Regulation No. 7 may not be used instead.

(c) Special directives. The War Production Board may at any time issue special directives to any person respecting the production or delivery of titanium dioxide, notwithstanding the other provisions of this order.

(d) [Deleted Feb. 29, 1944]

(e) Applicability of regulations. Except as provided in paragraph (b) above, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-353.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L-83 as Amended March 2, 1944]

INDUSTRIAL MACHINERY

The term "new critical industrial machinery" means any critical industrial machinery which has not been delivered to any person acquiring it for use, and does not include used or reconditioned machinery. The term "used critical industry machinery" means any critical industrial machinery which at any time has been delivered to any person acquiring it for use, but does not include rebuilt machinery. The term "reconditioned critical industrial machinery" means used machinery which has been rebuilt or otherwise conditioned for resale, or reuse.

(4) "Distributor" means any person regularly engaged in the business of buying or otherwise acquiring new, used, or reconditioned machinery for resale.

(5) "Order" means any commitment or other arrangement for the delivery of critical industrial machinery, whether by purchase, lease, rental, or otherwise.

(i) Any order for critical industrial machinery, when accompanied by a PD–3A certificate, to be delivered to, or for the account of:

(b) The government of any of the following countries: Belgium, China, Czechoslovakia, Free France, Greece, Iceland, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Russia, Turkey, United Kingdom including its Dominions, Crown Colonies, and Protectorates, and Yugoslavia.

(ii) Any order placed by any agency of the United States Government for critical industrial machinery to be delivered to, or for the account of, the government of any country listed above, or any other country, including those in the western hemisphere, pursuant to the Act of March 11, 1941 entitled "An Act to Promote the Defense of the United States" (Lend-Lease Act).

(iii) Any order for critical industrial machinery bearing a preference rating of A–9 or higher assigned by a Preference Rating Certificate PD–3 or PD–3A countersigned prior to May 18, 1942, by a Preference Rating Order in the P–19 series issued prior to May 18, 1942, or by a Preference Rating Certificate PD–1 or PD–1A, a Preference Rating Certificate in the PD–25 or PD–408 Series, or Preference Rating Order P–19–h (PD–200 or 200A) issued at any time. Any preference rating certificate or order of any of the kinds enumerated above may be used to secure critical industrial machinery only by the person to whom it was originally issued and only when such machinery is expressly specified on the certificate or order (or its Form PD–200 or 200A). Any person placing an approved order for critical industrial machinery bearing a rating assigned by any such certificate or order who does not deliver such certificate or order but retains the same, as permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended from time to time, or by the terms of the preference rating order shall, in addition to furnishing the endorsement required by such Priorities Regulation No. 3, as amended from time to time, or such preference rating order certify to the person from whom the machinery is to be acquired that the certificate or order was originally issued to him and that the critical industrial machinery ordered was expressly specified on the certificate or order (or its Form PD–200 or 200A).

(iv) Any order which the War Production Board authorizes for production or delivery pursuant to paragraph (b) (2) hereof.

(b) Restrictions on acceptance of orders for and delivery and acquisition of critical industrial machinery—(1) General prohibitions. Except as provided in pafagraph (b) (4) hereof, no person shall accept any order for critical industrial machinery, or deliver any critical industrial machinery in fulfillment of any order, whether accepted or not; unless such order is an approved order. No person shall accept delivery of any critical industrial machinery except pursuant to an approved order.

(2) Procedure for authorization of orders on books. Manufacturers or distributors may apply for authorization to deliver orders which are not approved orders, on their books on May 18, 1942, as it affects classes of critical industrial machinery from time to time, by filing with the War Production Board in triplicate, plainly marked Ref: L–83, a list of all such orders together with the name of the purchaser or lessee, the date of the order, the number of pieces of machinery, a description of the machinery, the value of the machinery, the rating assigned, if any, the preference rating certificate number, if any (or blanket preference rating order and serial number), the specified delivery date, the percentage of completion of the order on May 18, 1942, as it affects any particular kind of machinery, and the expected use to which the machinery will be put. The War Production Board may thereupon, if it is deemed necessary or appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense, authorize the delivery of any such orders, or the assignment of preference ratings thereto.

(3) Auction sales, sales pursuant to court order and similar transactions. Dispositions of used critical industrial machinery at auction, at sheriff's sale, at tax sales, in liquidations of all or part of a business, and in similar transactions must be approved orders unless such dispositions are made to distributors within the limits specified in paragraph (b) (4) (vii).

(4) Exempted transactions. Nothing in this order shall be construed to prohibit any of the following transactions:

(i) The seizure of critical industrial machinery (but not subsequent disposition or use thereof) upon default, by any person pursuant to the terms of a conditional sale agreement, chattel mortgage, pledge, or other security agreement; and the distraint or levy by execution (but not subsequent disposition thereof) by tax authorities.

(ii) The delivery or acquisition of critical industrial machinery (but not subsequent disposition thereof) through a transfer by will or intestacy, or a transfer by operation of law to a trustee, receiver, or assignee for the benefit of creditors, in bankruptcy, insolvency, receivership, or assignment for the benefit of creditors.

(iii) The delivery or acquisition of critical industrial machinery as part of a transaction, such as merger, consolidation, sale and purchase of assets, sale and purchase of stock, or lease of plant, involving the transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of an enterprise, where no liquidation or dismemberment of assets is contemplated.

(iv) The transfer of critical industrial machinery, within a plant, or within a single corporate enterprise (including majority-owned subsidiaries), from one plant or branch to another: Provided, however, That nothing in this subdivision (iv) shall be construed to permit transfers from a portion of an enterprise manufacturing, building, or assembling new machinery to a portion using it.

(v) The delivery or acquisition of critical industrial machinery (but not subsequent disposition thereof) as a trade-in, where the machinery to be installed is delivered pursuant to an approved order.

(vi) Deliveries to, and acquisitions by distributors, of new critical industrial machinery in the following two instances only:

(b) To replace new critical industrial machinery delivered by such distributor to fill an approved order.

(vii) Deliveries to, and acquisitions by, distributors of used critical industrial machinery (but not subsequent dispositions thereof) at auction, sheriff's sales, tax sales, liquidations or otherwise.

(viii) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (c), the delivery of critical industrial machinery for repair and return, the return of a repaired machine, and the loan of a machine to the user, for a period not to exceed one month, pending the repair of the damaged machine.

(ix) The delivery and acquisition of critical industrial machinery to be scrapped for its material content.

(x) The unloading, from a vessel, of any imported critical industrial machinery.

(xi) The transfer of any interest in any written instrument evidencing an interest in critical industrial machinery

Provided, however, That nothing in this subdivision (xi) shall be construed to permit the physical delivery or use of critical industrial machinery.

(xii) The return of any leased critical industrial machinery by the lessee to the lessor upon the expiration, termination, or cancellation of the lease.

(c) Non-applicability to repair or maintenance of existing equipment. The prohibitions of paragraph (b) hereof shall not be construed to restrict any delivery (1) to fill any order or group of orders of less than $1,000 placed with one or more suppliers within any four weeks' period, for parts intended for use in the repair or maintenance of any single existing machine, or a single machine delivered under the terms of this order, or (2) to fill any order of $1,000 or more for repair or maintenance parts when and only when there has been an actual breakdown or suspension of operations because of damage, wear and tear, destruction or failure of parts or the like, and the essential repair or maintenance parts are not otherwise available.

(d) Applicability of Priorities Regulation No. 1. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 (Part 944) as amended from time to time, except to the extent that any provision hereof may be inconsistent therewith, in which case the provisions of this order shall govern.

(e) Appeals. Any person affected by this order who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship upon him may appeal to the War Production Board setting forth the pertinent facts and the reason he considers he is entitled to relief. The War Production Board may thereupon take such action as it deems appropriate.

(f) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–83.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who wilfully furnishes false information to the War Production Board in connection with this order is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance by the War Production Board.

All persons affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board, such reports and questionnaires as said Board shall from time to time request. On or before 15 days after May 18, 1942, as to any kind of machinery, every manufacturer of critical industrial machinery shall file in triplicate with the War Production Board, plainly marked Ref.: L–83, a supplementary list of all orders for critical industrial machinery now on his books (in excess of the amounts listed in List A), not reported under paragraph (b) (2), together with the name of the purchaser or lessee, the date of the order, the number of pieces of machinery, a description of the machinery, the value of the machinery, the rating assigned, the preference rating certificate number, if any, (or blanket preference rating order and serial number), the specified delivery date, the percentage of completion of the order, and the expected use to which the machinery will be put. PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–83, Interpretation 1 as Amended March 2, 1944]

Paragraph (a) (2) of General Limitation Order L–83 defines "Critical industrial machinery" as new, used, or reconditioned machinery of the kinds listed from time to time in List A of the order, and provides that the value of a critical industrial machine shall be the selling price with certain exceptions. List A specifies the machinery included in the order. In certain instances, the list contains dollar limitations on the value of machines so included. For instance, pulp and paper making machinery is covered by General Limitation Order L–83 only on an order for a single machine of a value in excess of $1000.

The selling price of a machine would normally establish its value for purposes of this order unless other facts indicated that such selling price was not the actual value placed upon the machinery by the buyer and seller. In any case where a used machine is sold with the understanding by buyer or seller that the machine must be repaired or reconditioned in connection with or in relation to the sale transaction, in order that the machine be an effective instrument, the value of the machine for purposes of this order is to be deemed the aggregate of the selling price of the inoperable machine plus the cost of repairing or reconditioning the machine to the point where it can operate effectively. In other words, the sale of a broken down machine, followed by repairing or reconditioning in order that the machine be in condition to operate, does not avoid the impact of the order merely because the original sale of the inoperable machine is fixed at a value below the limitations established in General Limitation Order L–83; the cost of the repairs necessary to render the machine an effective instrument must be added to such original selling price in order to determine the value for the purposes of the order. PART 3088—MOBILE HOUSING

[Limitation Order L–205, as Amended Mar. 2, 1944]

HOUSE TRAILERS AND EXPANSIBLE MOBILE HOUSES

Section 3088.1, Limitation Order L–205, is amended to read as follows:

§ 3088.1 Limitation Order L–205—(a) What this order does. This order tells what house trailers and expansible mobile houses may be made, what material may be used in making them, and how they may be sold.

(b) Restrictions on production. (1) Prior to June 30, 1944, the War Production Board will permit the manufacture of three thousand house trailers. Any person who produced house trailers between January 1, 1942 and September 30, 1942 may participate in the production, except that no person will be authorized to produce house trailers if such production would interfere with war production by himself or by others. Production will be authorized in such a way as to avoid increasing requirements for labor in labor shortage areas. If a person wants to produce trailers he must ask permission of the War Production Board within twenty days by filing Form CMP–

4B requesting controlled materials. Any arrangement by one manufacturer to have house trailers produced for him by another must first be submitted to the War Production Board for approval. The War Production Board will, from time to time or on request of any manufacturer, give notice to all manufacturers of the total production authorized and the production authorized to each individual manufacturer.

(2) No person shall manufacture any house trailer, except a house trailer produced within the quota which the War Production Board has specifically notified such person that he is authorized to produce, and except that production specifically authorized on appeals prior to the present amended version of this order may be completed without charge against any quotas. No person shall deliver or accept delivery of any house trailer knowing that it was produced in violation of this paragraph.

(3) No person shall manufacture an expansible mobile house except to fill a specific order which has been placed with him by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration or the National Housing Agency.

(c) Restrictions on use of material in production. No person may manufacture a house trailer containing more than 410 pounds of iron and steel, exclusive of running gear, heater, stove, icebox, water bucket, plumbing equipment and movable furniture. The copper and copper base alloy used shall be within the limitations established under Conservation Order M–9–c, but may not exceed four pounds per unit. The maximum interior body length may not exceed 23 feet. In the case of expansible mobile houses, the iron and steel used per house may not exceed 480 pounds, and the copper and copper base alloy, 5 pounds. The above limitations, however, shall not apply to iron or steel allotted under the Controlled Materials Plan for the specific purpose of providing for a larger use of iron or steel per unit than this paragraph permits.

(d) Restrictions on delivery. No person shall deliver a new or used house trailer manufactured after July 15, 1943,[1] except that delivery may be made to a dealer for resale, and delivery may be made as specifically authorized by the War Production Board on Form WPB–3538. Any person who wants to sell a house trailer may apply by filing an original and two copies of Form WPB–3538 with the War Production Board's nearest local office for his District. The application will be returned to the seller with approval or denial indicated on the Form. The approved Form will be authority for the seller to deliver.

(e) Reports. Each person affected by this order shall execute and file with the War Production Board such reports and questionnaires as may be requested by the Board from time to time, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Communications. All reports required hereunder and all communications concerning this order (except appeals and applications on Form WPB–3538) shall be addressed to War Production Board, Lumber and Lumber Products Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference L–205.

(g) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(h) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order must be made on Form WPB–1477 and must be filed with the Field Office of the War Production Board of the District in which the person appealing is located.

(i) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "House trailer" means a portable shelter designed and constructed to be used as a human habitation and to be towed or transported without being dismantled or substantially changed in form, not including an expansible mobile house.

(2) "Expansible mobile house" means a portable shelter designed and constructed to be used as a human habitation, and so constructed that its length or breadth may be mechanically enlarged and reduced.

(3) "Running gear" means the undercarriage used for transporting a mobile house, including wheels, axle, and springs.

In making such distribution, due regard should be given to essential civilian needs, and there should be no discrimination in the acceptance or filling of orders as between persons who meet the seller's regularly established prices and terms of sale or payment. Under this policy every seller of the items, so far as practicable, should make available an equitable proportion of his merchandise to his customers periodically, without prejudice because of their size, location, or relationship as affiliated outlets. It is not the intention to interfere with established channels and methods of distribution unless necessary to meet war or essential civilian needs. If voluntary observance of the policy outlined is inadequate to achieve equitable distribution, the War Production Board may issue specific directions to named concerns. FINISHED PIECE GOODS

Section 1400.82 (s) (1) is amended by Amendment 19, effective March 7, 1944, so that Maximum Price Regulation No. 127 shall read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the prices of finished piece goods have risen to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of finished piece goods prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations[2] involved in the issuance of this regulation has been prepared, issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation or schedule were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected or have previously been promulgated and their use lawfully required by another government agency.

[Preamble as amended by Supplementary Order No. 71, 8 F.R. 12556, effective 9-11-43]

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42]

(3) For finished piece goods which are produced from grey goods manufactured in and imported from a foreign country, the basic grey goods cost shall be:

(i) Where such goods (a) are produced from grey goods imported by the converter pursuant to a contract with the foreign seller or his agent entered into prior to November 10, 1943, and (b) are delivered to the purchaser on or before January 19, 1944, no higher than the actual landed duty paid cost of the grey goods;

(ii) In all other cases (except as provided in paragraph (w) of this section) no higher than the lower of (a) the maximum price which would be applicable to the grey goods if manufactured in the United States and sold to the converter on the day the contract for the sale of the finished piece goods is made or on the day the goods enter into the finishing process, whichever is earlier, or (b) the landed duty paid cost of the grey goods.

[Subparagraph (3) amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42; and Am. 15, 8 F.R. 16797, effective 12-20-43]

(4) If for any reason the basic grey goods cost cannot be determined under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, then the basic grey goods cost shall be no higher than the established maximum price for such grey goods on July 14, 1942.

[Subparagraph (4) as amended by Am. 6, 7 F.R. 5364, effective 7-14-42]

(5) [Revoked]

[Subparagraph (5) revoked by Am. 6, 7 F.R. 5364, effective 7-14-42]

(c) Grey freight. (1) Subject to the other provisions of this paragraph (c), the grey freight which may be included in computing the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section shall be no higher than actual transportation charges paid by the seller of the finished piece goods (not absorbed by the finisher) incurred in transporting the basic grey goods to the finishing plant where the finishing process is begun.

(2) In the event the grey goods are transported in a conveyance owned or operated by the converter, or the finisher, or by a person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the converter or the finisher, and the charges are not absorbed by the finisher, the freight charge shall not exceed the charge which would be applicable to an identical shipment from the same point of shipment to the same receiving point at the lowest available commercial transportation rate.

(3) Where goods are shipped from the grey goods mill to a point other than the finishing plant where the finishing process is begun, only the actual freight (which is not absorbed by the finisher) incurred in the final shipment from such other point to the finishing plant where the finishing process is begun may be used in determining the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section.

(4) Where goods are trans-shipped from one finishing plant to another (after the goods are partially or wholly finished), the freight charges on such trans-shipments shall not be included in computing the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section: Provided, (i) That if partially finished goods are trans-shipped from one finishing plant to another for the purpose of screen printing, flock printing, lacquer printing, embossing, or moireing at the second plant, then the freight charges on such trans-shipment may be included in computing the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section; (ii) That the foregoing limitation shall not apply to the extent that the contrary is expressly provided elsewhere in this regulation.

(5) For the purpose of determining a grey freight charge in order to quote prices for and make sales of finished piece goods in advance of actual shipment of the grey goods a seller of finished piece goods may use the following allowance for grey freight:

(i) Grey goods containing more than 50% cotton by weight. For shipments from any point in Zone I [12] to any point in Zone II [13] or shipments from any point in Zone II to any point in Zone I, an allowance of 55¢ per hundred pounds less any inward freight allowance made by the finisher; for shipments from any point in Zone I to a point in Zone I or for shipments from any point in Zone II to a point in Zone II, an allowance of 20¢ per hundred pounds, less any inward freight allowance made by the finisher.

(ii) Grey goods containing 50% cotton or less by weight. For shipments from any point in Zone I to any point in Zone II or for shipments from any point in Zone II to any point in Zone I, an allowance of 85¢ per hundred pounds less any inward freight allowance made by the finisher; for shipments from any point in Zone I to a point in Zone I, or for shipments from any point in Zone II to a point in Zone II, an allowance of 25¢ per hundred pounds, less any inward freight allowance made by the finisher: Provided, That in all cases where a forward sale is made upon the basis provided herein, the price may not be subsequently altered after an actual determination of grey freight charges has been made.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42]

(6) For the purpose of determining the grey freight which may be included in computing the maximum price for finished goods produced from imported grey goods the port of entry in the continental United States shall be deemed the point of shipment.

[Subparagraph (6) added by Am. 15, 8 F.R. 16797, effective 12-20-43]

[Note: Supplementary Order No. 31 (7 F.R. 9894; 8 F.R. 1312, 3702) provides that: "Notwithstanding the provisions of any price regulation, the tax on transportation of all property (excepting coal) imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any commodity or service, be treated as though it were an increase of 3% in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated, under any provision of any price regulation or any interpretation thereof, as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price."]

(d) Working allowance—(1) For finished piece goods containing 50% or more of rayon by weight. Except as provided in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph, the working allowance which may be used in determining the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section shall be the actual figure specified by the finisher in his contract: Provided, That if the working allowance specified in the contract shall exceed the actual shrinkage of the fabric as determined by the increase of finished pick count over grey goods pick count plus not more than 2% tolerance for physical loss of goods occasioned by handling and processing the fabric, then such actual shrinkage plus such 2% tolerance shall constitute the maximum working allowance to be used in determining the maximum price for the finished piece goods.

In the event that there is a net yardage gain as a result of the finishing process, such gain must be deducted from the basic grey goods cost under paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) For finished piece goods containing less than 50% of rayon by weight. Except as provided in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph, the working allowance which may be used in determining the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section shall be the actual working allowance specified by the finisher in his contract.

In the event that there is a net yardage gain as a result of the finishing process, such gain must be deducted from the basic grey goods cost under paragraph (b) of this section.

(3) For vertical organizations. For persons, commonly called vertical organizations, customarily engaged in processing their own goods or goods owned by subsidiaries or affiliates, the working allowance used in determining the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section shall not exceed the allowance which would be applicable had the finishing operation been performed by an independent finisher.

(4) For any new construction or for any new finishing process. The working allowance for any new construction or for any new finishing process may be determined in a preliminary manner from the actual yield of a carefully controlled lot of not less than 1,000 yards of the finished goods: Provided, That the working allowance to be used in determining the maximum price for the finished piece goods shall not exceed the shrinkage determined by the actual yield of the first 10,000 yards of finished fabric.

(e) Finishing cost. Subject to the following provisions, the finishing cost shall be the price specified in the finishing contract and actually paid by the seller of the finished goods and shall not include any finishing costs incurred by any person prior to the acquisition of the goods by such seller.

(1) If the price specified in the finishing contract is made on a "silk basis" or a "store door delivered basis", (i. e., including put up and delivery charges) then such price shall, for the purpose of determining the appropriate division factor, be reduced by ¼¢ per yard: Provided, That the total finishing cost may be included in the final computation of the maximum price for the finished piece goods.

(2) If the price specified in the finishing contract is made on a "cotton basis" (that is, f. o. b. finishing plant) such price, exclusive of charges for cases, papers and tubes, shall, for the purposes of determining the appropriate division factor, constitute the finishing cost.

(3) [Revoked]

[Subparagraph (3) revoked by Am. 10, 8 F.R. 3057, effective 3-16-43]

(4) (i) Where fabrics are printed both face and back, whether register-printed or not, the finishing cost which may be used in determining the appropriate division factor under paragraph (g) of this section shall be 75% of the price specified in the finishing contract and actually paid by the converter: Provided, That the full cost of such printing may be included in the final computation of the maximum price for the finished piece goods.

[Above text designated (i) and (ii) added by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 1906, effective 2-23-44]

(ii) Where fabrics are printed in such a manner that, if by cutting off the edge (or edges) of the fabric which has (or have) been printed, more than 80 percent of the original width of the finished fabric could be retained intact in unprinted form, the cost of such printing shall not be included in the finishing cost unless it can be demonstrated that the print design serves a bona fide decorative or functional purpose and prior certification to this effect has been obtained from the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(5) For persons, commonly called vertical organizations, customarily engaged in processing their own goods or goods owned by subsidiaries or affiliates, the finishing cost used in determining the appropriate division factor under paragraph (g) of this section shall not exceed the amount which such persons are entitled to charge under Maximum Price Regulation No. 128 [14] Processing Piece Goods: Provided, That if such persons have finishing operations performed by independent finishers, the finishing cost shall be determined in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this section.

(6) Extra charges actually made for special folding such as doubling and rolling and book fold, may be included in the finishing cost for the purpose of determining the division factor and the maximum price: Provided, That if such special folding is done by a person other than the person performing the finishing operations, the amount which may be included shall be no more than ¼¢ per yard.

[Subparagraph (6) added by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42]

(7) For the purposes of subparagraph (8) below, the cost of each type of processing referred to therein shall be:

(i) In the case of goods finished by a person independent of the converter, the price of such processing as specified in the finishing contract or invoice;

(ii) In the case of goods finished by the converter or by a subsidiary or affiliate of the converter, the price which such person is entitled to charge for such processing under Maximum Price Regulation No. 128 (Processing Piece Goods).

(8) Special limitations on use of entire finishing cost. Certain finishing expenses are to be treated in a special manner as explained in subdivision (i) below. These expenses, which are called "excess finishing cost," are listed in subdivision (ii). What constitutes "excess finishing cost" will often depend on whether the goods fall within the converter's "specified finish quota." This quota is dealt with in subdivision (iii).

(i) How to treat "excess finishing cost." "Excess finishing cost" shall be disregarded in determining the appropriate division factor pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section and shall not be included in the sum to which (pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section) that division factor is applied, but it may be added to the resulting quotient before the terms factor is applied.

(ii) What is "excess finishing cost." "Excess finishing cost" means the following:

[10] Where a converter or a subsidiary or affiliate of a converter, sells converted goods from a point of shipment which is located outside of the Atlantic Seaboard States, and the finishing operations with respect to such goods are performed in any of such Atlantic Seaboard States, the seller may add to the otherwise applicable maximum price the actual transportation charges incurred in bringing the finished piece goods to such point of shipment. If the goods are transported to such point of shipment in a conveyance other than a common carrier, the charge shall not exceed the charge which would be applicable in an identical shipment at the lowest available commercial transportation rate.

price, f. o. b. point of shipment[10] for finished piece goods shall be the aggregate of the five items set forth below in this paragraph (subparagraphs (1) to (5), inclusive) divided by the appropriate division factor set forth in paragraph (g) of this section:

(1) Basic grey goods cost, determined in accordance with paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) The grey freight, determined in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section.

(3) Working allowance, determined in accordance with paragraph (d) of this section.

(4) Finishing cost, determined in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section.

(5) Put up charges, determined in accordance with paragraph (f) of this section.

[Paragraph (a) as amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42]

(b) Basic grey goods cost. (1) Except as otherwise specifically provided in this paragraph and in paragraph (d) of this section, the basic grey goods cost to be used in determining the maximum price for finished piece goods shall be no higher than the established maximum price therefor on the day the contract for the sale of finished piece goods is made, or on the day the goods enter into the finishing process, whichever is earlier.

[Subparargaph (1) as amended by Am. 6, 7 F.R. 5364, effective 7-14-42]

(2) For persons, commonly called vertical organizations, customarily engaged in processing their own goods or goods owned by subsidiaries or affiliates, the basic grey goods cost to be used in computing the maximum price under paragraph (a) shall be determined as

than the established maximum price therefor on the day the contract for the sale of finished piece goods is made, or on the day the goods enter into the finishing process, whichever is earlier.

[Subparagraph (ii) as amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 4881, effective 4-19-43]

(iii) For any other grey goods produced by such person or by a subsidiary or affiliate,[11] the basic grey goods cost shall be no higher than the maximum price which would be applicable for a sale of such grey goods to a converter on the day the contract for the sale of finished piece goods is made, or on the day the goods enter into the finishing process, whichever is earlier.

[Subparagraph (2) amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42]

(3) For finished piece goods which are produced from grey goods manufactured in and imported from a foreign country, the basic grey goods cost shall be:

(i) Where such goods (a) are produced from grey goods imported by the converter pursuant to a contract with the foreign seller or his agent entered into prior to November 10, 1943, and (b) are delivered to the purchaser on or before January 19, 1944, no higher than the actual landed duty paid cost of the grey goods;

(ii) In all other cases (except as provided in paragraph (w) of this section) no higher than the lower of (a) the maximum price which would be applicable to the grey goods if manufactured in the United States and sold to the converter on the day the contract for the sale of the finished piece goods is made or on the day the goods enter into the finishing process, whichever is earlier, or (b) the landed duty paid cost of the grey goods.

(2) In the event the grey goods are transported in a conveyance owned or operated by the converter, or the finisher, or by a person controlling, controlled by, or under common control with the converter or the finisher, and the charges are not absorbed by the finisher, the freight charge shall not exceed the charge which would be applicable to an identical shipment from the same point of shipment to the same receiving point at the lowest available commercial transportation rate.

(3) Where goods are shipped from the grey goods mill to a point other than the finishing plant where the finishing process is begun, only the actual freight (which is not absorbed by the finisher) incurred in the final shipment from such other point to the finishing plant where the finishing process is begun may be used in determining the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section.

(4) Where goods are trans-shipped from one finishing plant to another (after the goods are partially or wholly finished), the freight charges on such trans-shipments shall not be included in computing the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section: Provided, (i) That if partially finished goods are trans-shipped from one finishing plant to another for the purpose of screen printing, flock printing, lacquer printing, embossing, or moireing at the second plant, then the freight charges on such trans-shipment may be included in computing the maximum price under paragraph (a) of this section; (ii) That the foregoing limitation shall not apply to the extent that the contrary is expressly provided elsewhere in this regulation.

(a) Where cotton goods, other than "better cotton wash fabrics," [17] have been roller-printed, any printing cost [18] in excess of the printing cost which would be applicable to a 15,000-yard run of the pattern.

(b) Where rayon goods [19] have been roller-printed, any printing cost [18] in excess of the printing cost which would be applicable to a 6,000-yard run of the pattern.

(c) The cost of screen printing any rayon goods which (1) are made of combination yarns or (2) have a ceiling price in the grey of less than 27½¢ per yard on the following width bases:

Type of fabric or weave:	Width Basis
Plain or dobby-loom except sheers	43½" grey
Box-loom, except sheers	45" reed
Jacquard-loom, except sheers	39" grey
Sheers	46" reed

(d) The cost of applying any of the "specified finishes" designated below to goods which do not fall within the converter's "specified finish quota," as defined in subparagraph (iii) below. The "specified finishes" are embossing, moireing, screen printing, block printing, chenille printing, flock printing, lacquer printing and any type of over-printing (such as pigment type or zinc printing) not expressly mentioned.

(e) The cost of flock printing, chenille printing, lacquer printing or otherwise over-printing goods which (regardless of the sequence in which the operations are performed) are also screen printed, block printed, embossed or moired.

(iii) Specified finish quota. (a) For each finish referred to in (ii) (d) above, each converter shall have a "specified finish quota."

(b) Except for a converter who was not in business throughout 1941, the "quota" for shipments made in a given finish during any calendar quarter shall be three-fourths of the yardage of woven goods ordered into process by the converter during the corresponding calendar quarter of 1941 in that finish. However, the quota applicable to the period from February 23, 1944 through March 31, 1944 shall be one-half of the quota computed for the first calendar quarter. Furthermore, a converter shall be permitted to augment his quota for any period by the amount of any unconsumed portion of his quota for the preceding quarter and likewise by borrowing from his quota for the following quarter. If a converter augments his quota for one period by borrowing from his quota for the next quarter, the latter quota shall be correspondingly reduced.

(c) Any converter who was not in business throughout 1941 may file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., an application for the establishment of one or more "specified finish quotas". The application shall be filed in accordance with subpart B of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, issued by the Office of Price Administration, and shall contain a full statement of: (1) the types of processing performed by the converter, (2) current monthly yardage ordered into process and estimated yardage volume for the balance of the calendar year, (3) the type of goods converted, (4) the trades served, (5) the reasons why applicant needs to sell goods in any of the finishes referred to in (ii) (d) above, (6) the names of two or more close competitors; and (7) any other information relevant to whether a quota or quotas should be established and in what amount. No quota will be granted unless it affirmatively appears that the applicant needs the quota in order to serve the actual requirements of his customers. Where such a finding can be made the Administrator will be guided in determining the amount of the quota by the nature of the applicant's business and the "specified finish quotas" of applicant's competitors. A quota may be established in terms of yardage, dollar sales, or percentage of total business and shall be subject to such conditions as the Administrator finds appropriate. Upon the filing of an application and pending final action therein an applicant shall not include the cost of any finish referred to in (ii) (d) above in his finishing cost for the purpose of determining the appropriate division factor under subdivision (g) of this section, but may include the cost of such finish in the sum to which that division factor is applied.

(d) On or before March 23, 1944 every converter who was engaged in business throughout 1941 and who desires to avail himself at any time of one or more "specified finish quotas" shall report to the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., his name and address, the amount of each of his "specified finish quotas", and his total dollar volume of finished piece goods sales during 1943. Any converter who fails to make such a report on or before the due date shall be deemed to have waived his right to make use of his quotas, unless he presents a reasonable justification for such failure.

(e) Each converter delivering goods subject to the limitations imposed by this subparagraph (8) shall keep a separate monthly record of all such deliveries. The record shall include the invoice number, yardage delivered, and type of finish.

(iv) Existing contracts. Notwithstanding any provision of this subparagraph (8), for goods delivered on or before March 23, 1944 against a firm contract entered into in conformity with this regulation prior to February 17, 1944, the contract price may be charged.

[Subparagraphs (7) and (8) added by Am. 17, 9 F.R. 1906, effective 2-23-44]

(f) Put-up charges. (1) Except as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, the put-up charges which may be used under paragraph (a) (5) of this section shall include only the charges for papers, boards, tubes and packing cases and, in the case of sales for export, the charges for export packing. In no event (except for export sales) shall charges for wooden shells be included in such computation.

(2) For persons, commonly called vertical organizations, customarily engaged in processing their own goods or goods owned by subsidiaries or affiliates, the put-up charges used under paragraph (a) (5) of this section in determining the maximum price for finished piece goods shall not exceed the charges which would be applicable had such services been performed and such material furnished by an independent finisher.

(3) Where the finishing cost is on a "cotton basis," a seller of finished piece goods may, for the purpose of determining a put-up charge as defined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, in order to quote prices for and make sales of finished piece goods in advance of actual production thereof, use a put-up charge of .0020 per yard: Provided, That in all cases where a forward sale is made upon the basis provided herein, the price may not be subsequently altered after an actual determination of the put-up charges has been made.

[Paragraph (f) as amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42]

[Note: Revised Supplementary Order No. 34 (8 F.R. 12404) permits, under certain conditions, the addition of extra packing expenses to maximum prices on sales to procurement agencies of the United States.]

(g) Tables of division factors—(1) In general. (i) Table I set forth below is to be used with respect to finished piece goods containing 75% or more of cotton by weight unless 4% or more of coverage of the warp or 4% or more of coverage of the filling in the finished goods is yarn dyed or stock dyed. In the latter case, reference must be made to Tables III and IV below. The division factor is determined by reference to the finishing cost (see paragraph (e) of this section), the class of purchaser to whom the sale is made, and the type of finish that is applied.

(ii) Table II set forth below is to be used with respect to finished piece goods containing less than 75% cotton by weight unless 4% or more of coverage of the warp or 4% or more of the coverage in the filling in the finished goods is yarn dyed or stock dyed. In the latter case reference must be made to Tables III

[17] As used here the term:

(1) "Cotton goods" means goods which, in the grey, are subject to Maximum Price Regulation No. 11—Fine Cotton Goods; Revised Price Schedule No. 35—Carded Grey and Colored-Yarn Cotton Goods; Revised Price Schedule No. 89—Bed Linens; or Maximum Price Regulation No. 118—Cotton Products;

(2) "Better cotton wash fabrics" means goods for which the division factor is to be determined by use of Table Ia of paragraph (g) or any other goods which are composed 100% of cotton; are sold to manufacturers of women's and children's dresses, suits, and sportswear and to retail outlets; and are of a type that, during the period from August 1 to September 30, 1941, inclusive, were sold at a price of 27½¢ or more per yard of 36" to 39" finished width, net after discount.

[18] The term "printing cost" shall include the cost of all processing preliminary to the roller printing.

[19] "Rayon goods" here means goods which, in the grey, are subject to Revised Price Schedule No. 28, as amended—Rayon Grey Goods.

and IV below. The division factor is determined by reference to the finishing cost (see paragraph (e) of this section), the class of purchaser to whom the sale is made, and the type of finish that is applied.

(iii) Table III set forth below is to be used with respect to finished piece goods of which 4% or more of coverage of the warp in the finished goods is yarn dyed or stock dyed, and of which none of the filling is yarn dyed or stock dyed and with respect to finished piece goods of which 4% or more of coverage of the filling is yarn dyed or stock dyed and of which none of the warp is yarn dyed or stock dyed, regardless of the rayon or cotton content, and regardless of the finish that is applied thereto. The division factor is determined by reference to the percentage of coverage of the warp or filling that is yarn dyed or stock dyed and the class of purchaser to whom the sale is made.

(iv) Table IV set forth below is to be used with respect to finished piece goods of which 4% or more of coverage of the warp in the finished goods is yarn dyed or stock dyed, and of which some part of the filling is yarn dyed or stock dyed, regardless of the rayon or cotton content, and regardless of the finish that is applied thereto. The division factor is determined by reference to the percentage of coverage of colored yarn in both the warp and filling and the class of purchaser to whom the sale is made.

[Subparagraphs (i), (ii), (iii), and (iv) as amended by Am. 2, 7 F.R. 4180, effective 6-3-42]

(v) A converter whose production of finished piece goods during the years 1939, 1940 and 1941 consisted predominantly of better cotton wash fabrics which (a) are composed 100% of cotton, (b) are sold to manufacturers of women's and children's dresses, suits and sportswear and to retail outlets, and (c) are of a type that, during the period from August 1, 1941, to September 30, 1941, inclusive, were sold at a price of 27½ cents or more per yard, net after discount, may use Table Ia set forth below with respect to such fabrics: Provided, That no converter shall use Table Ia unless, on or before December 15, 1942, he shall have filed his name and address with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., certifying that he meets the above qualifications, and shall have received written acknowledgment of that fact.

[Subparagraph (v) added by Am. 9, 7 F.R. 9823, effective 12-1-42]

(2) Cotton finished piece goods—(i) General. Except for yarn dyed fabrics covered by subparagraph (4), Tables III and IV, this Table I is to be used for all finished piece goods containing 75% or more cotton by weight.

[30] No sale is made "in the performance of a recognized distributive function" within the meaning of this Maximum Price Regulation No. 127 unless it advances the goods sold to the next stage of distribution.

[30a] The actual cost may include only (a) the invoice price of the finished piece goods less all discounts taken (which must not, for any purchases made on or after May 4, 1942, exceed the maximum price established by this Maximum Price Regulation No. 127) and (b) the actual transportation charges incurred by the wholesaler or jobber with respect to such finished piece goods. If the goods are transported in a conveyance other than a commercial carrier, the transportation charge shall not exceed the charge which would be applicable in an identical shipment from the same point of shipment to the same receiving point at the lowest available commercial transportation rate.

A wholesaler, jobber or converter-jobber, where he mingles in his inventory separate lots of the same pattern of printed goods or separate lots of the same bleached goods, or separate lots of the same dyed goods, which he acquired at varying prices, may take the weighted average cost of such mingled lot for the purpose of determining his actual cost thereof: Provided, That if any unsold portion of a lot on which an average cost has been determined is subsequently combined with another lot, the previously determined weighted average cost of such unsold portion shall be used for such unsold portion in computing the weighted average cost of the newly mingled lot.

[31] It is the intention of the Office of Price Administration that this subparagraph shall apply to converters who also act as jobbers and wholesalers and to wholesalers or jobbers who also do some converting.

*The maximum prices and width bases for goods so marked shall be the price and width specified in the last contract therefor awarded to the particular seller prior to August 26, 1942, by a war procurement agency, as defined in § 1400.81 (a) (16) (i) of this regulation. If the particular seller was not awarded any such contract prior to August 26, 1942, then his maximum prices and width bases shall be the price and width specified in the first contract therefor awarded to the particular seller on or subsequent to August 26, 1942, by a war procurement agency.

[1] Where used in this Table, "slate grey" denotes the shade so designated by the Navy as of September 1, 1943.

[2] Maximum prices for widths less than 29" shall be proportional to the maximum prices of the Type C 29" twill. Maximum prices for widths more than 29" shall be proportional to the maximum prices of the Type D 32" twill.

[3] If nylon parachute cloth has been printed or dyed pursuant to a war procurement agency contract the seller may charge in addition to the price appearing in this table the actual cost of such printing or dyeing. As used herein the actual cost of printing or dyeing means the difference between (a) the cost incurred in finishing the cloth in colors or prints (b) and the cost which would have been incurred if the cloth had been finished in white. The provisions of § 1400.82 (r) (2) shall not apply to nylon parachute cloth. If nylon parachute cloth is redyed, reprinted, overprinted, or otherwise refinished, the maximum price for any resulting finished piece goods shall be determined as follows: (a) the applicable maximum price set forth in Table X shall be adjusted, in accordance with § 1400.82 (d) (2) or (4), to reflect the working gain or loss; (b) to the result obtained pursuant to (a) the seller may add: (1) the actual cost of the original dyeing or printing (as defined above) if dyed or printed pursuant to a war procurement agency contract, (2) the actual cost of transporting the goods to the finishing plant or an amount determined in accordance with § 1400.82 (c) (5) (ii), and (3) the actual cost of the refinishing. The maximum price so determined may not be increased by the use of any divisional factor otherwise than pursuant to § 1400.82 (i).

[4] For widths less than 36", a width of 36" shall be used in determining a proportionate price; for widths over 37", a width of 37" shall be used in determining a proportionate price.

[Table X as amended by Am. 13, 8 F.R. 12935, effective 9–27–43. Footnote 3 as amended by Am. 14, 8 F.R. 13906, effective 11–27–43]

(2) Unless an exception is expressly provided, the above maximum prices shall be discounted as follows:

[Subparagraph (2) as amended by Am. 13, 8 F.R. 12935, effective 9–27–43]

(i) If the finished piece goods are rejects which are not finishers' seconds and are:

30 yards and up, discount by 5%.
20 to 30 yards, discount by 20%.
10 to 20 yards, discount by 30%.

[Subparagraph (i) as amended by Am. 11, 8 F.R. 4851, effective 4–19–43]

(ii) If the finished piece goods are finishers' seconds which are not rejects, they shall be discounted by the appropriate percentages set forth in § 1400.82 (l) (1);

(iii) If the finished piece goods are finishers' seconds of rejects, they shall first be discounted by the appropriate percentages set forth in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph and then by the appropriate percentages set forth in § 1400.82 (l) (1).

(3) When used in this subparagraph, "rejects" means finished piece goods which are rejected by a war procurement agency because they are made from defective grey goods, or are classified by the producer as grey goods which are below the standard required by the specification referred to in Table X.

(4) The maximum prices established by subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph are subject to credit terms as set forth in paragraph (h) of this section.

[Paragraph (r) added by Am. 8, 7 F.R. 6653, effective 8–26–42; amended by Am. 9, 7 F.R. 9823, effective 12–1–42; Am. 10, 8 F.R. 3057, effective 3–16–43; and as otherwise noted]

(s) Restrictions on sales of finished piece goods by certain producers. (1) The percentage of the total business of any producer during any calendar year which is represented by dollar sales of finished piece goods to persons other than cutters, manufacturers, retailers, or war procurement agencies shall be no greater in relation to his total business than the average percentage of such dollar sales during the years 1939, 1940, and 1941: Provided, That without regard to the foregoing a producer may:

(i) Honor a preference rating for goods to be exported; and

(ii) Through April 15, 1943, sell finished piece goods to any wholesaler, jobber, or converter-jobber who has certified in writing to such producer that during any 3-month period between July 1, 1943 and December 31, 1943, 65 per cent or more of his sales of finished piece goods were made to retailers and/or purchasers outside the continental United States.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 15, 8 F.R. 16797, effective 12–20–43; Am. 16, 9 F.R. 172, effective 1–8–44; and Am. 19, effective 3–7–44]

(2) The restrictions contained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall not apply to a producer:

(i) Whose total dollar sales of finished piece goods during the years 1939, 1940 and 1941 were greater than 50% of his aggregate dollar sales of grey and finished piece goods; or

(ii) Whose sales of finished piece goods consist solely of sales to a war procurement agency and of sales of rejects of such finished piece goods.

PART 1418—TERRITORIES AND POSSESSIONS

[Restaurant MPR 9-1]

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN THE ISLAND OF OAHU, TERRITORY OF HAWAII

In the judgment of the Territorial Director for the Territory of Hawaii, the prices of food and beverages sold for immediate consumption in the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328.

In the judgment of the Territorial Director for the Territory of Hawaii, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the act. So far as practicable, the Territorial Director gave due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and consulted with the representatives of those affected by this regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith.*

Therefore, in accordance with the direction of the President to take action which will stabilize prices affecting the cost of living and under the authority therewith delegated by the President pursuant to the Act of Congress approved October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to Aid in Stabilizing the Cost of Living", 77th Congress, Second Session, and under the authority of Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the Territorial Director for the Territory of Hawaii hereby issues this Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 9-1 establishing, in general, as maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption in the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii, the prices prevailing therefor during the 14 day period beginning January 3, 1943, and ending January 16, 1943.

§ 1418.157 Maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption in the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii. Under the authority vested in the Territorial Director for the Territory of Hawaii by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, General Order No. 39 issued by the Price Administrator, and Region IX Delegation Order No. 1 issued by the Regional Administrator for Region IX, Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 9-1 (Food and Drink Sold for Immediate Consumption in the Island of Oahu, Territory of Hawaii), which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1418.157 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871, E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681; General Order 39, 7 F.R. 10500; Region IX Delegation Order No. 1, 9 F.R. 710.

(Sections 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6).

in the 14 day period beginning January 3, 1943, and ending Saturday, January 15, 1943, is the highest price at which you offered the same food item or meal of the same class in that period.

(b) How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you did not offer in the 14 day period. You must figure your ceiling price for a food item or meal which you did not offer in the 14 day period as follows:

(1) Choose from the food items or meals for which a ceiling price has already been fixed the food item, or meal of the same class, which is most similar to the food item or meal you are pricing; and

(2) Figure a price "in line" with the ceiling price for the most similar item, or meal of the same class. The price is "in line" if the customer receives as much value for his money from the one item or meal as from the other, even though the two prices may be different. In comparing values, quality, size of portions, and the margin over food costs are the things that count.

(3) If no meals of the same class were offered during the 14 day period, then you are considered as not having been in operation with respect to such meal.

(c) Reports of similar food items and meals priced under paragraph (b) above. Any person fixing a ceiling price under paragraph (b), above, shall report the ceiling price as computed by him to the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., within seven days after such food item or meal was first offered for sale. The report shall contain the name and address of the seller; a description and the ceiling price of the food item or meal offered for sale; and a description and the ceiling price for the food item or meal used for comparison purposes. The new price shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 3. How you figure ceiling prices if you were not in operation in the 14 day period but are in operation on the effective date of this regulation. (a) If you opened any type of eating or drinking place between January 17, 1943, and January 10, 1944, the effective date of this regulation, you fix your ceiling prices by applying section 2, above, except that you must substitute your first 14 days of operation as your base period instead of the base period listed in that section: Provided, however, That your ceiling prices established under this paragraph may not be higher than the general level of ceiling prices established under section 2. You must comply with the reporting provisions of that section.

SEC. 4. Rules for new proprietors. (a) If you acquire another's business and continue the business in the same place, you are subject to the same ceiling prices and duties as the previous proprietor.

(b) If you open an eating or drinking place after January 10, 1944, the effective date of this regulation, you must fix ceiling prices in line with the ceiling prices of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours. Then, you must report these ceiling prices to the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., at least seven days before the time you propose to commence operations. The report shall contain your name and address; a description of the food items or meals to be offered for sale, and the ceiling prices thereof; the name and address of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours; a description of the food items or meals used for comparison purposes, and the ceiling price thereof. These prices shall be subject to adjustment (not to apply retroactively) at any time upon the written order of the Office of Price Administration. You are subject to the record requirements of section 11 below (in so far as applicable) and the posting requirements of section 12 below, immediately upon the opening of your place of business.

SEC. 5. How you figure your ceiling price if you operate a boarding house. (a) If you operate a boarding house, your ceiling price for the meals which you serve is the highest price (on the same fixed plan basis) at which you offered the same or similar meals during November 1943. New boarding houses beginning operation after the effective date of this regulation establish their ceiling prices under section 4 above.

(b) If you operate a boarding house which is licensed under section 2475 of Revised Laws of Hawaii, 1935, you must comply with the record requirements of section 11, below. Unlicensed boarding houses need not comply with such record requirements. No boarding house need comply with the posting requirements of section 12, below.

(c) If you operate a hotel on the American Plan basis, you may make application to the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., for permission to figure your ceiling prices on the basis of paragraph (a) above.

SEC. 6. Substitution of food items in meals. After you have determined your ceiling price for a meal, you may substitute for any food item other than the entree (or main dish) in that meal any other food item of the same class without refiguring your ceiling price, provided the new food item costs you approximately as much and offers customers about the same value as the food item which it replaces.

SEC. 7. Classes of food items and meals. (See definitions of "food item" and "meal" contained in paragraph 15, below.)

Example 2. If your highest ceiling price for any soup offered by you during the base period is 15 cents, you may not offer any other soup at a higher price than 15 cents.

SEC. 9. Prohibition against discontinuing meals at certain prices. You must not now discontinue offering meals at prices comparable to those charged by you in your base period, if by your doing so your customers would actually have to pay more than they did in that period. You will be in violation of this rule unless:

(a) You continue to offer meals at different prices representative of the range of prices at which you offered meals of the same class during your base period, and unless

(b) You continue to offer at least as many different meals at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals of the same class on any day that you select in your base period, as you did on that day.

Note that Sunday meals and week-day meals are meals of a different class.

Example. If you select Friday, January 8, 1943, to determine the lowest price and the number of week-day meals offered at that price, and if on that day you offered six week-day dinners, of which two were priced at 85¢, and one each of 90¢, $1.00, $1.10 and $1.15, you must continue to offer two week-day dinners at 85¢.

SEC. 10. Evasion. You must not evade the provisions of this regulation by any scheme or device, including:

(a) Deteriorating quality or reducing quantity without making appropriate reductions in price. However, you may make such changes in your customary practices with regard to the quality and quantity of food furnished, and types of meals served as may be necessitated by genuine emergencies, without reducing your ceiling prices. A situation may be regarded as a genuine emergency when you cannot reasonably be expected to have foreseen and prepared against its consequences;

(b) Withdrawing the offer, or increasing the price of any meal ticket, weekly rate, or other arrangement by which customers may buy food items or meals at less than the prices they must pay when purchasing by item or meal;

(c) Increasing any cover, minimum, bread-and-butter, service, corkage, entertainment, check-room, parking or other special charges, or making such charges when they were not in effect in your base period;

(d) Refusing to sell a combination of food items as meals if such meals were offered in your base period, and the items making up the combination are being offered separately.

(e) You will not be considered evading the provisions of this regulation, however, if you limit your customers to one pat of butter per meal.

SEC. 11. Records—(a) Filing of price list. On or before January 17, 1944, any person (except operators of certain boarding houses—see section 5, above) subject to this regulation must file with the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., a list showing a description of all food items (including beverages) and meals of the same class, which were offered for sale at his place of business during the applicable base period and the highest price charged during that period therefor. In addition, boarding houses required to fill their ceiling prices must also show their January 3–January 16, 1943, prices, if available, on the list they file. The list so filed shall be signed by the proprietor or one of his responsible officers or employees.

(b) Customary records. You must preserve all your existing records relating to your prices, costs and sales, including a copy of each menu used by you during your base period. You must continue to maintain such records as you ordinarily used as well as those required under section 12 (b), below. All such records shall be subject to examination by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Records of base period. You must make available for examination by any person during your ordinary business hours a copy of the price list filed by you with the Office of Price Administration under paragraph (a) above.

SEC. 12. Posting. (a) Beginning January 10, 1944, each menu must have clearly and plainly written on or attached to it the following statement:

All prices listed hereon are at or below our OPA ceiling prices.

(b) You must make available to customers menus showing your prices for all food items or meals which you offer for sale.

(c) A sign containing such prices and statement posted in a conspicuous place in your place of business and which is easily readable by your customers, will satisfy the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b), above.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one eating or drinking place, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 14. Relation to other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to any sale for which a maximum price is established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 373, the General Maximum Price Regulation for the Territory of Hawaii, or by any other regulation or order, now or hereafter issued, by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 15. Definitions and explanations. (a) "Meal" means a combination of food items sold at a single price. Examples of meals are a five-course dinner, a club breakfast, and a blue-plate special. Two or more kinds of food which are prepared or served to be eaten together as one dish are not a "meal". Examples for such dishes are: ham and eggs, bread and butter, apple pie and cheese.

(b) "Offered" means offered for sale and includes the listing or posting of prices for items and meals even though the items and meals so offered were not actually on hand to be sold.

(c) "Food item" means an article or portion of food (including beverages) sold or served by an eating or drinking place for consumption in or about the place or to be taken out for eating without change in form or additional preparation. It includes two or more kinds of food which are prepared or served to be eaten together as one dish, such as ham and eggs, bread and butter, apple pie and cheese.

(d) "Eating or drinking place" shall include any place, establishment or location, whether temporary or permanent, from which any food item or meal is sold except those places which are specifically exempted in paragraph 16, below.

SEC. 16. Exempt sales. Sales by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempt from the provisions of this regulation:

(2) It sells food items and meals only served primarily on a non-profit basis to members of the Armed Forces.

(f) Eating cooperatives formed by officers in the Armed Forces (as for example, Officers' Mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual), which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to officers who are members of the cooperative.

(g) Bona fide private clubs which file with the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., a statement setting forth that:

(1) The club is a non-profit organization and is recognized as such by the Bureau of Internal Revenue;

(2) It sells food items and meals only to members and bona fide guests of members;

(3) Its members pay dues of more than a mere nominal amount (the amount of dues paid by each class of members and the period covered by such dues should be indicated) and are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body; and

(4) It is otherwise operated as a club. Five days after filing such information or earlier if so notified by the Territorial Director, a private club may consider itself exempt unless and until it is otherwise notified by the Territorial Director. Any club which, subsequent to such filing, changes its operations with respect to any of the requirements stated above shall immediately notify the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., accordingly. Any club which sells food items or meals to persons other than members and bona fide guests of members is subject to this regulation with respect to all sales.

SEC. 17. Special orders. The provisions of this regulation to the contrary notwithstanding, the Office of Price Administration may from time to time issue special orders providing for the adjustment of the maximum price of any food item or items or meal or meals sold or offered for sale by any seller or sellers when, in the judgment of the Territorial Director, such action is necessary or desirable to prevent excessive charges, to prevent inflation, to stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, or to carry out the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

SEC. 18. Petitions for amendment or applications for adjustment—(a) Petition for amendment. You may petition for an amendment of any provision of this regulation by proceeding in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 [1] except that the petition shall be filed with and acted upon by the Territorial Director for the Territory of Hawaii.

(b) Application for adjustment. You may apply for an adjustment of the ceiling prices established by this regulation by proceeding in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 7.[2]

SEC. 19. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[3] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

Under Licensing Order No. 1, a license is automatically granted without application by the seller.

SEC. 20. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and to administrative suspension order proceedings under any applicable rationing orders and Procedural Regulation No. 4.[4]

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

Subchapter A—General Rules and Regulations

[S. O. 93, Amdt. 3]

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

GIANT TYPE REFRIGERATOR CARS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 29th day of February, A. D. 1944.

Upon further consideration of Service Order No. 93 (7 F.R. 8903) of October 30, 1942, as amended, (8 F.R. 13752; 8 F.R. 13925), and good cause appearing therefor: It is ordered, That:

Service Order No. 93 (7 F.R. 8903) of October 30, 1942, as amended, (8 F.R. 13752; 8 F.R. 13925), be, and it is hereby, further amended to read as follows:

§ 95.301 Giant type refrigerator cars. (a) On and after 12:01 a. m., March 2, 1944, and until further order of the Commission, common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act serving points in Arizona and California, shall furnish without regard to ownership for loading with commodities, in carloads, suitable for transportation in refrigerator cars, and shall accept and transport such commodities in giant type refrigerator cars as defined in paragraph (b) hereof, at the freight rates applicable on the same commodities when loaded in standard refrigerator cars (cars with inside length between bulkheads—loading customers would actually have to pay more than they did in that period. You will be in violation of this rule unless:

(a) You continue to offer meals at different prices representative of the range of prices at which you offered meals of the same class during your base period, and unless

(b) You continue to offer at least as many different meals at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals of the same class on any day that you select in your base period, as you did on that day.

Note that Sunday meals and week-day meals are meals of a different class.

Example. If you select Friday, January 8, 1943, to determine the lowest price and the number of week-day meals offered at that price, and if on that day you offered six week-day dinners, of which two were priced at 85¢, and one each of 90¢, $1.00, $1.10 and $1.15, you must continue to offer two week-day dinners at 85¢.

SEC. 10. Evasion. You must not evade the provisions of this regulation by any scheme or device, including:

(a) Deteriorating quality or reducing quantity without making appropriate reductions in price. However, you may make such changes in your customary practices with regard to the quality and quantity of food furnished, and types of meals served as may be necessitated by genuine emergencies, without reducing your ceiling prices. A situation may be regarded as a genuine emergency when you cannot reasonably be expected to have foreseen and prepared against its consequences;

(b) Withdrawing the offer, or increasing the price of any meal ticket, weekly rate, or other arrangement by which customers may buy food items or meals at less than the prices they must pay when purchasing by item or meal;

(c) Increasing any cover, minimum, bread-and-butter, service, corkage, entertainment, check-room, parking or other special charges, or making such charges when they were not in effect in your base period;

(d) Refusing to sell a combination of food items as meals if such meals were offered in your base period, and the items making up the combination are being offered separately.

(e) You will not be considered evading the provisions of this regulation, however, if you limit your customers to one pat of butter per meal.

SEC. 11. Records—(a) Filing of price list. On or before January 17, 1944, any person (except operators of certain boarding houses—see section 5, above) subject to this regulation must file with the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., a list showing a description of all food items (including

(b) Customary records. You must preserve all your existing records relating to your prices, costs and sales, including a copy of each menu used by you during your base period. You must continue to maintain such records as you ordinarily used as well as those required under section 12 (b), below. All such records shall be subject to examination by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Records of base period. You must make available for examination by any person during your ordinary business hours a copy of the price list filed by you with the Office of Price Administration under paragraph (a) above.

SEC. 12. Posting. (a) Beginning January 10, 1944, each menu must have clearly and plainly written on or attached to it the following statement:

All prices listed hereon are at or below our OPA ceiling prices.

(b) You must make available to customers menus showing your prices for all food items or meals which you offer for sale.

(c) A sign containing such prices and statement posted in a conspicuous place in your place of business and which is easily readable by your customers, will satisfy the requirements of paragraphs (a) and (b), above.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one eating or drinking place, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 14. Relation to other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation shall not apply to any sale for which a maximum price is established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 373, the General Maximum Price Regulation for the Territory of Hawaii, or by any other regulation or order, now or hereafter issued, by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 15. Definitions and explanations. (a) "Meal" means a combination of food items sold at a single price. Examples of meals are a five-course dinner, a club breakfast, and a blue-plate special. Two or more kinds of food which are prepared or served to be eaten together as one dish are not a "meal". Examples for such dishes are: ham and eggs, bread and butter, apple pie and cheese.

(b) "Offered" means offered for sale and includes the listing or posting of prices for items and meals even though the items and meals so offered were not actually on hand to be sold.

(c) "Food item" means an article or portion of food (including beverages) sold or served by an eating or drinking place for consumption in or about the place or to be taken out for eating without change in form or additional prepa-

(e) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in the General Maximum Price Regulation for Hawaii, issued by the Office of Price Administration, shall apply to other terms used herein.

SEC. 16. Exempt sales. Sales by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempt from the provisions of this regulation:

(a) Eating and drinking places located on church premises and operated in connection with special church, Sunday School and other religious occasions.

(b) Eating and drinking places operated by the Office of Civilian Defense.

(c) Public and private hospitals.

(d) Eating and drinking places operated by a school, college, university or other educational institution.

(e) Eating and drinking places owned or operated by charitable, religious or cultural organizations, recognized as such by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and exempt from payment of income tax by reason thereof, where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholders, or individual, and

(1) The net profits, if any, are devoted to religious, charitable or cultural purposes generally recognized as such in the community where the food items and meals are served by such organization; or

(2) It sells food items and meals only served primarily on a non-profit basis to members of the Armed Forces.

(f) Eating cooperatives formed by officers in the Armed Forces (as for example, Officers' Mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual), which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to officers who are members of the cooperative.

(g) Bona fide private clubs which file with the Office of Price Administration, Iolani Palace, Honolulu, T. H., a statement setting forth that:

(1) The club is a non-profit organization and is recognized as such by the Bureau of Internal Revenue;

(2) It sells food items and meals only to members and bona fide guests of members;

(3) Its members pay dues of more than a mere nominal amount (the amount of dues paid by each class of members and the period covered by such dues should be indicated) and are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body; and space—of less than 37 feet 6 inches), Provided, That commodities loaded in the giant type of refrigerator cars shall be loaded at least 20 percent heavier than the tariff minimum carload weight on the same commodity in standard refrigerator cars.

(b) For the purpose of this order, the term "giant refrigerator cars" is defined as refrigerator cars (1) with inside measurement between bulkheads (loading space) of not less than 37 feet 6 inches, and (2) convertible refrigerator cars with collapsible bunkers having inside length between bulkheads (loading space) of less than 37 feet 6 inches with bulkheads in place and in excess of 37 feet 6 inches with bulkheads collapsed. The provisions of this order shall not be construed to include the following cars: SFRD refrigerator cars in series numbers 5000 to 5069 inclusive; PFE refrigerator cars in series numbers 200001 to 200125 inclusive; BRE refrigerator cars in series numbers 300 to 329 inclusive; WPE refrigerator cars in series numbers 400 to 499 inclusive; FGE refrigerator cars in series numbers 600 to 609 inclusive; URT refrigerator cars in series numbers 3000 to 3399 inclusive and 89000 to 89049 inclusive.

(c) Tariff provisions suspended. The operation of all tariff rules, regulations, or charges insofar as they conflict with the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section is hereby suspended.

(d) Announcement of suspension. Each railroad or its agent, shall file and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, substantially in the form authorized in Rule 9 (k) of the Commission's Tariff Circular No. 20 (§ 141.9) (k) of this chapter) announcing the suspension of the operation of any of the provisions therein, and establishing the substituted provisions above set forth. (40 Stat. 101, sec. 402, 41 Stat. 476, sec. 4, 54 Stat. 901; 49 U.S.C. 1 (10)–(17)).

It is further ordered, That a copy of this amendment and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Coal Mines Administration.

[Order CMA-24]

BARR COAL CO., ET AL.

ORDER TERMINATING GOVERNMENT POSSESSION

I have been advised that the mining companies listed in Appendix A have entered into wage agreements with their employees in conformity with a basic wage agreement between the Progressive Mine Workers of America and certain Illinois producers, heretofore approved by the National War Labor Board, and that there no longer exist any work stoppages or threats of work stoppages because of labor disputes at said mines. Based upon such advice, and after consideration of all the circumstances, I find that possession by the Government of the mines of such mining companies is not required for the furtherance of the war program.

Accordingly, I order and direct that the possession by the Government of the mines of the mining companies listed in Appendix A, which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, including any and all real and personal property, franchises, rights, facilities, funds, and other assets used in connection with the operation of such mines, be, and it is hereby, terminated and that there be conspicuously displayed at those mining properties copies of a poster to be supplied by the Coal Mines Administration and reading as follows:

NOTICE: Government possession and control of the coal mines of this mining company have been terminated by order of the Secretary of the Interior.

Provided, however, That nothing contained herein shall be deemed to preclude the Government from requiring the submission of information relating to operations during the period of Government possession as provided in section 40 of the regulations for the operation of Coal Mines under Government Control as amended (8 F. R. 6855, 10712, 11344, 17339), for the purpose of ascertaining the existence and amount of any claims against the United States so that the administration of the provisions of Executive Order No. 9393 (8 F.R. 14877) may be concluded in an orderly manner.

Acting Secretary of the Interior.

AUTHORIZATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES

[MPR 381, Order 1]

WOOD EXTENSION WINDOW SCREENS

ADJUSTABLE PRICING

Order No. 1 under section 6 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 381. Stock screen goods.

Petitions have been filed for the establishment of maximum prices for certain sizes of wood extension window screens made with 16 mesh galvanized wire and for certain sizes made of 16 mesh black wire for which no prices are established by any maximum price regulation. These petitions were filed because WPB Limitation Order L-303 prohibits the use of 12 and 14 mesh galvanized wire in wood extension window screens, which have previously been used for all sizes and allows the use of only 12 mesh black wire, 16 mesh black wire and 16 mesh galvanized wire, and because Table 7 of MPR 381 does not provide maximum prices for many of the sizes of wood extension window screens in which 16 mesh galvanized wire is now being used nor for any sizes made with 16 mesh black wire. Prices for the sizes of extension window screens listed below will be established by a forthcoming amendment to MPR 381, but it is necessary to allow shipment of these sizes prior to the issuance of that amendment, especially to the West Coast in order to meet rapidly approaching Spring requirements. Due to the extensive building on the West Coast of war housing projects, in which wood extension window screens are widely used, the requirement for these products today is four times greater than it was a year ago.

It has been shown that authorization to use open billing pending action on the petitions is necessary to provide production and distribution of wood extension window screens made with 16 mesh galvanized wire and with 16 mesh black wire, and that the granting of such authorization will not interfere with the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Therefore, under authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, and in accordance with section 6 (d) of MPR 381, Stock Screen Goods, It is ordered:

(a) Persons subject to MPR 381, Stock Screen Goods, may sell, deliver, buy, and receive wood extension window screens, made with 16 mesh galvanized wire or with 16 mesh black wire in the sizes listed below, at or below prices to be established after date of delivery by the Office of Price Administration and prior to May 1, 1944.

(1) This order covers the following sizes of wood extension window screens made with either 16 mesh galvanized wire or with 16 mesh black wire:

	Inches	Inches		Inches	Inches

1245	12	45	2233	22	33
1537	15	37	2445	24	45

(2) This order also covers the following sizes of wood extension window screens made with 16 mesh black screen wire only.

	Inches	Inches		Inches	Inches

(b) This order shall be automatically revoked upon the establishment by the Office of Price Administration of maximum prices for the sizes listed above of wood extension window screens made with 16 mesh galvanized wire or with 16 mesh black wire. It may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective March 1, 1944.

Issued this 1st day of March 1944.

Applications for permission to increase the maximum prices of laundry services as established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 165 as amended—"Services", have been heretofore granted by the District Director to the following laundries on the dates and in the amounts indicated:

Name	Permitted increase (percent)
Harvester Laundry Corporation, 95 13th St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 23, 1943	6
New Brightness Laundry Corporation, 2028 McDonald Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 23, 1943	8

Safe Laundry Corp., 100 Huntington St., Brooklyn, N. Y., Dec. 29, 1943	7

After due consideration of all the information on which these adjustments of maximum prices were based, it has been decided by the Office of Price Administration on its own motion to revoke the above mentioned orders and to adjust the maximum prices of these laundries to the extent indicated, for the reasons set forth in the opinion attached.

Accordingly, pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, Supplementary Order No. 28, and § 1499.114 (d) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 165, as amended—"Services", It is hereby ordered:

(1) The individual orders granting increases in maximum prices for laundry services, above enumerated, be, and are hereby revoked.

(2) The applications of the following named laundries are granted to the extent that they are permitted to increase their present legal maximum prices for all their family laundry services, by the percentage amount set forth after their names, in the manner hereinafter in paragraph (4) of this order, provided

Agent-drivers, any of whose family laundry services are supplied by any such power-laundry, are permitted to add to their retail prices the same percentage increase herein granted to their supplier, in the manner provided by paragraph (4) of this order. The dollars and cents increase which thus accrues to any agent-driver in excess of the increased cost of the services to him may be divided between the supplier and the agent-driver in such proportions as shall be agreed upon between them. Agent-drivers shall compute the price increase permitted them by this paragraph upon the bills rendered by them to their customers in the manner provided in paragraph (4) of this order. They shall inscribe upon each bill presented to any customer the statement prescribed in paragraph (5) of this order. They shall be subject to all the other provisions of this order which are applicable to their circumstances.

Such increases may not be applied to individual items of service. Existing price lists shall not be altered. If the increased prices so arrived at include a fraction of a cent less than one-half, the price that may be charged shall be reduced to the next lower cent. If, however, the increased price includes a fraction equal to or more than one-half cent, the seller shall be permitted to charge the next higher cent.

(5) Any power laundry establishment and any driver-agent of a power laundry which has been granted a price increase by this order shall give notification of such price increase as follows: (a) Furnish each customer within 15 days after the effective date of this order with a statement describing its services, and specifying its lawful ceiling prices, and the percentage increase permitted it by the order; (b) File a copy of the same statement with the New York District Office of the Office of Price Administration within 15 days after the effective date of this order, together with a statement signed by a responsible official of the laundry establishment certifying that the applicant has complied with section (a) above; (c) Inscribe on each bill rendered the statement: "OPA permitted increase of _____% to maintain supply: $_____"; or "OPA permitted increase to maintain supply: $_____"; and (d) give all new customers as acquired the same notification as hereinabove provided for existing customers.

Spring requirements. Due to the extensive building on the West Coast of war housing projects, in which wood extension window screens are widely used, the requirement for these products today is four times greater than it was a year ago.

It has been shown that authorization to use open billing pending action on the petitions is necessary to provide production and distribution of wood extension window screens made with 16 mesh galvanized wire and with 16 mesh black wire, and that the granting of such authorization will not interfere with the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Therefore, under authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, and in accordance with section 6 (d) of MPR 381, Stock Screen Goods, It is ordered:

(a) Persons subject to MPR 381, Stock Screen Goods, may sell, deliver, buy, and receive wood extension window screens, made with 16 mesh galvanized wire or with 16 mesh black wire in the sizes listed below, at or below prices to be established after date of delivery by the Office of Price Administration and prior to May 1, 1944.

(1) This order covers the following sizes of wood extension window screens made with either 16 mesh galvanized wire or with 16 mesh black wire:

CHARLES S. MERRILL

Charles S. Merrill of 966 Military Drive, Salt Lake City, Utah, is a mortician and casket maker. On February 7, 1942, he made application to the War Production Board on Form PD-105 for authority to remodel a residential property owned by him and located at 28 East 7th Avenue South, Salt Lake City, Utah, into a 12-room apartment house. In that application he represented that each apartment would be rented by him for not more than $42.50 per month, including services. On February 26, 1942, the War Production Board approved the application and issued to him a Preference Rating Order P-55. He completed the remodeling about October 1, 1942. Immediately thereafter he rented and has continued to rent each of the apartments for $62.50 a month without authorization of the War Production Board or any other government agency or department. This was in violation of the representations contained in his application on Form PD-105.

In remodeling this property, Charles S. Merrill failed to keep accurate and complete records of his purchase orders and other expenditures made in procuring and using materials and supplies and for labor. These acts constituted a violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

In remodeling the property at 28 East 7th Avenue South in Salt Lake City, Charles S. Merrill purchased materials and supplies in excess of the amounts needed for that purpose and authorized by the P-55 Order and used a portion of them for construction work on premises known as the Villa and located at 3510 South 20th East, Salt Lake City, Utah. These acts constituted a violation of Preference Rating Order P-55 and Priorities Regulation No. 1.

These violations of Preference Rating Order P-55 and Priorities Regulation No. 1 by Charles S. Merrill were wilful in that they were the result of gross negligence and they have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, It is hereby ordered, That:

§ 1010.493 Suspension Order No. S-493. (a) Neither Charles S. Merrill, his successors or assigns, nor anyone acting on his or their behalf, shall order, purchase, accept delivery of, withdraw from inventory, or in any other manner secure or use material, construction plant or equipment in order to start or to continue or to complete construction on the premises known as the Villa, located at 3510 South 20th East, Salt Lake City, Utah, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Charles S. Merrill from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on March 2, 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

(a) General directions number 1 to 7 inclusive, all that have been issued up to this time, shall be suspended, for the several ports in Area II, for the period between sardine seasons as defined for those ports respectively in section 1065 of the California Fish and Game Code; that is, until the opening of the season in the fall of 1944, the General Directions shall not be applicable at the ports of San Francisco and Monterey after 12:01 a. m. PART 401—PRODUCTION OF FISHERY COMMODITIES OR PRODUCTS

SALMON CANNING INDUSTRY IN ALASKA

Whereas by Executive Order No. 9280 of December 8, 1942, the President conferred upon the Secretary of Agriculture full responsibility and control over the Nation's food program in order to assure an adequate supply and efficient distribution of food to meet war and essential civilian needs; and

Whereas by Food Directive No. 2 of February 8, 1943 (CFR Title 7, Chapter 11, Part 1400), the Secretary of Agriculture delegated to me, among other things, the right to exercise all of the powers conferred upon him by paragraph (b) of section 1 of Executive Order No. 9280, in so far as it relates to the production of fishery commodities and products; and

Whereas by Food Directive No. 2, the Secretary of Agriculture authorized me to exercise these powers through such agencies and officers of the Department of the Interior or of the office established by Executive Order No. 9204 of July 21, 1942, as I may designate; and

Whereas it is deemed imperative to effectuate a program designed to facilitate the production of an adequate supply of canned salmon in the Territory of Alaska with a minimum utilization of critical material, manpower and shipping facilities; and

Whereas representatives of practically the entire salmon canning industry in the Territory of Alaska have indicated their willingness to join in such cooperative agreements as may be practicable and feasible in order to pool their operating facilities, and allocate available manpower on an equitable basis in an industry concentration program designed to minimize factors that tend to affect production adversely; and

Whereas in the exercise of the powers conferred upon me, I have designated the Office of Fishery Coordination, established by Executive Order No. 9204, to execute, administer, regulate, and enforce the provisions of this order affecting the salmon canning industry in the Territory of Alaska;

Now, therefore, it is hereby ordered:

§ 401.1 Salmon canning industry in the Territory of Alaska—(a) Jurisdiction. Complete control and authority over the salmon canning industry in the Territory of Alaska solely for the purpose herein specified shall be vested in the Fishery Coordinator, and subject to his supervision and direction shall be administered by the Office of Fishery Coordination.

(b) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Person" means any individual, partnership, association, corporation, or any other business entity.

(2) "Salmon" means any fish of the following species: Red or sockeye (Oncorhynchus nerka); pink or humpback (Oncorhynchus gorbuscha); silver, medium red, or coho (Oncorhynchus kisutch); chum or keta (Oncorhynchus keta); king, chinook, or spring (Oncorhynchus tschawytscha); steelhead or steelhead trout (Salmo gairdneri).

(3) "Line" means the assembly of canning machinery operated in connection with each filling machine. The filling of cans by hand shall be construed to be a line.

(4) "Fishery Coordinator" means the Secretary of the Interior.

(5) "Nucleus plant" means a plant for the canning of salmon for commercial purposes which may be operated during the year 1944 under the terms of this order.

(6) "Canning salmon for commercial purposes" means the process of packing salmon for the purpose of sale in hermetically sealed metal or glass containers and sterilizing the same by the use of heat.

(c) Salmon canning for commercial purposes prohibited in the Territory of Alaska except as herein provided. No person shall engage in canning salmon for commercial purposes in the Territory of Alaska, including all coastal and tributary waters thereof over which the United States has jurisdiction, after the effective date of this order and prior to January 1, 1945, unless specifically authorized by this order or by the order of the Fishery Coordinator, and upon compliance with such directives, orders, and regulations as he may from time to time prescribe. Prior to engaging in canning operations all persons, companies, and corporations authorized to operate under Schedule A of this order shall obtain from the Fishery Coordinator a salmon canning license which shall be posted in the office of the operating establishment throughout the canning season. No person named in Schedule A, unless otherwise ordered by the Fishery Coordinator, shall operate, either singly or in conjunction with any other person, in the nucleus plant so assigned to such person or persons more than the number of lines set forth in the schedule opposite the name of such nucleus plant nor employ more persons than authorized under War Manpower Commission labor ceilings stated in Schedule A opposite the name of the operator and in the terms of said operator's license. In those plants where half-pound lines are already established, such half-pound lines may be operated when desirable if labor used is confined to quota authorized for such plants under War Manpower Commission labor ceilings.

(d) Restrictions applicable to specific persons named in Schedule A. (1) Peninsula Packing Co., is authorized to operate its floating cannery independently in other areas after the close of operations at Port Moller.

(e) Agreements between persons named in Schedule A. (1) Duplicate copies of all agreements entered into between persons named in Schedule A providing for the use in common of nucleus plants, lines, and other facilities, must be filed with the Office of Fishery Coordination, Department of the Interior, when required by the Fishery Coordinator. The Fishery Coordinator may review any agreement and shall have the right to disapprove it if its terms and conditions are deemed not to be in the public interest.

(2) Where any persons named in Schedule A are unable to reach a mutually fair and equitable agreement providing for the use in common of nucleus plants, lines, and other facilities, the Fishery Coordinator shall have the right, after reviewing all of the pertinent facts submitted by the interested persons and other available information, to prescribe an agreement which will protect adequately the rights of the persons affected thereby.

(f) Petition for relief. (1) Any person subject to this order who finds that compliance herewith is impracticable and would tend to create an unreasonable burden without facilitating the production of canned salmon in the Territory of Alaska may file with the Fishery Coordinator a petition in writing for appropriate relief. Such petition should be filed in triplicate and contain a full showing of all the pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought. The Fishery Coordinator shall thereupon take such action on the petition as he may deem appropriate, and any decision rendered shall be final and binding upon the petitioner.

(2) Any person not named in Schedule A of this order who believes that his name should properly be included therein may file with the Fishery Coordinator a petition in writing for appropriate relief. The petition should conform with the requirements prescribed in the preceding subparagraph (1) and any decision rendered by the Fishery Coordinator shall likewise be final and binding upon the petitioner.

(g) Custom canning. Any person, owning salmon, who hires a person designated in Schedule A to can the salmon for commercial purposes shall not be deemed to be engaged in canning salmon for commercial purposes within the meaning of this order, but the person who performs such services shall be deemed to be so engaged.

(h) Audits and inspections. Every person subject to this order shall, upon the request of the Fishery Coordinator or his duly authorized representative, permit inspections at all reasonable times of the stocks of canned salmon and the facilities used in his business, and shall also make available for inspection and audit all of his books, records, and accounts.

(i) Records and reports. Every person subject to this order shall maintain the books, records, and accounts of his business for at least two years after December 31, 1944 (or for such other periods of time as the Fishery Coordinator may provide), and shall execute and file such reports and submit such information as the Fishery Coordinator may deem necessary to accomplish the purpose of this order.

(j) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who by any act or omission falsifies records to be kept or information to be furnished pursuant to this order, or wilfully conceals a material fact concerning a matter within the jurisdiction of any department or agency of the United States may be prohibited from receiving or making further deliveries of any material subject to allocation, and such further action may be taken against him as the Fishery Coordinator deems appropriate, including recommendations for prosecution under section 35a of the Criminal Code (18 U.S.C. sec. 80), under paragraph 5 of section 301 of Title III of the Second War Powers Act, and under any and all other applicable laws. In addition, employment of more persons than authorized by War Manpower Commission labor ceilings set forth in Schedule A may subject the violator to appropriate action under applicable law and regulations of the War Manpower Commission.

(k) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Office of Fishery Coordination, United States Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

(l) Fishing regulations. The provisions of this order are not to be construed as permitting fishing for salmon in violation of any order or regulation promulgated by the Department of the Interior.

(m) Orders and directions; Deputy Fishery Coordinator. The Fishery Coordinator, or his representative, may issue such orders and directions as he may deem necessary to accomplish the purposes of this order, and violation of any such order or direction shall be considered a violation of this order. For the purposes of this order the functions, duties, and powers of the Fishery Coordinator may, in his absence, be exercised by the Deputy Fishery Coordinator.

(n) Designated representative. The Area Coordinator for Alaska is hereby designated as the representative of the Fishery Coordinator to perform any of the functions authorized in this order. In the performance of these functions, he may designate any members of his staff to carry out any specific functions that may be assigned. In any situation where, in the judgment of the Area Coordinator for Alaska, the circumstances do not permit the delay which would otherwise result, Schedule A and the salmon canning license may be amended or extended, or any item thereof altered or deleted by the Area Coordinator for Alaska, in such manner as he shall deem reasonable and advisable to secure maximum production with a minimum expenditure of critical materials and services: Provided, That any changes made in labor quotas contained in Schedule A and in the salmon canning license shall meet with the approval of the War Manpower Commission: And provided further, That any request for an increase in a non-resident labor quota shall be accompanied by satisfactory evidence that qualified resident labor is not available. Any person claiming to be adversely affected by such amendment may file with the Fishery Coordinator a petition for relief as set out in paragraph (f); pending action on such petition, the amendment by the Area Coordinator for Alaska shall become and remain effective according to its terms.

(o) Previous order suspended. The provision of this order shall supersede Order No. 1787 issued by the Secretary of the Interior on March 3, 1943 (8 F.R. 2892–2895), and all amendments thereof.

Treasury issues:
- 1% Treasury Notes of Series B–1944, maturing March 15, 1944

- 3% FFMC Bonds of 1944–49, called for redemption on May 15, 1944

Reconstruction Finance Corporation issue:
- 1% RFC Notes of Series W, maturing April 15, 1944

Home Owners' Loan Corporation issue:
- 3% HOLC Bonds, Series A 1944–52, called for redemption on May 1, 1944

These bonds will not be available for subscription, for their own account, by commercial banks, which are defined for this purpose as banks accepting demand deposits. The amount of the offering under this circular will be limited to the amount of the above-listed bonds and notes tendered and accepted. In addition to the offering under this circular, holders of any of the securities listed, other than commercial banks, are offered the privilege of exchanging all or any part of such securities for 2¼ percent Treasury Bonds of 1956–59, and all holders, including commercial banks, may exchange for 1½ percent Treasury Notes of Series A–1948, which offerings are set forth in Department Circulars Nos. 735 and 736, issued simultaneously with this circular.

II. Description of bonds. 1. The bonds now offered will be an addition to and will form a part of the series of 2½ percent Treasury Bonds of 1965–70 issued pursuant to Department Circular No. 729, dated January 18, 1944, will be freely interchangeable therewith, and are identical in all respects therewith. They are dated February 1, 1944, and bear interest from that date at the rate of 2½ percent per annum, payable on a semi-annual basis on September 15, 1944, and thereafter on March 15 and September 15 in each year until the principal amount becomes payable. They will mature March 15, 1970, but may be redeemed at the option of the United States on and after March 15, 1965, in whole or in part, at par and accrued interest, on any interest day or days, on 4 months' notice of redemption given in such manner as the Secretary of the Treasury shall prescribe. In case of partial redemption the bonds to be redeemed will be determined by such method as may be prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. From the date of redemption designated in any such notice, interest on the bonds called for redemption shall cease.

2. The income derived from the bonds shall be subject to all Federal taxes, now or hereafter imposed. The bonds shall be subject to estate, inheritance, gift or other excise taxes, whether Federal or State, but shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed on the principal or interest thereof by any State, or any of the possessions of the United States, or by any local taxing authority.

3. The bonds will be acceptable to secure deposits of public moneys. They will not be entitled to any privilege of conversion.

4. Bearer bonds with interest coupons attached, and bonds registered as to principal and interest, will be issued in denominations of $500, $1,000, $5,000, $10,000, $100,000 and $1,000,000. Provision will be made for the interchange of bonds of different denominations and of coupon and registered bonds, and for the transfer of registered bonds, under rules and regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Except as provided in section I of Department Circular No. 729, these bonds may not, before February 1, 1954, be transferred to or be held by commercial banks, which are defined for this purpose as banks accepting demand deposits; however, the bonds may be pledged as collateral for loans, including loans by commercial banks, but any such bank acquiring such bonds before February 1, 1954, because of the failure of such loans to be paid at maturity will be required to dispose of them in the same manner as they dispose of other assets not eligible to be owned by banks.

5. Any bonds issued hereunder which upon the death of the owner constitute part of his estate, will be redeemed at the option of the duly constituted representatives of the deceased owner's estate, at par and accrued interest to date of payment,[1] provided:

(a) That the bonds were actually owned by the decedent at the time of his death; and

(b) That the Secretary of the Treasury be authorized to apply the entire proceeds of redemption to the payment of Federal estate taxes.

Registered bonds submitted for redemption hereunder must be duly assigned to "The Secretary of the Treasury for redemption, the proceeds to be paid to the Collector of Internal Revenue at _____ for credit on Federal estate taxes due from estate of_____" Owing to the periodic closing of the transfer books and the impossiblity of stopping payment of interest to the registered owner during the closed period, registered bonds received after the closing of the books for payment during such closed period will be paid only at par with a deduction of interest from the date of payment to the next interest payment date;[2] bonds received during the closed period for payment at a date after the books reopen will be paid at par plus accrued interest from the reopening of the books to the date of payment. In either case checks for the full six months' interest due on the last day of the closed period will be forwarded to the owner in due course. All bonds submitted must be accompanied by Form PD 1782,[3] properly completed, signed and sworn to, and by a certificate of the appointment of the personal representatives, under seal of the court, dated not more than six months prior to the submission of the bonds, which shall show that at the date thereof the appointment was still in force and effect. Upon payment of the bonds appropriate memorandum receipt will be forwarded to the representatives, which will be followed in due course by formal receipt from the Collector of Internal Revenue.

6. Except as provided in the preceding paragraphs, the bonds will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States bonds.

III. Subscription and allotment. 1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, and to close the books as to any or all subscriptions at any time without notice; and any action he may take in these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. Payment. 1. Payment at par and accrued interest from February 1, 1944, for bonds allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before March 15, 1944, or on later allotment. Payment of the principal amount may be made only in the bonds or notes to be exchanged, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription. Accrued interest on the securities surrendered will be credited, and accrued interest on the new bonds from February 1, 1944, will be charged, as shown in the table at the end of this circular. Where the table shows that an amount will be collected from the subscriber, the remittance should accompany the securities and subscription. Where an amount is to be paid to the subscriber, it will be paid, in the case of coupon bonds and notes, following their acceptance, and in the case of registered bonds, following discharge of registration. Interest accrued on the securities to be exchanged, and on the new bonds to be issued, will be adjusted as of various dates as follows:

FFMC Bonds of 1944–64; March 15, 1944.

Treasury Notes of Series A–1944; March 15 or June 15, 1944, as the holder may elect and specify in his subscription.

2. Holders of Treasury Notes of Series B–1944 and FFMC Bonds of 1944–64 will detach coupons dated March 15, 1944, and cash them when due. With respect to the other five issues, all unmatured coupons, including the one next due, must be attached to the securities to be exchanged when they are surrendered, and final interest on these securities, and on registered bonds in all cases, will be paid or credited in a net amount.

V. Surrender of called bonds—1. Coupon bonds. Treasury Bonds of 1944–46, HOLC Bonds of Series A 1944–52, FFMC Bonds of 1944–49 and FFMC Bonds of 1944–64 in coupon form tendered in payment for bonds offered hereunder should be presented and surrendered with the subscription to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. Coupons dated April 15, 1944, May 1, 1944, May 15, 1944, and September 15, 1944, respectively, and all coupons bearing subsequent dates, should be attached to such bonds when surrendered, and if any such coupons are missing, the subscription must be accompanied by cash payment equal to the face amount of the missing coupons. The bonds must be delivered at the expense and risk of the holder. Facilities for transportation of bonds by registered mail insured may be arranged between incorporated banks and trust companies and the Federal Reserve Banks, and holders may take advantage of such arrangements when available, utilizing such incorporated banks and trust companies as their agents.

2. Registered bonds. Treasury Bonds of 1944–46, HOLC Bonds of Series A 1944–52, FFMC Bonds of 1944–49 and FFMC Bonds of 1944–64 in registered form tendered in payment for bonds offered hereunder should be assigned by the registered payees or assignees thereof, in accordance with the general regulations of the Treasury Department governing assignments for redemption, in one of the forms hereafter set forth, and thereafter should be presented and surrendered with the subscription to a Federal Reserve Bank or Branch or to the Treasury Department, Division of Loans and Currency, Washington, D. C. The bonds must be delivered at the expense and risk of the holder. If the new bonds are desired registered in the same name as the bonds surrendered, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for Treasury Bonds of 1965–70"; if the new bonds are desired registered in another name, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for Treasury Bonds of 1965–70 in the name of _____"; if new bonds in coupon form are desired, the assignment should be to "The Secretary of the Treasury for exchange for Treasury Bonds of 1965–70 in coupon form to be delivered to _____".

VI. General provisions. 1. As fiscal agents of the United States, Federal Reserve Banks are authorized and requested to receive subscriptions, to make allotments on the basis and up to the amounts indicated by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Federal Reserve Banks of the respective Districts, to issue allotment notices, to receive payment for bonds allotted, to make delivery of bonds on full-paid subscriptions allotted, and they may issue interim receipts pending delivery of the definitive bonds.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury may at any time, or from time to time, prescribe supplemental or amendatory rules and regulations governing the offering, which will be communicated promptly to the Federal Reserve Banks.

HENRY MORGENTHAU, Jr.,
Secretary of the Treasury.

[1] An exact half-year's interest is computed for each full half-year period irrespective of the actual number of days in the half year. For a fractional part of any half year, computation is on the basis of the actual number of days in such half year.

period will be forwarded to the owner in due course. All bonds submitted must be accompanied by Form PD 1782,* properly completed, signed and sworn to, and by a certificate of the appointment of the personal representatives, under seal of the court, dated not more than six months prior to the submission of the bonds, which shall show that at the date thereof the appointment was still in force and effect. Upon payment of the bonds appropriate memorandum receipt will be forwarded to the representatives, which will be followed in due course by formal receipt from the Collector of Internal Revenue.

6. Except as provided in the preceding paragraphs, the bonds will be subject to the general regulations of the Treasury Department, now or hereafter prescribed, governing United States bonds.

III. Subscription and allotment. 1. Subscriptions will be received at the Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury Department, Washington. Banking institutions generally may submit subscriptions for account of customers, but only the Federal Reserve Banks and the Treasury Department are authorized to act as official agencies.

2. The Secretary of the Treasury reserves the right to reject any subscription, in whole or in part, and to close the books as to any or all subscriptions at any time without notice; and any action he may take in these respects shall be final. Subject to these reservations, all subscriptions will be allotted in full. Allotment notices will be sent out promptly upon allotment.

IV. Payment. 1. Payment at par and accrued interest from February 1, 1944, for bonds allotted hereunder must be made or completed on or before March 15, 1944, or on later allotment. Payment of the principal amount may be made only in the bonds or notes to be exchanged, which will be accepted at par, and should accompany the subscription. Accrued interest on the securities surrendered will be credited, and accrued interest on the new bonds from February 1, 1944, will be charged, as shown in the table at the end of this circular. Where the table shows that an amount will be collected from the subscriber, the remittance should accompany the securities and subscription. Where an amount is to be paid to the subscriber, it will be paid, in the case of coupon bonds and notes, following their acceptance, and in the case of registered bonds, following discharge of registration. Interest accrued on the securities to be exchanged, and on the new bonds to be issued, will be adjusted as of various dates as follows:

THE COMMONWEALTH AND SOUTHERN CORP., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDED PLAN AND ORDER RECONVENING HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia 3, Pa., on the 2nd day of March 1944.

In the matter of the Commonwealth & Southern Corporation (Delaware), Respondent, File No. 59-20; The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation (Delaware) and its subsidiary companies, Respondents, File No. 59-8; The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation (Delaware), File No. 54-75.

The Commission having by order dated April 9, 1942, directed The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation ("Commonwealth"), a registered holding company, to change its capitalization to one class of stock, namely, common stock; and

Commonwealth having on April 20, 1943 filed a plan pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act designed to reduce its capital structure to a single class of common stock and take other related action and a notice of filing and order for hearing on said plan having been issued on May 8, 1943 (Holding Company Act Release No. 4294); and hearings having been held from time to time on said plan;

Notice is hereby given that Commonwealth has filed an amended plan in substitution for the plan filed April 20, 1943. The amended plan has the same objective as the earlier plan of reducing the capitalization of Commonwealth to a single class of common stock. Its principal differences from the earlier plan are (1) the allocation of approximately 80% and 20% of the new common stock of Commonwealth and certain assets to be distributed as between the preferred and common stockholders of Commonwealth, respectively, proposed in the original plan is changed to approximately 85% and 15%, respectively; (2) the provision in the original plan for the distribution of the common stock of Consumers Power Company is modified so as to provide for the distribution of the common stock of the five northern subsidiaries of Commonwealth (Consumers Power Company, Central Illinois Light Company, Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company, and Ohio Edison Company, which will hold the stock of Pennsylvania Power Company), and (3) a cash payment of $3.50 per share (subject to reduction to $2.75) will be made on the outstanding preferred stock of Commonwealth plus additional cash distributions, as set forth below;

All interested persons are referred to said amended plan, which is on file in the offices of the Commission, for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

Commonwealth will change its authorized capitalization to 10,000,000 shares of common stock, having a par value of $5 per share and will issue 8,979,234 shares of such new common stock to the preferred and common stockholders in the ratios of 85% and 15%, respectively.

Commonwealth proposes that the present outstanding number of shares of common stock of the northern subsidiaries be changed in order to minimize the fractions which will result from distributions, without, however, changing the aggregate amount of capital represented by such stocks.

Commonwealth will distribute to the holders of its outstanding preferred and common stock the following number of shares of common stock of the northern subsidiaries and of Commonwealth's new common stock:

(a) Per Share of Commonwealth's Preferred Stock

1 3/100 (1.03) shares of common stock of Consumers Power Company

1 3/100 (1.03) shares of common stock of Ohio Edison Company

206/1000 (.206) share of common stock of Central Illinois Light Company

206/1000 (.206) share of common stock of Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company

5 15/100 (5.15) shares of Commonwealth's new common stock

$3.50 in cash, provided that this amount may be reduced to $2.75 per share if the Board of Directors, prior to the date the Amended Plan becomes effective, determine that the reduction is desirable to preserve adequate working capital.

An additional amount in cash equal to 1/[illegible]ths of 75% of the consolidated net income of Commonwealth and its subsidiary companies from January 1, 1944 to the first day of the calendar month in which the Amended Plan becomes effective, or equal to dividends at the rate of $6.00 per annum from January 1, 1944 to such date, whichever is less, from which shall be deducted the amount of any dividends declared on each preferred share from January 1, 1944 to the effective date of the Amended Plan.

(b) Per Share of Commonwealth's Present Common Stock

8/1000 (.008) share of common stock of Ohio Edison Company

16/10000 (.0016) share of common stock of Central Illinois Light Company

16/10000 (.0016) share of common stock of Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company

4/100 (.04) share of Commonwealth's new common stock

No provision is made in the Amended Plan for the continuance of the rights of the holders of the outstanding Option Warrants, and from and after the effective date of the Amended Plan, such Option Warrants shall be null and void and of no effect.

Prior to the distribution of the common stock of Ohio Edison Company, Commonwealth will transfer, without cost, to Ohio Edison Company all of the outstanding shares of common stock of Pennsylvania Power Company as an addition to the common stock equity of Ohio Edison Company.

Commonwealth reserves the right at any time prior to the effective date of the Amended Plan, subject to any necessary approvals of the Commission or of any other regulatory body having jurisdiction, to dispose of the common stock of Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company, and, subject as aforesaid, to utilize the proceeds for such purposes as shall be determined by the Board of Directors.

Commonwealth will make an appropriate change in its corporate name.

Upon approval of the Amended Plan by this Commission and the subsequent approval by a majority vote of the stockholders, Commonwealth has requested that this Commission apply to a proper United States District Court to enforce and carry out the terms and provisions of the Amended Plan and make them binding on all security holders.

Distributions of new securities will be made pursuant to the Amended Plan as soon as practicable after it has become effective. Such distributions will be made against surrender of certificates representing Commonwealth's outstanding preferred stock and common stock at the Transfer Agency of Commonwealth at 120 Wall Street, New York, N. Y., or at the office of any agent appointed pursuant to the Amended Plan for such purpose.

(a) As soon as practicable after the expiration of three years from the effective date of the Amended Plan, the exchange agent shall sell in the open market all the shares then represented by unexchanged certificates. For a period of two years thereafter, the exchange agent will hold the proceeds from such sales together with any dividends thereon for the equal and proportionate benefit of the then unexchanged shares of preferred and common stocks of Commonwealth, such proceeds to be payable upon surrender of the certificates.

(b) On the expiration of the fifth year after the effective date of the Amended Plan, the exchange agent will forthwith pay over to Commonwealth any funds then held, and the holders of outstanding certificates for preferred and common stock of Commonwealth, or of scrip certificates therefor, shall have no right to, or claim against, such funds.

No fractional shares will be issued, but in lieu thereof, scrip certificates will be issued if so requested in writing. If no request is made such fractional shares will be sold on the open market from time to time as there are accumulated a number of full shares which may be handled economically and the proportionate share of the net proceeds will be remitted to the person entitled thereto.

(a) Scrip certificates will be in bearer form, will be non-dividend bearing and non-voting. Scrip certificates aggregating one or more full shares may be exchanged for full shares at any time within three years from the effective date of the Amended Plan. A scrip agent will hold the shares of stock represented by outstanding scrip until three years from the effective date of the Amended Plan, and immediately thereafter will sell the shares then held in the open market.

(b) Thereafter, for a period of two years holders of scrip certificates will be entitled to receive from such scrip agent upon the surrender of scrip certificates their proportionate part of the net proceeds from the sale of the shares sold by such scrip agent and of any dividends theretofore paid thereon. Any funds unclaimed at the expiration of said 5-year period shall be forthwith payable to Commonwealth and the holders of scrip certificates will have no right to or claim against such funds.

The dates fixed by the foregoing provisions for sales of stocks held by the respective agents and for termination of the rights of the holders of outstanding certificates and holders of scrip may be extended or otherwise modified by Commonwealth as the Commission may approve or authorize but in no event shall the final termination date be later than January 1, 1951, except that such date may be so extended in certain instances as set forth in the Amended Plan.

Following distribution of their common stocks, the northern companies will cancel the existing contracts with The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation (New York), the mutual service company, and will surrender for cancellation and retirement the shares of capital stock of that company now owned by them, against the payment by it of the stated value thereof of $100 per share.

No person who is an officer or director of Commonwealth or of the mutual service company on the 31st day after the initial distribution of common stocks hereunder shall be at that time an officer or director of any of the northern group of companies or be eligible for election as a director or officer of any of such northern companies at the next annual stockholders' meeting thereof, and thereafter there shall not be any officers and directors common to both Commonwealth and its subsidiary companies, on the one hand, and such northern companies, on the other hand: Provided, however, That the foregoing restriction as to common officers shall not be effective to prevent specified persons who are officers or directors of the subsidiary companies of Commonwealth, including the mutual service company, from being officers or directors of the northern companies for such period or periods subsequent to the initial distribution of common stocks as may, on application, be approved by the Commission.

Upon the consummation of the Amended Plant, Commonwealth will restate and segregate on its books its investments in its retained subsidiary companies at such amounts as may be determined by the Board of Directors, which amounts shall not in any case be in excess of the underlying book value thereof as of the effective date of the Amended Plan. Any amount by which the carrying value of Commonwealth's assets as so determined, exceeds its liabilities, including the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock, shall be credited to capital surplus or to an appropriate reserve.

At or prior to consummation of the Amended Plan, Consumers Power Company will charge its surplus account with approximately $5,300,000 of unamortized debt discount, premium and expense on its previously refunded issues, thus reducing the current annual amortization charge against income by about $460,000.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act before approving any plan thereunder to find after notice and opportunity for hearing that the plan as submitted or as modified is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11, and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission that notice be given and a hearing be held upon the amended plan to afford all interested persons an opportunity to be heard with respect thereto; and

It appearing appropriate, in view of the Commission's order of April 9, 1942 and of the provisions of section 11 (d) with respect to court enforcement of such an order, to provide opportunity for hearing, as part of these consolidated proceedings as to whether the Commission should approve any plan of reorganization of Commonwealth that may be hereafter proposed by the Commission in the first instance or by any person having a bona fide interest in the reorganization;

It is ordered, That the hearing be reconvened at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., on the 23d day of March, 1944, at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, in such room as may be designated at that time by the Hearing Room Clerk in Room 318. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings should notify the Commission in the manner provided by its rules of Practice, Rule XVII, on or before March 20th, 1944.

It is further ordered, That Richard Townsend, or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearings in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of issues presented by said amended plan or any other plan which may be filed by any duly qualified persons particular attention will be directed at said hearing to the following matters and questions:

(1) Whether the amended plan as proposed or as modified is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and in conformity with the requirements of the Commission's order of April 9, 1942;

(2) Whether the proposed allocations of Commonwealth's new common stock and the common stocks of Consumers Power Company, Central Illinois Light Company, Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company and Ohio Edison Company, to the preferred and common stockholders of Commonwealth are appropriate, or whether such allocations should be modified so as to provide a larger or smaller allocation to the preferred stock;

(3) Whether the proposed distribution of the common stocks of Consumers Power Company, Central Illinois Light Company, Southern Indiana Gas and Electric Company and Ohio Edison Company, is in all other respects in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder;

(4) Whether the proposed donation of the common stock of Pennsylvania Power Company by Commonwealth to Ohio Edison Company tends toward the economical and efficient development of an integrated public utility system and otherwise meets the requirements of the act and the rules thereunder;

(5) Whether the accounting entries proposed to be recorded in connection with the amended plan are appropriate and in accordance with sound accounting principles and practice;

(6) Whether, in the event that the Commission shall approve such amended plan as filed or as modified, the Commission shall approve such plan for purposes of section 11 (d) of the act (as well as section 11 (e) so as to permit the Commission on its own motion and irrespective of request therefor on the part of Commonwealth, to apply to a court for the enforcement of such plan pursuant to section 11 (d);

(7) Whether, in the event that the Commission shall not approve said amended plan as filed or as modified, the Commission shall itself propose and approve a plan for purposes of section 11 (d) or shall approve for purposes of section 11 (d) any plan that may be proposed by any person having a bona fide interest in the reorganization of Commonwealth;

(8) Whether the fees and expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed amended plan and all transactions incidental thereto are for necessary services and are reasonable in amount;

(9) Generally, whether the proposed transactions are in all respects in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder, and, if not, what modifications should be required to be made therein and what terms and conditions should be imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing is given to The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation and to all other persons; such notice to be given to The Commonwealth & Southern Corporation by registered mail and to all other persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Holding Company Act, and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and is hereby reserved to separate, whether for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues, questions or matters hereinbefore set forth or which may arise in these proceedings, or to consolidate with these proceedings other filings or matters pertaining to said amended plan or to take such other action as may appear conducive to an orderly, prompt and economical disposition of the matters involved.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD.

WARREN CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

CONSENT ORDER

Harry Bach, 2529 Euclid Heights Blvd., Cleveland Heights, Ohio, doing business individually and as the Warren Construction Company, is and has been engaged in the building and construction business. On or about December 31, 1943, he entered into a contract with the proprietor of a proposed cafe and restaurant for the remodeling and reconstruction of the premises known as 933 Chester Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, which had been rented by the said proprietor for the purpose of operating a cafe and restaurant. On or about January 10, 1944, Harry Bach began construction of alterations and remodeling, using material and labor in violation of Conservation Order L-41. On January 27, 1944, when the work was stopped, approximately 90% of the project had been completed, the ultimate cost of which to the said proprietor would have approximated $7,000, which was greatly in excess of the amount permitted under Order L-41.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Harry Bach, individually and as the Warren Construction Company, the Regional Compliance Chief and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) Deliveries of material to Harry Bach, individually, or doing business as the Warren Construction Company, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation shall be made to Harry Bach, individually, or doing business as the Warren Construction Company, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, of any material, the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Harry Bach individually, or the Warren Construction Company from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on the date of issuance, and shall expire on May 2, 1944.

Issued this 2d day of March 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

NORTHWEST LOG CHECKING BUREAU, INC.

APPROVAL OF JOINT ACTION PROGRAM

The ATTORNEY GENERAL:

I submit herewith a memorandum from the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration recommending a program for joint action by log scalers and log scaling bureaus, their members and directors, in the Pacific Northwest Coast Territory in the formation and activities of the Northwest Log Checking Bureau, Inc., directed to the obtaining of uniform application of the grading and scaling rules prescribed in revised Maximum Price Regulation 161.

For the purposes of section 12 of Public Law No. 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357), I approve the joint action program as described in the memorandum; and after consultation with you, I hereby find and so certify to you that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with my approval as herein expressed is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

DONALD M. NELSON,
Chairman.

FEBRUARY 28, 1944.

MEMORANDUM

FEBRUARY 19, 1944.

To: Mr. Donald M. Nelson, Chairman, War Production Board, Social Security Building.

Subject: Request for Approval, Pursuant to section 12 of Public Law 603, 77th Congress, of the proposed activities of Northwest Log Checking Bureau, Inc.

In order for the Office of Price Administration adequately to discharge its duties under the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, it is necessary that the Puget Sound Log Scaling and Grading Bureau, Grays Harbor Log Scaling and Grading Bureau, and Columbia River Log Scaling and Grading Bureau, their members and directors, and the various independent log scalers and graders operating under the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 161 (West Coast Logs) (8 F.R. 1117, 2992, 5678, 6619, 9381, 10660, 11509, 16602, 16603, 17327) act together in the formation and activities of the Northwest Log Checking Bureau, Inc., a non-profit corporation organized under the laws of the State of Washington.

The program of joint action prescribes that any generally recognized scaling bureau located in the Pacific Northwest Coast Territory which scales a minimum of 150,000,000 feet of logs per year can become a member of the bureau. The bureaus known to meet these qualifications are the Puget Sound Log Scaling and Grading Bureau, Grays Harbor Log Scaling and Grading Bureau, and the Columbia River Log Scaling and Grading Bureau. Any independent scaler or independent scaling bureau approved by the Office of Price Administration under the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 161 and located in that territory, however, may become an associate member under certain conditions. The board of directors is to consist of thirteen members. Three of these directors will be from each of the three principal log scaling bureaus—in each case one being a representative of mills or buyers, one a representative of the loggers or sellers, and the third, the manager of that bureau. The independents on the Board of Directors shall consist of one from each of the marketing districts specified in RMPR 161, and shall be selected by the independents certified by this Office under § 1381.158 (a) (3) of the Regulation.

The program of joint action contemplated by this request shall be to systematize, stabilize, and make uniform the classifications, grading, scaling, measuring, sorting and inspection of logs, spars, poles, piling, veneer blocks, shingle bolts, and all other primary forest products manufactured, produced, sold or shipped in and from the Northwest Pacific Coast Territory, including the Province of British Columbia, Canada, and including any other state, territory or locality in which the corporation shall be authorized to engage in business, and to improve, perfect, stabilize and make uniform modes, methods, customs and practices relating to grading and scaling. In addition the Northwest Log Checking Bureau, Inc., will serve and act as arbitrator of contracts, requirements and controversies as between sellers, buyers, manufacturers, producers, owners, shippers and common carriers as to scaling, measuring, weight, quantity, quality, inspection and condition of logs and all other of such timber products; to investigate, scale, re-scale and inspect and otherwise check the same; and to decide, report and certify thereon.

These activities are directed to the obtaining of uniform application of the grading and scaling rules prescribed in Revised Maximum Price Regulation 161 and any amendments or revisions thereof and to the providing of expert advice and assistance to Office of Price Administration in all matters pertaining to grading and scaling in the area involved.

All joint actions and discussions are to relate directly and are to be restricted to the proper performance of the functions of the Northwest Log Checking Bureau, Inc., as outlined above. If the actions or discussions in concert go beyond this limitation, the entire course of joint conduct shall be considered improper and subject to the restrictions of law which would apply in the absence of any certification by you pursuant to this recommendation.

It appears that some joint discussions and actions by the persons participating in the program of the Northwest Log Checking Bureau, Inc., is necessary to and will effectuate the purposes of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 161, and of our program of price control. I have approved the program set out herein and recommend that you find and certify pursuant to Section 12 of Public Law 603, 77th Congress (56 Stat. 357) that the doing of any act or thing, or the omission to do any act or thing, by any person in compliance with this recommendation pertaining to the said Northwest Log Checking Bureau, Inc., is requisite to the prosecution of the war.

It is understood that certification pursuant to Section 12, Public Law 603, 77th Congress, does not sanction any act or omission to act after the termination of the certificate, nor sanction the continuance of any act, thing, or organization after such termination. No sanction is given for the existence of the corporation after the termination of the certificate, nor for any effects of such incorporation beyond such period, nor beyond the scope of the certificate.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

(1) Divide the total deliveries of each such item made in the sales area by such handler during the base period, after excluding the quota-exempt deliveries described in (i) hereof, by the number of days in the base period;

(2) Multiply the result of the foregoing calculation by the number of days in the quota period;

(i) Quota exclusions and exemptions. Deliveries of milk, milk byproducts, or cream (1) to other handlers, except for such deliveries to sub-handlers, (2) to plants engaged in the handling or processing of milk, milk byproducts, or cream from which no milk byproducts, or cream is delivered in the sales area, and (3) to the agencies or groups specified in (d) of FDO 79, shall be excluded from the computation of deliveries in the base period and exempt from charges to quotas.

(j) Transfers and apportionment of quotas. The market agent is empowered to deduct an amount of base period deliveries to purchasers from the total of deliveries made by a handler or other person in the base period upon the application and a showing of unreasonable hardship by the handler making deliveries to such purchasers on the effective date of this order, and to add the amount of such deliveries to the total base period deliveries of the applicant handler. Denials of transfers or transfers granted by the market agent shall be reviewed by the Director upon application.

(k) Petition for relief from hardships. (1) Any person affected by FDO 79 or the provisions hereof who considers that compliance therewith would work an exceptional and unreasonable hardship on him, may file with the market agent a petition addressed to the Director. Reports for the calendar weeks or parts of calendar weeks subsequent to the effective date hereof shall be submitted as aforesaid within four days after the last day of each such calendar week.

(c) Seasonal reports. In addition to the weekly reports described in (b) hereof, each canner shall report on Form FDO–44–1 (Revised 3/1/44), the total quantity of each class of fish respectively, which were packed by him during his packing season, and submit such report within 15 days after the termination of such packing season.

(d) Completion of reports. All reports submitted pursuant to (b) and (c) hereof shall be completed pursuant to the instructions contained on Form FDO–44–1 (Revised 3/1/44). The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(e) Filing of reports. All reports required to be submitted pursuant to this order by canners in the Territory of Alaska and in the States of Washington, Oregon, and California shall be addressed to Regional Director of Food Distribution, War Food Administration, Ref. FD–44.

(f) Previous requirements continued in effect. With respect to violations of Food Distribution Order No. 44–1, as heretofore amended, rights accrued or liabilities incurred prior to the effective date of this amendment, said Food Distribution Order No. 44–1, as amended, shall be deemed to be in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with respect to any such violation, right, or liability.

PART 3201—MINING

[Preference Rating Order P-56 as Amended Mar. 3, 1944]

MINES AND SMELTERS

§ 3201.11 Preference Rating Order P-56—(a) Purpose and scope. This order explains how operators of mines and smelters in the United States and in foreign countries may get the materials and products they need to carry on their operations. The materials covered include not only maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, including controlled materials, but also machinery, other kinds of materials, and equipment. This order does not apply, however, to an operator of a nonessential mine as defined in Limitation Order L-208.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Producer" means a person operating any of the following enterprises, whether in the United States, or any of its territories, or in a foreign country, but does not include any enterprise defined as a "nonessential" mine in Order L-208 or any like enterprise located outside the United States, its territories or possessions: (i) any plant actually engaged in the extraction by surface, open-pit, or underground methods, or in the beneficiation, concentration, or preparation for shipment of the products of mining activity; (ii) any plant wholly engaged in the processing and burning of refractories; (iii) any plant producing any material listed below by smelting or refining processes, and to whom a serial number has been issued under Preference Rating Order P-73, or is hereafter issued as provided in paragraph (c):

Antimony	Nickel
Cobalt	Platinum
Copper	Tin
Iridium	Tungsten
Lead	Vanadium
Mercury	Zinc
Molybdenum

(iv) any prospecting enterprise for the discovery, exploration, or development of new or additional mining projects, including the construction of access roads; and (v) mines, concentrating mills, smelters, railroads, power plants, refineries, and appurtenances owned and operated by the companies holding serial numbers under Preference Rating Order P-58 on December 24, 1943.

(2) "District" means a mine supply control district of the Foreign Economic Administration.

(3) "Maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" means material used for the following purposes by producers in the conduct of enterprises described above in paragraph (b) (1): (i) minimum upkeep necessary to continue the working condition of essential property or equipment, and (ii) restoration of essential property or equipment to a sound working condition after wear and tear, damage, destruction or failure of parts, or the like have made the property or equipment unfit or unsafe for service; and supplies which are essential to and consumed or worn out in the conduct of such enterprises. In addition, except as hereinafter noted, the term "maintenance, repair, and operating supplies" includes minor capital additions normally necessary to the operation of the enterprise, but not exceeding in cost $500 (excluding purchaser's cost of labor) for any one complete capital addition. The term "one complete capital addition" includes a group of items customarily purchased together and all items which would normally be purchased as part of a single project or plan. No capital addition shall be subdivided for the purpose of coming within this paragraph.

Producers Holding Serial Numbers

(c) Priorities assistance for producers with serial numbers. Producers holding serial numbers, which may be obtained in the manner specified in paragraph (f), may apply for priorities assistance as follows:

(1) For maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, by filing the appropriate mine quota application form with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., as follows:

Metal mines	Form WPB–2937
Coal mines	Form WPB–2938
Non-metallic mines	Form WPB–2939
Smelters and refineries	Form WPB–2040
Core or churn drill operators	Form WPB–2937

For the first and second quarters of 1944, in order to purchase minor capital additions as defined in paragraph (b) (3), a producer must apply for a dollar value quota by letter filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. A producer who has several plants or other operating units, even though they maintain separate records of maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, may apply in such letter for a single, aggregate quota covering all of such units, designating the several serial numbers involved. After the second quarter of 1944, application for a dollar value quota for the purchase of such minor capital additions may be made on the appropriate mine quota application form listed above.

(2) For other machinery, materials and equipment, by submitting to the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., an application on Form WPB–1319. In submitting applications under this subparagraph, Form WPB–1319 may be accompanied by a letter giving any unusual circumstances relevant to the application.

Foreign Producers Operating Under Mine Supply Control Districts

(d) Priorities assistance for certain foreign producers operating under mine supply control districts. To enable a producer not holding a serial number hereunder and located outside the continental United States and within the jurisdiction of a district to obtain priorities assistance, the following procedure is established:

(1) For maintenance, repair, and operating supplies a district may apply for priorities assistance by filing Form WPB–2037 with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. A producer not holding a serial number and located in a district may apply for priorities assistance by submitting to such district his purchase orders for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, together with such information as may be required by the district. Within the limits of the priorities assistance granted to it pursuant to this paragraph (d) (1), such district may authenticate any such purchase order for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies by indicating the appropriate priorities assistance and countersigning the purchase order as follows:

Approved:

Name of district

Signature of authorized official

(2) For other machinery, materials, and equipment, a producer not holding a serial number and located within a district may submit to the War Production Board, Form WPB–1319, such application to be endorsed with the signed approval of the district within which the applicant is located.

(3) A distributor of maintenance, repair, or operating supplies or of other machinery, materials, or equipment used by producers, who is located outside the United States and within the jurisdiction of a district, may apply for priorities assistance in the same manner as prescribed in paragraphs (d) (1) and (d) (2) for producers not holding serial numbers and located within the jurisdiction of a district.

Other Producers Not Holding Serial Numbers

(e) (1) Priorities assistance for other producers not holding serial numbers. A preference rating of AA–5 is hereby assigned to delivery orders for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, except minor capital additions as defined in paragraph (b) (3), placed by producers operating within the United States, its territories and possessions, and not holding serial numbers (other than operators of nonessential mines as defined in Limitation Order L–208). Such producers may apply for higher ratings for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies by filing Form WPB–2910 with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. Such producers may apply for priorities assistance for machinery or equipment by filing Form WPB–1319 with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. Foreign producers, not holding serial numbers and not located in a mine supply control district, may apply for priorities assistance for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies, exclusive of minor capital additions, by filing Form WPB–2910 with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., and for machinery or equipment, including minor capital additions, by filing Form WPB–1319 with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

(2) Emergency procedure for non-serialized mines. In case of actual or impending breakdown, producers not holding serial numbers may apply for priorities assistance on Form WPB–1436 or by telegraph either to the Washington Office or the nearest regional or district office of the War Production Board.

Serial Numbers

(f) Issuance of serial numbers. Applications for serial numbers may, in the case of producers within the continental limits of the United States, be filed with the appropriate War Production Board Regional Office, Attention: Regional Technical Advisor, Mining Division; or with the appropriate State Coordinator of Mines for transmission to such Regional Advisor; or with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C. Serial number application by districts must be filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. Applications by all other foreign producers should also be filed with the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. In filing such application, the following forms shall be used:

Metal mines	Form WPB–1212
Coal mines	Form WPB–2784
Non-metallic mines	Form WPB–2758
Core or churn drill operators	Form WPB–2952

Smelters and refineries shall apply by letter. In issuing and cancelling serial numbers, the War Production Board will consider the importance to national defense of the present and prospective output of materials to be produced, the consumption of the critical material involved, and the importance to national defense of competing demands for such material, and competing demands for manpower and transportation. Serial numbers issued under Preference Rating Orders P–58 and P–73, and not cancelled prior to December 24, 1943, are hereby confirmed and shall be considered as having been issued under this Order P–56.

Use of Priorities Assistance; All Producers

(g) Application and extension of priorities assistance. The way to use preference ratings is explained in Priorities Regulation No. 3, and the way to use allotments, both in placing authorized controlled material orders and in making allotments, is explained in CMP Regulation No. 1. Instead of using the certification prescribed by those regulations or by any other regulation of the War Production Board, including Priorities Regulation No. 7, the producer may use the following endorsement signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Allotment number _____
Order authorized under Preference Rating Order P–56, Serial No. _____

He shall not add the symbol "MRO" despite the certification instructions in CMP Regulation No. 5 or any other regulation. Requirements of other orders of the War Production Board as to special certifications remain applicable, but the foregoing endorsement shall be added to such certification. The use of the foregoing endorsement by a producer shall constitute a representation, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35A of the Criminal Code (18 U. S. C. 80) that the material or equipment ordered will be used for the purpose for which priorities assistance was granted to acquire it. Preference ratings assigned for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies on Forms WPB–2910 (non-serialized producers only), 2937, 2938, 2939, and 2040 may not be used to obtain items on List A or List B of Priorities Regulation No. 8. Any items which are purchased without the use of preference ratings need not be charged against authorized dollar quotas.

(h) Restrictions on receipts and inventories. Notwithstanding the provisions of any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, including CMP Regulation 2, receipts and inventories of producers shall be subject to the following restrictions only: No producer shall receive any delivery of material which will increase his inventory of such material to an amount greater than the minimum necessary to sustain his current level of operations; and the ratio of such inventory to current production shall in no event exceed the ratio of average inventory to average production for the years 1938, 1939, and 1940.

(i) Restrictions on use and resale of material. Notwithstanding § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, no producer shall use any material, whether or not obtained pursuant to this order, for any purpose other than that for which priorities assistance was granted to acquire it; nor may he sell any material (including machinery and equipment), which he has used in the conduct of any enterprise described in paragraph (b) (1), whether or not he obtained such material with priorities assistance under this or any other order, except:

(1) To a producer holding a serial number hereunder, or

(2) With the written approval of the War Production Board applied for by letter to the Mining Division, or

(3) With the written approval of a district if he is a non-serialized producer located within such district, or

(4) As permitted by Priorities Regulation No. 13.

Applicability of Other Regulations and Orders

(j) (1) CMP Regulation No. 5 and other regulations of the War Production Board. None of the restrictions contained in CMP Regulation No. 5 shall be applicable to producers, and no producer shall obtain any material under CMP Regulation No. 5. However, privileges under other orders and regulations of the War Production Board granted to persons on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation No. 5 shall be considered as applicable to producers operating under this order. For example, Order E–5–a on gauges and precision measuring hand tools classifies a person on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation No. 5 as an "approved user." Producers operating under Order P–56 are in the same position providing that certification clauses and all other provisions of such other orders are complied with.

(2) Restriction on use of priorities assistance. No producer, except as permitted by paragraph (e), shall acquire any maintenance, repair, or operating supplies through the use of any preference rating except after filing an application with the Mining Division of the War Production Board on the appropriate mine quota application form as specified in paragraphs (c) (1) and (d) (1). No producer shall acquire any machinery or equipment (other than maintenance, repair, and operating supplies) through the use of any preference rating or any specific authorization of the War Production Board except after filing Form WPB–1319 in the manner above provided, which shall be accompanied by the special application form, if any, required by any other order, or except after filing a project application.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(k) Records, audits, and reports. Each producer and each distributor shall keep and preserve for a period of not less than two years accurate and complete records of all transactions affected by this order, and shall submit from time to time to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board. Each producer and each distributor shall execute and file with the War Production Board or other designated agency such reports and questionnaires as the War Production Board may from time to time require.

(l) Federal Reports Act of 1942. The reporting requirements of this order have received the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(m) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate with the Mining Division of the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(n) Communications. All reports and applications hereunder and all other communications with respect to this order shall, except as otherwise specifically provided, be addressed to the Mining Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–56.

(o) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 3rd day of March 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

APPLICABILITY TO CUTTING AND POLISHING OPERATIONS AT THE QUARRY

The term "producer" as defined in Preference Rating Order P–56 includes persons operating a quarry and also persons conducting further cutting and polishing operations at the quarry site, such as the manufacture of building stone and tombstones. These latter operations are included in the phrase "preparation for shipment, of the products of mining activity" appearing in paragraph (b) (1) (i) (§ 3201.11) of the order.

Since paragraph (j) (1) of the order forbids "producers" from obtaining any materials under CMP Regulation 5, producers of tombstones or other stone products at the quarry site may not operate under this regulation but must get priorities assistance exclusively under Order P–56.

The manufacture of tombstones and structural stone at a separate plant away from the quarry is not covered by Order P–56, and priorities assistance for MRO supplies required in such operations may be obtained under CMP Regulation 5. Under CMP Regulation 5, a rating of AA–2 is assigned to persons engaged in the manufacture of structural stone, while persons engaged in the manufacture of tombstones and monuments may use the AA–5 rating which is assigned under that regulation to unlisted business. (Issued Nov. 13, 1943.)
